MAN UNCONSCIOUS AT ST. JOHN'S HOSPITAL

Assault at Cartridge Plant a Dangerous One—Assailant Ordered to Pay Fine of $40

Pleading guilty to a complaint charging him with assault and battery on Philip Byroski at the plant of the United States Cartridge Co. last night, Thomas Bagley was ordered to pay a fine of $40 by Judge Enright in the local police court this forenoon. He appealed and was held in $200 surety for the superior court.

The complaint was signed by Martin Conway, chief of the cartridge company's police force. The assault occurred at the South Lowell plant as Byroski was about to ring in on the time clock. Byroski said that Bagley approached him and without any provocation struck him in the eye. When the victim asked why he was struck it is alleged Bagley followed with another blow which knocked the man senseless.

The special officers were notified and Byroski was taken to St. John's hospital, where he remained unconscious for some time. At first it was believed that the blow over the temple had caused a concussion of the brain and Byroski's recovery was in doubt but early this morning he showed a great improvement and was able to leave the hospital in time to appear in court. When Bagley was asked why he assaulted the man he replied that there was no hard feeling and he hit the man only in fun. "It is fortunate for you that your feeling did not more seriously," remarked the court, "I have a good mind to send you to the house of correction." It was finally agreed to impose a $40 fine.

Larceny of Robes

For the larceny of two robes from automobiles which were lined up in front of the Casino while their occupants were viewing the industrial exposition, Samuel Sharrow was committed to the house of correction for six months. On Wednesday Sharrow visited the spot and despite the efforts of the special police in the vicinity successfully disappeared with a heavy robe stolen from the automobile of Ernest R. Byroski. Yesterday, however, the police were on the watch as a result of being notified of the theft on Wednesday and Sharrow was arrested with a robe belonging to Justin N. Dows. He was refused another chance this forenoon.

SHOT TO DEATH BY FIRING SQUAD AT SALT LAKE CITY

I. W. W. Leader Was Convicted of Murder of J. C. Morrison and Son—Died Protesting His Innocence, After Fierce Battle With Guards—Last Words "Fire, Let Her Go"

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 19.—Joseph Hillstrom, condemned murderer, whose case attracted attention throughout the country and prompted the intervention of President Wilson, the Swedish minister to the United States and the American Federation of Labor, was put to death by a firing squad in the state prison here at 7:42 a. m. today. Hillstrom and his son spent last night in his cell at the state prison under the eyes of the death watch which was placed over him yesterday when Gov. Spry declined to grant President Wilson's request for a reconsideration of the case. Hillstrom declined to see a minister. He retired about 10 o'clock and went to sleep at once.

Protested His Innocence

Although he continued to protest that he could prove his innocence if granted a new trial, Hillstrom remained silent about how he received a bullet wound, or where he was the night Morrison, of whose murder he was convicted, was shot and killed at his grocery in Salt Lake City. "It's nobody's business where I got the wound," Hillstrom said. "It is only public curiosity that wants to know that. I am not here to gratify public curiosity."

The Industrial Workers of the World of which Hillstrom was a member, held a meeting at their hall and another in the streets last night. Attendance was not larger than usual and the remarks of the speakers were mild.

A chair for Hillstrom had been placed against the inner wall of the

VENICE BOMBARDED BY AUSTRIAN AEROPLANES

Teutons Take 5000 Serbs—Kitchener Meets Gen. Sarrail—German and French Air Battle

Venice again has been subjected to bombardment by an Austrian seaplane squadron, Vienna announces. The official report states that bombs were successfully dropped on forts in the suburbs, the arsenal, the aviation station and barracks, as well as on the gas works and railway station. All the raiding units returned safely.

Teutons Capture 5000 Serbs

In pressing their pursuit of the Serbians the Teutonic allies have captured 5000 additional prisoners, Berlin announces.

50,000 Bulgars Against 50,000 Serbs

Athens despatches estimate that more than 50,000 Bulgarians are facing 50,000 Serbians in the Monastir region in south Serbia. The Serbian forces, which have evacuated Pripet following their enforced abandonment of Babuna Pass, are expected to retire to the heights between Pripet and Monastir and eventually retreat towards Albania, the despatches state.

Rumanian Declaration Expected

In the face of the concentration of both Austrian and Russian forces on the Rumanian frontier, Rumania is expected to issue a declaration regarding her future attitude towards the two groups of belligerents, according to a Bucharest despatch to Rome.

German Raid on British Camp

An attack by a German aeroplane squadron on a British camp near Poperinghe, six miles from Ypres, Belgium, is reported by the Berlin war office.

Italians Pressing Campaign

War Council in London

Paris learns that the next meeting of the allied war council will be held in London, with the probability that the Russian and Italian governments will be represented.

Report on Ancona Case

The Italian official report on the sinking of the liner Ancona, outlined in a Naples despatch asserts that the steamship was fired upon without warning and that the boats were shelled while they were being lowered.

Kitchener Meets Gen. Sarrail

A conference between Field Marshal Earl Kitchener and General Sarrail, commander of the French forces in the Orient, was held yesterday at Saloniki. Both the situation in the Balkans and at the Dardanelles may have been considered at this conference, Gen. Sarrail having been in command of the French troops on the Gallipoli peninsula before he went to Saloniki in connection with the allied operations in aid of the Serbians.

Cochin Confers With Greek King

Dennis Cochin, the French cabinet member, sent on a special mission to Greece, had an hour's audience with King Constantine yesterday, a Paris news agency despatch from Athens states.

The Greek legation in Paris denies the recent press reports from Athens that a German military commission had, with the assistance of Greek au-

CITY HALL NOTES

The John Pilling Shoe company has been granted a permit to build a storehouse at an estimated cost of $7500, in Shafter street. The building will be of brick, two stories in height and 115 feet long by 45 feet wide. The foundation will be of concrete and the many things enumerated in the permit includes pent houses for elevators, sprinkler system, etc. It was stated today that the Pilling company is contemplating the erection of another new building as large, if not larger, than the one here, in described.

Five New Dwellings

George R. Dana will build a five residence at 304 Andover street. Mr. Dana is proprietor of the auto station in East Merrimack street. The building will be 3 1/2 stories and the estimated cost is $5000. The building will be 41 by 30 feet and will contain 8 rooms, recreation hall, sewing room, bath, pantries, etc.

Would Be Chauffeurs

Examiner Lathrop of the Massachusetts highway commission examined a class of eleven applicants for chauffeurs' licenses at city hall this forenoon. About half of the applicants were from out of town.

Sample Ballots Posted

Sample preliminary ballots have been received at the city clerk's office and are being posted in the various precincts. The ballot for male voters will be white while the ballot for the women will be a sort of corn color.

WAS TAKEN HOME

Mrs. Elena Donaldson, who was taken to St. John's hospital last week from the Y.W.C.A. suffering from the effects of drinking some poisonous liquid, has been removed to her home in Dorchester.

A REMARKABLE STORM

Heavy Gales and Rain Whipped Atlantic Coast and Great Lake Region Simultaneously

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Heavy gales and rain whipped the Atlantic coast from Jacksonville to Eastport, Me., and similar conditions prevailed through the Great Lakes region, and the Ohio valley during the night in what the weather bureau officials described as "one of the most remarkable storm developments in many years." The two storms early today were heading toward each other and moving northeastward.

Early reports from along the South Atlantic coast indicated that shipping had pretty generally escaped the storm's fury. The Norwegian bark Killena was driven aground near Brunswick, Ga., and wire communication was somewhat interrupted in the south.

SEVERAL PERSONS INJURED

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—High gales accompanied by rains swept over New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and the New England states today, seriously interfering with telegraphic communication in many places and endangering shipping along the coast.

BIG SHOW OPEN SATURDAY

Opportunity Given Everybody to See Exposition—"Industrial Day" a Record Breaker

As a result of an overwhelming demand by both the general public and the exhibitors, the exposition being conducted at the Casino will be open tomorrow and President Robert F. Marden and Secretary John H. Murphy of the board of trade have planned to make it the biggest day of the week. Hundreds of Lowell people and people living in the surrounding towns have not had a chance to inspect the diversified lines of Lowell's manufactures and they are begging for the opportunity tomorrow. The show will be open at 9 o'clock in the morning and will remain open until 10 o'clock at night. None of the tickets distributed for admission to any of the previous shows will be accepted and the members of the board of trade desire to

ALLIES SEEK CHINA'S AID

Great Britain, France and Russia United in Effort to Add China to Entente Alliance

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Great Britain, France and Russia have united in an effort to add China to the entente alliance in order to prevent possible friction in the future between Japan and China and to preserve the peace of the far east. If China agrees to the plan, military participation in the present war is not expected. Negotiations thus far are in a conversational stage at Peking with no indications as to China's attitude. Although the United States is being kept informed of its diplomatic representatives at Peking and European capitals, the United States is being kept informed of its diplomatic representatives at Peking and European capitals.

VERDICT FOR PLAINTIFFS

Jury Awards Father and Daughter $1500—Cawley Case—Jury Waived Session

The jury in the case of Sullivan vs. the Boston Elevated Co., which was tried at the civil session of the superior court last week, reported this morning in the sum of $1500 for the plaintiffs, father and daughter. The father was allowed $500 and the daughter, $1000.

This was an action of tort by which the plaintiffs sought to recover for injuries received by a young woman in an elevated car accident in the subway at Cambridge. The case was given to the jury yesterday morning.

The Cawley Case
The case of Edward Cawley vs. the city of Lowell, an action of contract by which the plaintiff seeks to recover a certain sum of money for goods, which he alleges have been delivered to the city and which have never been paid for, was started this morning in the probate court room with William A. Hogan, Esq., acting as auditor.

In this case Mr. Cawley claims he has sold to the city pipes and other goods, amounting to between $6300 and $8400 and never received any pay for same. The first and only witness heard today was Miss Mary Crotty, bookkeeper for Mr. Cawley, who testified of the various items appearing on her books

BRIGGS JAILED

Father's Plea to Go to Jail in Son's Place Refused by Judge

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—The plea of a father that he might serve a prison sentence for his son; the son's appeal for mercy for the sake of his children, and the evident regret of Judge Fox in imposing sentence on the young man, furnished yesterday one of the most affecting scenes ever witnessed at the Suffolk court house.

The proceedings did not last more than 10 minutes. The case was that of Osborn P. Briggs, upon whom Judge Fox pronounced sentence to three months in the Charles street jail for contempt of court in attempting to influence a juror in a suit to which his father was a party. The sentence is not subject to appeal.

Frederick L. Briggs, the father, is secretary of the state board of registration in embalming. In the suit where the alleged tampering occurred, he was defendant, and a verdict was given in his favor. Arthur D. Bracey, a member of the judicial committee, is the man young Briggs was charged with attempting to influence. Bracey's sister, a telephone girl, is said to have been responsible for the case being brought into court, for it is said that she told some of her associates and that one of these was a friend of the plaintiff in the suit.

In pronouncing sentence upon Briggs, Judge Fox said:

"I find that so much of the complaint as charges Osborn P. Briggs did call at the residence of Arthur P. Bracey, the juror, and did wilfully and corruptly approach his brother, Herbert L. Bracey, to influence Arthur G. Bracey, is sustained by the evidence. In fixing sentence I have regard for the fact that the respondent Briggs has borne a good reputation, but, on the other hand, attempts of this kind are most dangerous to the integrity of the courts and all men should be made to see that no attempt to approach a juror, whether directly or indirectly, can be made with impunity. The respondent, Osborn P. Briggs, is adjudged to be in contempt of court, and is to be sentenced to the county jail for the term of three months."

The elder Briggs was then given permission to address the court. He told Judge Fox that Osborn is his only child, and that the young man had never given him a moment's uneasiness. Hundreds of citizens would testify to his good reputation, he said. Young Briggs has a wife and five children, and his father says that all his evenings are spent with them.

"I ask you honor," said Mr. Briggs, "to consider the life my boy has led, and, if you can conscientiously do so, not to let him go out of this court room with the stigma of a criminal. I will pledge my word that nothing ever will occur again that the courts will have cause to complain of. It is a serious situation for my five grandchildren just at the season of Thanksgiving and Christmas."

"I would like to have you take me instead of the boy. I am well along in years and have done my work in the vineyard and perhaps punishment will not bring harm to me. Punish me, if your honor can, for what he did. I pledge you my word he will do nothing again."

Young Briggs, in addressing Judge Fox, said:

"Your Honor, I realize that you must perform your duty. I shouldn't have done what I did if I had for a moment thought it was wrong. I have five little children, and to send me to jail will put a snarl upon them. I have been suffering terribly. I ask you sincerely—as sincerely as I can—to reconsider your decision. You will brighten my future. Little children already have spoken to my children about what they have seen in the papers. I hope your honor will reconsider."

Judge Fox said that if he were satisfied that this would be the last offense of this kind he would not punish the defendant. It was known to the courts that efforts were made to influence jurors, he said, but he hoped it is not as bad as had sometimes been represented. The punishment inflicted upon the defendant was solely for the purpose of deterring others in the future, he declared, and under all the circumstances he felt that the sentence must stand.

STUDENTS FIGHT FIRE

CHECK BLAZE IN DORMITORY ROOM AT PHILLIPS EXETER UNTIL APPARATUS ARRIVES

EXETER, N. H., Nov. 19.—Students at Phillips Exeter Academy turned fire-fighters last night when a blaze was discovered in a room in Route hall, a dormitory. They managed to keep the flames from spreading until the town fire department arrived and put out the fire with chemicals.

The blaze started from an unknown cause in the room occupied by Norcross Teale of West Medford, Mass., and John Bodden of Manchester, N.H. All the clothing and furnishings in the apartment were destroyed.

WAS CHAPLAIN WITH ADMIRAL DEWEY IN BATTLE OF MANILA BAY

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The Rev. Fr. William Henry Ironsides-Reaney, chaplain in the United States navy, who was with Admiral Dewey in the battle of Manila bay, died in a hospital here last night of acute stomach trouble. Fr. Reaney held the rank of captain, the highest obtainable by a naval chaplain. He was born in 1862, when his father was commander of the battleship Ironsides. At the request of the crew his father included Ironsides in his name. Fr. Reaney was appointed chaplain in 1892, and had been stationed at the Brooklyn navy yard for several years. He was chaplain of the United Spanish War Veterans.

THE FRENCH MAID SAYS:

HOW TO MAKE A PIN CUSHION

"I wish I knew how to embroider a cushion," said Margery. "I don't know how to start or what stitch to use and think of the many other pretty things I could make too. If I knew how to embroider."

"You could do it all right I am sure," embroidered Marie. "And I think I can suggest and tell you how to make some cushions that would be easy and extremely attractive. Oblong cushions, like with a dresser. The cushion embroidered with a spray of forget-me-nots with trailing stems, is well adapted to a boudoir or bedroom of blue. It is made from two oblong pieces, the back piece being larger in length, width, and scallops than the top piece.

The scallops, which are buttonholed, look well embroidered in blue, as do also the solid dots in the corners and the scallops through which the leading ribbon runs. The flowers are worked in blue with yellow centers and the vines and leaves are worked in quite a pale green. Mercerized thread or silk may be used.

"Another attractive cushion is that with the more formal design of knotting with trailing stems, is well virtually the same as the other but the color changes the whole appearance.

Each of the five petals is composed of a single French knot of pale pink silk. The centers are single yellow French knots and the foliage is a deep green made in the lazy-daisy stitch. Outline stitch is used for the stems.

"The design is very quickly worked. Pale pink ribbon laces the two oblongs of the pillow together, running through white embroidered crests. The ribbon used is wider than baby ribbon and is twisted before it is run through the eyelets. Many looped bows of the ribbon ornament each of the four corners. The ribbon should be pink but not so vivid as to overpower the shade of pink in the embroidery."

DENIS LINDSEY NEW TRIAL

Denver Juvenile Court Judge Granted 30 Days to Perfect Appeal in Contempt Case

DENVER, Nov. 19.—Ben H. Lindsey, judge of Denver's juvenile court, yesterday was denied a new trial by Judge John Perry in district court here.

Lindsey recently was fined $500 and costs for contempt of court as a result of his refusal to divulge as a witness information imparted in a conversation with Neal Wright, aged 12, whose mother was being tried for the murder of her husband.

Judge Perry allowed the defendant 30 days in which to perfect an application to the supreme court for a writ of supercedas.

Young Woman Charges Husband With Bigamy—Married Here—No Record Found

LYNN, Nov. 19.—A young woman who says she is Mae Pearl of Newburyport went to Lynn yesterday and set up the claim that she is the lawful wife of William E. Ray, who in August went through a marriage ceremony with Miss Madeline Cowan of Lynn. Miss Pearl asserts that she married the recent bridegroom at Lowell two years ago, and that he was known to her as Walter E. Pitchforth.

She showed several papers to prove that she is suing for divorce on the grounds of cruel and abusive treatment and desertion. She admits that he is not the type of man she first considered him, and that his chief fault is marrying in haste.

She says she lived with him as his wife for nine months before he told her that he was not divorced. He remarried her after obtaining a decree, she declares. Lived with her for several months and then left.

The recent reports of his adventures led her to believe that he was her missing spouse, and she went to Lynn yesterday, hunted him up with the assistance of friends and identified him.

The last wedding ceremony was performed under what was virtually a command from Miss Cowan's father, James Cowan, a special policeman. He met them after their return from a moonlight sail and marched them up before J. Joseph Doherty, who as clerk of the Lynn district court has the power of a marrying justice. Later Mr. Cowan learned of Ray's previous marriage, and now is seeking to have the ceremony performed by Clerk Doherty annulled. At present the young woman is living with her parents.

No Record in Lowell

SHOE MAKING IN PRISON

RE-ESTABLISHMENT OF WORK IN MASSACHUSETTS REFORMATORY

RECOMMENDED TO COUNCIL

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—Re-establishment of shoe making at the Massachusetts reformatory, which was discontinued a year ago as a prison industry was recommended by the state commission on economy and efficiency in a special report submitted to Gov. Walsh and the executive council today. The commission gave two reasons for its recommendation, the first being that the industry earned a substantial profit. The commission declared that this profit would have been increased materially had there not been a contract stipulating that 40 per cent and later 50 per cent of the net profit be paid to the purchasing and selling agent for his services.

The fact that shoe making is a Massachusetts industry in which discharged prisoners find employment at good wages, was given as another reason.

FITCHBURG, Nov. 19.—A fire that started in the cellar of the house occupied by Dr. John H. Kearney and Mrs.

Charles A. Cross, corner of Prichard st. and Wallace av., drove the occupants out today and before the flames were extinguished did damage estimated at $2000.

The fire was discovered by Mrs.

Murnano found that the fire had broken through the partitions of the basement and swept through Dr. Kearney's apartment. Some furniture belonging to both families was removed, but much was damaged by the smoke and water. Three rooms in the Kearney home were gutted. It is believed the fire started in some waste paper in the basement.

RAID ON VENICE

Again Bombarded by Austrian Aeroplanes—Military Works Hit

VIENNA, Nov. 19, via London, 11.11 a. m.—Venice has again been bombarded by Austrian aeroplanes. Official announcement was made here today that an aerial squadron attacked military establishments of that city yesterday afternoon.

The announcement follows:

Navy headquarters announce that on the afternoon of Nov. 15 one of our aeroplanes successfully dropped bombs on the forts at San Nicola and Alberoni and the arsenal, aviation station, railway station and several barracks at Venice.

Notwithstanding the heavy fire of anti aircraft guns and the attacks of three hostile aeroplanes, our squadron returned with complete safety.

USE OF NEUTRAL FLAGS

BERLIN, Nov. 15.—What purports to be the frequently mentioned but never published British admiralty instructions to the masters of merchant ships regarding the use of neutral flags, to escape the submarine menace, are printed by Capt. Kuchewer in the Lokal Anzeiger today. The German admiralty referred to these instructions at the outset of the submarine campaign and in the diplomatic correspondence regarding the sinking of the Lusitania.

The first of the regulations as printed by the Lokal Anzeiger is updated, but apparently was issued at the beginning of the submarine campaign. It takes the form of a telegram from the British admiralty to the German admiralty, and is given as follows:

"British shipping is instructed to maintain a sharp watch for submarines and show either the flag of a neutral country or none at all as long as the ship is in the vicinity of the British Isles. The British flag must be shown on meeting British or allied warships. House flags must not be hoisted and marks, such as name and home port, must be concealed.

"Flags which should be used according to the above are the following: American, Italian, Scandinavian and Holland.

"The second document is a decree of 'Commander-in-Chief at Devonport,' British naval station, dated March 15, which reads:

"Confidential.

"Carrying neutral flag, use of false names.

"Neutral flag: Ships upon long voyages and upon regular voyages about the United Kingdom shall be equipped with neutral flags if they carry a valuable cargo. The neutral flags shall be carried, according to route, as follows:

"Route British channel and south of the Irish channel, Norwegian, Greek or Italian flag.

"Route Liverpool, Glasgow and northern part of Irish channel, Spanish or Norwegian flag.

"Route eastern coasts of the kingdom, some Scandinavian flag or south of Liverpool the flag of Holland or Spain.

"Crossing the channel no flag shall be shown."

Other documents explaining the international propriety of using neutral flags or otherwise disguising ships and using the shelter of the neutral flag to bear less directly upon the subject.

BIG RUSH FOR TICKETS

TICKETS FOR THE INDUSTRIAL SHOW HAVE BEEN USED TWICE OVER

The rush at the industrial show of Lowell-made goods which is being conducted at the Casino in Thordike street under the auspices of the Lowell board of trade, has been so great that the officials of the show have had tickets printed twice, but this did not suffice, and finally a new scheme was adopted, and that was to send the tickets that were taken up at the show, to the board of trade, and after the signature of Secretary John H. Murphy had been placed on them they were again given out.

Tonight will be the last opportunity offered the public of Lowell to visit Lowell's greatest exhibition of Lowell-made goods free of charge, and those who intend to take in the show may call at the board of trade office for tickets before 6 o'clock.

KILLED FINE BECK

Berry Simpson, Centralville's greatest fish and hunter, killed a fine buck near the old nickel mine on the Lawrence road, near Yarnum's landing, yesterday. The deer weighed over 200 pounds and had a fine head. It was the first deer to be killed in the immediate vicinity this season and Berry feels pretty good about it. Mr. Simpson is a crack shot and he never yet has failed to get his share of game, big or small, in the proper seasons. He is one of Lowell's best known sportsmen.

PROBE POSTOFFICE STRIKE

FAIRMONT, W. Va., Nov. 19.—Post-office inspectors from Washington arrived here yesterday to investigate the strike of 45 clerks and carriers in the local postoffice, who quit work following the dismissal of Assistant Postmaster W. H. Brand.

City deliveries were made this afternoon for the first time since the strike was called, and by tomorrow all routes will be served. Outgoing mail is being dispatched regularly.

SEEK CHINA'S AID

tais are refraining from participation. This sensational turn in the eastern affairs on the eve of the proposed change of China from a republic to a monarchy has been the confidential exchanges between the allied powers during the last week, but only became known here today.

Japan, so far as is known, has not yet been consulted, and if that government knows of the plans unofficially, there is nothing here to indicate what its attitude will be.

This latest step by Great Britain, France and Russia is understood here to have been considered essential to permanently safeguard the interests of the allies. The impending change in China's form of government has rendered the situation somewhat acute. Fear of revolution in China and the possibility of Japanese interference to preserve peace has attracted wide attention among the European diplomats.

By joining the entente-alliance none of China's operations could affect the course of the war in Europe, but the move would effectively guarantee Japanese abstention from interference in China. Japan's attitude is not clear as yet, but two possibilities are considered here as plausible: First, that Japan will join in the movement on the theory that her paramount interests in China will not suffer any harm through the future actions of the allies; or second, that Japan will remain aloof from any agreement viewing even the future entrance of China as an ally as not altering Japan's right to independent action in the far east wherever her interests are affected.

Some Chinese diplomats are believed here to be inclined very favorably toward the move as insuring the integrity of China beyond question and stabilizing the national government.

None of the communications that have passed on the situation indicate that the allies have any hope that president Yuan Shi Kai will abandon his plan to establish a monarchy. In fact, the indications are that efforts to add China to the allies resulted largely from the supposition that the change in government was inevitable and that it was the duty of the allied powers, in order to prevent possible complications between Japan and China to act definitely at this time. The assurance from Peking that the monarchy will not be established immediately is being interpreted, therefore, by various observers as a development growing out of a knowledge of the plans of the European allies to bring about a new understanding on far eastern questions.

The inner detail of the situation has not been revealed but the attention of the British, French and Russian colonies in the far east has been attracted by reports of the excellent treatment afforded to German prisoners at Kienchow and the world of admiration for the German armies frequently spoken in Japanese newspapers of high standing, as well as occasional adverse references to the Anglo-Japanese alliance.

It is known that the German minister at Peking recently pointed out to the Chinese foreign office that in the event that China changed her form of government she might not obtain the recognition of the powers, and without this recognition she could not very well be taken care of diplomatically in the peace conference that will end the European war.

It is thought in some quarters here that the idea of joining China to the entente alliance may have appealed to Great Britain and Russia particularly because of the presence of German propaganda being carried on from China to disturb India and Persia.

Comment was withheld by American officials here today. It was declared that confidential affairs relating to the activities of the belligerents would not be a proper subject for discussion. At the various legations and embassies where the general outlines of the plan of the allies are known, there was a similar reticence because of the incomplete character of the negotiations.

THE HARVARD SQUAD

ATHLETES WITH COACHES, TRAINERS, AND STUDENT SUPPORTERS ARE RESTING AT TYNG'S ISLAND

About 35 members of the Harvard football squad attended by student admirers, coaches and trainers, arrived at Tyng's Island early last evening and made preparations for a homelike stay until tomorrow morning when they will journey to Cambridge to get ready for their annual struggle with the Yale bulldog. For the past few years the Harvard team has brought prominence to the pretty little island in the Merrimack, and many of Harvard's former stars attribute their success to the short stay at the island prior to the annual big game.

The entire football contingent left Boston yesterday afternoon on the 5 o'clock express with a special car attached. When they arrived at the island they found many former football students from the Harvard Institution awaiting them, and the Harvard Glee club and Harvard orchestra were also in attendance.

After a trip of inspection around the picturesque little resting place the "regulars" were coaxed from the "ordinary" fellows and were forced to sit down to a meal served according to the orders of the Yale and Harvard officers were barred from the training table and the Crimson lads were obliged to drink milk.

After supper the regulars did not mingle with any of their supporters and they wandered around the island in little groups talking over the game to be played with their big rival, Yale, at 5 o'clock this evening. The Yale and Harvard coaches were in the middle of the football field, and were discussing the game. The Harvard team was in the middle of the football field, and were discussing the game.

Meanwhile the Glee club and orchestra were dispensing delightful music in one of the lower halls, and the evening wound up about 10 o'clock in a general jollification. There were several Lowell people in attendance and they joined in the cheers and songs characteristic of college life with much "pep" as any of the college students.

The Harvard players were up at an early hour this morning. Breakfast, consisting of cereal foods and lamb chops was first served and then they set out for the golf links.

At noon a chicken dinner was served after which the men lounged about the clubhouse, some reading and others talking over college life and the game. They will leave the island about 5 o'clock tomorrow morning for Cambridge.

This morning Capt. Mahan said he felt very confident of victory over the Yale team. Other players were not in the least disturbed over the result, and the majority of them were discussing the margin of victory.

TALKS ON PARKS

Prominent Park Officials Heard at City Hall Yesterday

At the meeting of park superintendents, commissioners and engineers, members of the Park Institute of New England, held at city hall yesterday afternoon, Joseph J. McCaffery, supervisor of playgrounds of Providence, R. I., gave an interesting short talk on playgrounds. He said in part:

"There must be suitable apparatus in playgrounds if the children are induced to go to them," he said. "And there should be fencing about all playgrounds. The only punishment which can be meted out to a playground patron who transgresses the rules is the expulsion from the grounds. Fences also serve to protect the girls and the smaller children from molestation. And the shrubbery is better protected in this way. I believe in the sand-bins as a means of engaging the attention of the smaller children. The sand sterilizes itself. I believe in swings, but am against regular gymnasium equipment because too many accidents occur when it is used. And if swings are used, they should not be the high ones. All equipment should be placed at the rim of the grounds, for the centre is needed for the playing of games. The 'giant's stride' is another good piece for the older children. The smaller ones should not be allowed to use it. A slide gives a great deal of satisfaction, but it should be of wood. Steel slides are all very well until the warm weather comes, and then they get very warm, and, if scratched at all, rust. The ideal arrangement for a playground is to have it divided into four parts, one for the boys, one for the girls, one for the smaller children, and one for the smaller children. Garfield park, in the Italian section of Providence, is on three distinct levels, and it is considered an ideal arrangement by many. Of course this could not be done everywhere. There should be bunnies and sanitaries placed on all playgrounds and it would be a good thing to have water taps on them, also, for in very hot weather it is very desirable to wet down the grounds."

Mr. Dillon of Boston

John H. Dillon, chairman of the park commission of Boston, is a great believer in parks and progressive park systems. He says that every dollar expended is returned three fold. When environment is such that tired women and sickly children of the tenement houses, during the sultry blasts of mid-summer, can go to an open space where there is green grass and pure air, and can rest there, then the original expenditure is worth a hundred times its first value, for park space and green grass and fresh air bring back to life and health many a tired mother and sickly child.

"Parks," he continued, "are not of recent origin. They date back to the times of the early Greeks and Romans and we are simply following in the footsteps of the first great civilizations. Where cities have created park systems they are not only attractive but they save many dollars to the people in the summer months. Parks should be for the people, there should be no 'Keep off the grass' signs on them. They should be thrown wide open. Playgrounds should be open at all times. They are the greatest possible inducement to keep the boys off the streets. And I will go a step farther. More public buildings should be opened evenings, for the very same reason. "It would be hard to realize what the people of the west end of Boston would do if it were not for the common. At night, in summer, the people of that district sleep there. And I cannot imagine what thousands would do if they were forced to give up the use of Franklin park. On pleasant Sundays in summer, from 75,000 to 150,000 go there, and many who go, take their meals there with them."

The work the park superintendents of various cities are doing is very closely allied with character building. The strength of the youth is increased, stamina is built and the morals are kept right. These are the points the youth of today must have, for in a very few years they will be expected to build better than we have done. And there is no better way to increase strength and health than to provide adequate parks and playgrounds."

Cosmos club, Associate hall tonight.

Special Offering

Let me show You Worsted Fabrics and Beautiful Scotch, Melton and Novelty Overcoatings that are sold by ready-made dealers and clothiers at twice the price I ask.

It would be useless for me to spend all this money in newspaper advertising unless I could back up exactly what statements I make. I am positively exact and well informed in regard to the quality of the goods that clothing dealers are selling to the public, and it astonishes me how they do business at all alongside of the values I offer.

I have been in your city for seven years and have built up a tremendous tailoring business; my customers come back to me season after season. I want to get you on my books and I positively assure you that I'll leave nothing undone in the way of value, style, workmanship, trimmings, etc., to bring you back and make a regular customer of you.

GRANDFATHER AND THE BEAR

"Once upon a time," began grandmother, and Beth immediately cried with delight: "Oh, going to finish the bear story," and grandmother smiled and went on: "My grandfather took the baby bear into the kitchen and gave it a big dish of honey so it would keep quiet while he examined its sore foot. So the little cub licked the honey and was very quiet and good when grandfather washed and dressed his injured foot."

"For a while the big bear outside was quiet and patient, but at last it seemed to think it was time his child came out and it began to growl in a very ferocious manner and then began to scratch on the door with its powerful paws."

"Grandfather didn't like to open the door the big bear was so frantic and yet he didn't want to keep the little one any longer, so he opened a window very quietly and dropped the cub down on to the ground. The baby ran to its mother with whining and sobs, and the two trotted off to the woods together."

"Not long after this grandfather was out hunting again and saw his little friend with his mother and the bandage was still tied around his paw."

"Didn't your grandfather ever see the bear again?" asked Beth. "No, I think not," answered grandmother. "I like bear stories," said Ned, "will you tell us another sometime?" "Perhaps," said grandmother smiling.

CHAMP CLARK IN HUB

GET READY WITHOUT BANKRUPTING THE COUNTRY, SPEAKER'S ADVICE ON PREPAREDNESS

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—"We must get our country prepared, but the preparedness must be done without bankrupting the country," declared Champ Clark, speaker of the national house of representatives, in an address before nearly 1,500 members of the Boston City club and their guests last night. It was the regular weekly dinner of the club, and Mr. Clark had for his topic, "The United States in the 20th century."

He advanced his ideas as to how the country can be prepared for war without any great additional expense. He advocated the doubling of the number of students at Annapolis at cost, that a drill officer be supplied to schools and colleges in the country, and that the surplus of cadets from Annapolis be put into the service of an American merchant marine.

The speaker took a little fling at ex-President Roosevelt, criticising him in a semi-humorous way, and he attacked with much gusto a Boston newspaper for an editorial about him. During his address he swung from ridicule to sarcasm, from praise to condemnation, with varying rapidity. Taken altogether, his audience had a most entertaining hour and a half, and they applauded him frequently.

At the dinner preceding Clark's address, republicans and democrats indulged in a friendly political bout. W. T. A. Fitzgerald presided, and the speakers included Congressman Gallivan, the Hon. Richard Olney, Congressman Carter, Congressman Dallinger, Congressman Teague and Edmund Billings.

In the auditorium of the club, Postmaster Murray of Boston presented Mr. Clark, who started a long review of the conditions which existed in the country a century ago, as compared with today's conditions and outlook.

"The muck-rakers and the pessimists," he said, "tell us that the country is going to the dogs, that all the politicians are a bunch of crooks. It is not so. We are progressing all the time."

After reviewing the facts and figures of population and official acts of presidents and other national officers in the past century, Mr. Clark mentioned Roosevelt and said that he "liked him for two reasons."

"First," he said, "I like him because he knows a little about more things than any other human being I ever laid eyes on. Secondly, because in spite of the fantastic capers which he cuts before heaven, he's an American to the core." The audience rose to its feet and cheered.

Clark then conducted a general review of the progress of the nation during the past 100 years.

"I think," he continued, "that the greatest thing that we have accomplished is this, the political influence we have in the world outside the United States. We see too much of the feeling that because liberty is a good thing it is the easiest thing in the world to get. We gave South America their chance to live with the Monroe doctrine. Col. Roosevelt says in one of his multitudinous utterances that the president who issued that doctrine was a 'mediocre president.' Colonel Roosevelt will be lucky if he gets as important a place in American history, and earns it, as that same 'mediocre president.'"

$1200 ROBBERY

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—Jewelry and furs to the value of more than $1200 were stolen yesterday afternoon from the home of Kenneth W. Faunce of 20 Kirk street, West Roxbury, during the absence of the family. The house was ransacked, and when Mrs. Faunce arrived home she found the contents of drawers and closets strewn around the house in great disarray.

The theft was reported to the police and the surroundings were inspected. No clue was secured, however, as to the identity of the thief.

THE ANCONA CASE

Italian Official Report Says Liner Fired Up-
on Without Warning

NAPLES, Nov. 18, 10:10 p. m. (Delayed in transmission)—The official report of the investigation into the sinking of the Italian steamship Ancona by a submarine off the Tunisian coast on Nov. 7, was sent to Thomas Nelson Page, the American ambassador at Rome, tonight. The investigation reached the conclusion that the submarine fired a shell against the wireless apparatus aboard the Ancona without any warning. The captain brought the vessel immediately to a halt.

The submarine having hoisted the Austrian flag, the investigators found the Ancona was about to hoist the Italian ensign but the flag reached only half way up the mast when the submarine launched a torpedo which struck the steamer amidships.

The captain of the Ancona, the official account says, ordered the lifeboats lowered, but while this was being done the submarine continued firing against the steamer's boats. Some of the boats were pierced by shots, obliging the survivors to use their clothes to stop up the holes. In the meanwhile, it is alleged, those on board the submarine jeered at their victims.

After the meeting an informal entertainment was held, members of the council participating. Progressive whist was enjoyed by 10 tables. Following were the winners: First, William E. Thornton; second, Thomas A. D. Sullivan; third, Christopher McSorley; fourth, David Gherow; consolation prize, William F. Wholey.

The committee in charge consisted of Dr. Hugh Walker, F. N. Frank Mealey and John Coyne.

AWARDED GOLD MEDAL

WILLIAM D. HOWELLS GETS PRIZE
FOR WRITING OF FICTION BY
ARTS AND LETTERS INSTITUTE

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—William Dean Howells, of New York today was awarded the gold medal offered by the National Institute of Arts and Letters for distinguished work in the writing of fiction. Mr. Howells was not present, but a letter from him was read by Ripley Hitchcock, secretary of the institute, expressing his appreciation.

A medal is annually awarded for distinguished service to arts or letters, although it is stipulated that the recipient need not necessarily be a member of the organization.

New members elected by the Institute were announced as follows: Chas. E. Miller, United States Senator Elihu Root, Henry Osborn Taylor, Robert L. Atkin, James Earl Fraser, Bertram G. Goodhue, Breckinridge Long, all of New York; Ernest R. Kroeber, St. Louis; Arne Oldberg, Evanston, Ill.; Gamaliel Bradford, Ellery Sedgwick and Ralph Adams Cram, of Boston.

MISS ELIZABETH CANNON HELD
WITHOUT BAIL FOR THE GRAND JURY

WESTFIELD, Nov. 18.—Miss Elizabeth Cannon, charged with the murder of her ward, Lucille Thomas, at Russell, on Nov. 8, was held without bail for the Hampden county grand jury in the district court today. At a hearing on Nov. 8, she pleaded not guilty. Miss Cannon will remain in the county jail at Springfield until the grand jury acts.

BOXED 12 ROUND DRAW

DICK STOSH OF CLEVELAND SHOULD
OVER STEVE KENNEDY

At the Unity club of Lawrence last evening Dick Stosh, lightweight of Cleveland, gave Steve Kennedy quite a beating, but the bout was called a draw. All impartial fans failed to see how Kennedy was entitled to a draw, for he was outpointed in nearly every round and Steve was not in the lead at any time. Four frames were pretty even and the rest went to the ex-amateur champ by a wide margin.

Stosh showed that he was a good two-handed brawler, with a good sense of science. He would make Kennedy miss, and then rip rights and lefts to the Lawrence boy's midsection. Stosh also used his left jab with telling effect and the fans were loud in their praise over the Clevelander's work.

Kennedy did not lose any friends by last night's exhibition, but gained many adherents by his plucky stand against Stosh. Steve did not fight as well as he did against Grover Hayes a few weeks ago. Kennedy showed that he has more sand than most boys, for he took everything Stosh handed out and kept plugging along throughout, although out-classed by a better man.

Joe Carroll and Harry Ah Chung boxed eight rounds to a draw in an uninteresting semi-final. This bout was slow as Ah Chung did not open up until the last two rounds and when he did it looked bad for Carroll.

GRAND EXHIBITION

emphasize the fact that no tickets of any kind will be sold. In place of a ticket visitors at the exhibit will be asked to contribute 25 cents before gaining admission. This small fee will finance the extra day, and also pay a few outstanding bills incurred in promoting the large enterprise. After the show closes tomorrow night a general get-together of members of the board of trade will be held and the exposition will be brought to a close by a general jollification. Speeches will be made by prominent citizens and a general discussion will take place on the subject, "How has the exposition helped the city of Lowell?" A sumptuous repast will be served and a musical program to which the best talent obtainable will contribute will be carried out.

"Industrial Day" Attendance

Yesterday, which was "Industrial day" at the exposition, was given over almost entirely to employees of Lowell's great industries, and the attendance for the day was 26,013 persons, breaking all previous records. The total for the week up to last night was 135,521 and before the exhibit closes tomorrow night it is expected that this figure will come close to the 125,000 mark. In the morning and afternoon students of the local parochial schools were the guests of the management and they were much impressed with the various subjects pointed out to them. The boys from the Middlesex Training school were also in attendance during the day and they displayed great interest in the wonderful enterprise. Shortly after 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon the employees of Lowell's mills and factories started to inspect the exhibit and in less than an hour over 1500 persons passed through the main entrance. From then on there was a continual rush but the police did good work relieving the congestion and everyone was given plenty of time to make the rounds of the various aisles. During the evening one woman fainted and was sent home in a carriage. Shortly before 10 o'clock President Robert Marden, megaphone in hand, made a trip around the one way streets announcing that the exhibit would close promptly at 10 o'clock, but the crowd was so interested that the closing time did not come until much later.

Last Night's Officials

The floor marshals last night was J. Joseph Connor and he was assisted by a large force of aides to keep the crowd moving. They included Charles J. Landers, John J. O'Rourke, Joseph J. Higgins, Charles D. Devno, George A. King, Peter E. Crake, William F. Cawley, John J. Maloney, William F. Higgins, James C. Warner, Frank Goldman, Jeremiah J. O'Sullivan, William C. Hayes, Edmund Kearney, Charles T. Donohoe and Albert J. Blazon.

The afternoon floor marshal was John H. Beaulieu, assisted by George E. Monahan, John J. O'Rourke, Russell Joseph Allard, E. Christman, W. A. Parthenale, J. A. Foley, N. Champagne, A. Gaudette and E. Dube. During the morning and afternoon the Board of Trade orchestra gave the usual enjoyable and lively concert.

To handle the floor work yesterday morning the chief marshal was Thos. J. O'Sullivan. Assisting him were the officers of the O.M.L. Cadets headed by Maj. William P. Conroy. The other officers were Captains Joseph Boyd, Edward LeCann and Walter L'Espanance. First Lieut. Paul Anst, Sergeants Lester Robertson, Serat, Arthur Lamotte, Corp. Robert Leith and Privates J. Tierney, B. Davenport and William Boyten.

"Green Ticket" Day

Today at the exposition is "Green Ticket" day and the guests during the morning are pupils and teachers of the Vocational High School. The school opened at 9 o'clock and during the day thousands of visitors were received by President Marden and his assistants.

NO SCHOOL SIGNAL

The afternoon session in the public schools was suspended today on account of the heavy downpour of rain which started shortly before noon. The "no school" signal, box 222, sounded on the fire alarm system at 12:15 o'clock.

BILLERICA'S PROGRESS

Three important questions relative to Billerica's progress will be discussed at an open meeting to be held in the town hall tonight under the auspices of the Billerica board of trade. The matter of having gas mains extended to the town will come up, a protest will be made against the proposed increase in rates by the Bay State St. Ry. and an attempt will be made to devise some scheme to reduce the town's tax rate. Women as well as men are invited to attend.

HILLSTROM EXECUTED

When he reported to Hillstrom that he had found a name on the suit, Hillstrom inquired whether the name was "Morrison" and said he believed it had been placed there by "some detective at the county jail."

Murdered Man and Son

The suit, however, officials at the prison said, was much too large for Hillstrom. Mrs. J. C. Morrison, widow of the murdered man, said her husband had a suit similar to the one under investigation and that the writing resembled that of her husband but she was unable to identify the suit positively as his. Another suit was obtained for Hillstrom to wear at his execution.

Hillstrom Was Convicted of the Murder of John G. Morrison, a Grocer and his son Arlin. Under Utah law he was allowed to choose between shooting and hanging.

Pres. Wilson's Appeal Denied

President Wilson twice appealed for further respite for Hillstrom. The president's second request, made yesterday, was denied by Gov. Spry as not based on any new facts. At 6 o'clock this morning, Governor Spry and the members of the board of pardons received a telegram from Seattle, Wash., saying that William Busky of that city had sworn to affidavits saying that he was with Hillstrom all of the night on which the Morrison murder was committed and that Hillstrom was innocent. A similar message, it was stated, had been sent to President Wilson.

Attorneys for Hillstrom Immediately asked the governor to grant a ten day respite. Members of a pardon board held a hurried conference and decided

MERRIMACK CLOTHING COMPANY

STORE OPEN TONIGHT

When he reported to Hillstrom that he had found a name on the suit, Hillstrom inquired whether the name was "Morrison" and said he believed it had been placed there by "some detective at the county jail."

White Target Over Heart

The number of spectators at the execution was small, being limited by law and including certain officers and press representatives. The prison physician placed a paper target directly over Hillstrom's heart to guide the members of the firing squad who had selected their rifles by lot. The execution was under the direction of Sheriff J. S. Corlies of Salt Lake county.

Hillstrom Broke Down

When the officers went to get Hillstrom he broke down and started to struggle with them but when he saw the sheriff he became calmer and threw up his hands. Accompanied by the officers he walked to the death chair. After he was seated they asked him if he had anything to say. He said:

Hillstrom Yelled "Fire!"

"Gentlemen, I die with a clear conscience. I never did anything wrong in my life. I die fighting, not like a coward. Well, I'm going, good bye." When the order started to give the command to fire, Hillstrom yelled "Fire!"

Fought Guards Fiercely

Although self-possessed when he faced his executioners, Hillstrom had a sensational nervous collapse just previously. He tied the door of his cell with strips torn from his blankets and fought the guards fiercely with the handle of a broom he had snatched ## from an attendant in the corridor.

Shook Cell Doors

This outburst was unexpected. Hillstrom retired calmly last night. He remained asleep until early this morning. About 4 o'clock he arose and began to shake the cell door, shrieking as if in a nightmare. The noise reached the outside guards who turned in a general alarm. The prison physician tried with slight success to quiet the man. It was decided not to interfere with him until necessary and he was not disturbed until the time arrived to take him to the scene of execution.

Savage Attack

When the guards arrived for this purpose Hillstrom attacked them savagely with the broom handle, which he had broken in two, leaving a sharp point on one piece. Deputy Warden Eric received a slight wound in the arm. Hillstrom fought violently until Sheriff Corlies, for whom he had previously manifested high regard, arrived and appealed to him.

Fought For His Life

Hillstrom hesitated a moment and then yielded. "Well, I'm through," he said. "But you can't blame a man for fighting for his life."

The blanket strips he had tied to the door were then cut, he was blindfolded and led to the place of execution, supported by two guards.

Final Words: "Fire! Let Her Go!"

Hillstrom's final words were: "Fire! Let her go!" uttered a moment before the rifles cracked.

E. J. Rowan, secretary of the local Industrial Workers of the World or## ganization, claimed Hillstrom's body.

He intimated it would be sent to Wyoming for burial as requested by Hillstrom.

Says Hillstrom Innocent

The telegram received this morning asserting that William Busky of Seattle had made an affidavit that he was with Hillstrom the night Morrison was murdered and that Hillstrom was innocent, were from O. H. Hilton of Denver, one of Hillstrom's attorneys. The sheriff was requested to postpone the execution until this statement had been investigated. Hillstrom told Warden Pratt of the prison that he did not know Busky. The sheriff was then directed to proceed with the execution.

None of Hillstrom's I.W.W. friends were present. The law provides that not more than five friends of a condemned man may be present if their presence be requested by him. Hillstrom declared last night that he did not wish any of his friends to see the execution.

Thanksgiving Offering

THANKSGIVING, 1915, WILL BE THE GREATEST THIS COUNTRY HAS EVER CELEBRATED.

There is no more beautiful and inspiring custom on earth than the ancient American institution of Thanksgiving Day. And never had the American people better cause for Thanksgiving than this year. While "grim visaged war" staggers over the world, and has transferred Europe into a veritable inferno, this country is enjoying peace and plenty. This proves conclusively the correctness of the arrangement and equipment of our structure, and speaks volumes for the judgment and foresight of the projectors, architects and builders who created it. Today starts a series of unusual opportunities for Thanksgiving shoppers.

ELECTION FRAUDS MURDER TRIAL PASSPORT FRAUD

45 Election Officers Arrested at Pittsburgh on Charge

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 19.—Twenty more election officers, concerned in the charges brought by the grand jury after its investigation of last September's general primary election, were arrested this morning and, like the 25 taken to the office of District Attorney Jackson last night, gave bail for a hearing before an alderman. It was said that no less than nine election boards were directly involved in the city, while a number in boroughs and townships of Allegheny county were to be proceeded against later.

SERBS EVACUATE PRILEP

REPORT OF CAPTURE OF BABUNA PASS BY BULGARS NOT CONFIRMED

PARIS, Nov. 19.—The Saloniki despatch announcing the general retreat of the Serbs on the southwest front after the capture of Babuna Pass by the Bulgars is without official confirmation. A Havas despatch from Athens filed yesterday. The only fact established is the evacuation of Prilep by the Serbs. The abandonment of Babuna Pass has been expected in Athens military circles for several days, as it was not considered possible for the Serbs, notwithstanding their heroic defense, to resist longer repeated Bulgarian attacks, especially as they threatened envelopment by a movement from Tetovo and Kitevo.

The Serbians probably will retire to the heights between Prilep and Monastir, the inhabitants of which are taking refuge in Albania and Greek territory. Large numbers have arrived at Florina, Greece, but the more well to do are going to Saloniki.

The military governor of Monastir is reported to have appointed a committee of notables to preserve order but it is feared it will not be possible to restrain the bands of Komitadjis, (irregulars) in the environs of the city. The Serbian army is expected to retreat towards Albania. It is estimated there are 50,000 Serbs in the Monastir region opposed to more than 60,000 Bulgars.

CUSTOMERS BLACKLISTED

AMERICANS OF GERMAN ORIGIN, ONE AFTER GOWNS FOR MRS. GALT, TURNED DOWN IN PARIS

PARIS, Nov. 19.—The Paris dress-makers' syndicate has blacklisted two American customers of German origin, one of them a man named Kurzmahn, reported to have been commissioned to buy gowns for Mrs. Norman Galt, who is to be the bride of President Wilson, according to Gustave Tery's newspaper L'Oeuvre.

The newspaper avers that Kurzmahn has threatened to raise a diplomatic question because of the modiste's refusal to accept orders from him. L'Oeuvre declares, however, that each house from which he ordered gowns has offered to supply them, with its compliments to Mrs. Galt without having them pass through the hands of an intermediary.

Main Contention in Case of Mrs. Burnes Will be That She Was Insane

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Nov. 19.—The introduction of evidence by the defense in the trial of Mrs. Mary A. Burnes, charged with the murder, by poison, of her husband, Frank A. Burnes, was begun shortly after the opening of the trial today.

Col. John H. Bartlett, counsel for Mrs. Burnes, closed his summary of what the defense expects to prove, repeating his statement of yesterday that the main contention would be that the woman was insane. He said Mrs. Burnes did not discover that the poison was missing from the bag in which she had placed it until after Dr. Fernald, the physician who had been called to attend her husband had left for the second time. "She was so horrified," he said, "to find that it had disappeared that she did not mention it to anyone. She realized now, she added that she made a mistake in doing so."

Col. Bartlett said that it would be shown that Mrs. Burnes was in the habit of buying liquor for her husband and that she bought some the day before he died.

Fred L. Gove of Nottingham, brother-in-law of Mrs. Burnes, was the first witness for the defense.

While the first witness for the defense was testifying Mrs. Burnes collapsed and the trial was suspended until the afternoon session.

Col. John H. Bartlett, counsel for Mrs. Burnes had completed his opening and Fred L. Gove was testifying regarding what he thought to be irrational acts on the part of the defendant, when Mrs. Burnes fell over in her chair. She was carried to a side room and recovered after being attended by her physician, but appeared to be very weak.

Mr. Gove testified that Burnes and his wife lived at his home for two months in the summer of 1914, and that he and wife continued the acquaintance after they had left. Mr. and Mrs. Burnes, he said, seemed unusually affectionate. There were days on which Mrs. Burnes, the witness said, acted as he thought, irrationally, while at other times she seemed melancholy.

Gove denied the testimony of witnesses for the prosecution that the woman showed no grief after the death of her husband. On the other hand, he declared he found her sobbing and tried to comfort her.

All acts were deeply appreciated by the Cashman Family.

U. S. Government Inquiry Into Activities of Von Nuber

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—The department of justice was today making further inquiry into the activities of Austrian Consul-General von Nuber and his associates. In an announcement the department said information had been received which would probably lead to further indictments for passport frauds.

Von Nuber and German Ambassador von Bernstorff were recently charged publicly by Dr. Joseph Gorlekar, former Austrian consul, with having directed propaganda carried on the Austro-Hungarian consular service in the United States for fomenting strikes in munitions plants.

These allegations have already been formally denied by the Austrian embassy here and through the embassy by the Austrian foreign minister.

The investigation is the outcome of a conference in New York on Wednesday between A. Bruce Bielaski, chief of the bureau of investigations of the department of justice, and Dr. Gorlekar.

ALLIED WAR COUNCIL

NEXT MEETING IN LONDON—RUSSIA AND ITALY MAY SEND REPRESENTATIVES

PARIS, Nov. 19.—The next meeting of the allied war council will be held in London. It is likely the Russian and Italian governments will designate representatives to attend this council.

One session of the war council in Paris this week was held at the foreign office and another, presided over by President Poincare, at the Elysee palace. In addition the several members of the French and British committees had no consultations apart.

Premier Asquith, who is acting temporarily as war secretary conferred with the French war minister, Gen. Gallieni; A. J. Balfour, first lord of the British admiralty with Admiral Lacaze, French minister of marine; Premier Briand, who is in charge of the French foreign portfolio with Sir Edward Grey, British foreign secretary and Albert Thomas, French under secretary of war for munitions, with David Lloyd George, British munitions secretary.

It is understood that an understanding has been reached in regard to various subjects and energetic action is expected to result.

Paying of Bills Disappears From the Paying Teller's Cage in First National Bank of New Haven

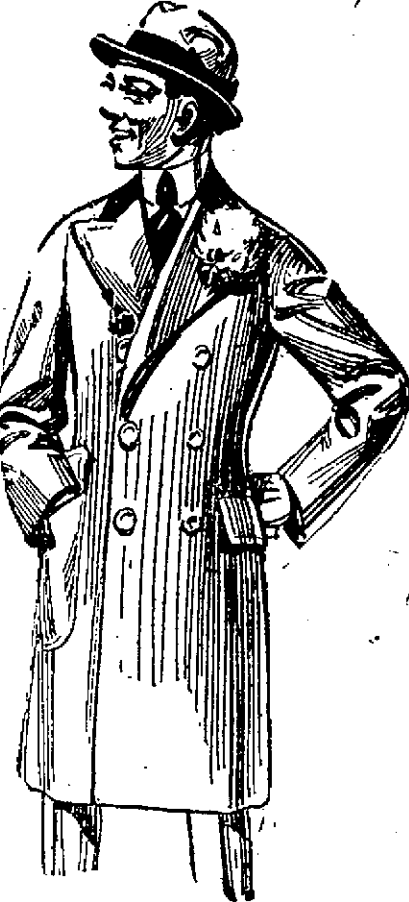

NEW HAVEN, Nov. 19.—The disappearance in a mysterious manner of a package containing $2500 in bills, about two weeks ago, was made public by the First National bank this afternoon after reports had become current that one of the city's banks had been robbed. The package had been on a truck behind the paying teller's cage.

WHAT HORTENSE TOLD ME

Hortense gave me a long lecture this morning on guarding my eyes carefully, emphasizing the fact that once the night is ruined you have lost one of your most valuable possessions. The light, she says, should fall over the left shoulder when reading, writing or sewing. When out in the sun during the winter when there is snow on the ground, it is best to wear slightly smoked glasses to soften the glare. They will be very restful to the eyes, will not attract unpleasant attention in the country, and will prevent chronic wrinkles. When the eyes are very tired, bathe them with hot water and drop a few drops of diluted boracic acid in the eyes with an eye dropper. Use ten or 15 drops of the acid to one ounce of distilled water.

The habit of raising the brows continually will also tend to produce wrinkles, more quickly than the passing years. Before combing your hair place long, narrow strips of court plaster just above the center of the eyebrows and reaching half way to the hair line. Every time you raise your brows this will be a silent reminder, and soon you will learn to know when you use these muscles that you know work unconsciously and this will soon break you of the habit. Wear the plaster whenever you can until broken of the habit.

This fall I have been taking long walks in the woods and I have found that rubbing heels help me much and keep me from fatigue and backache that I used to experience when I walked a long distance. They prevent the constant jarring of the spine with every step. The appearance of the feet

An Ideal Remedy for Nursing Mothers

Compound of Simple Laxative Herbs Safe for Baby and Mother

Constipation is a condition that affects the old, young and middle-aged, and most people at one time or another need help in regulating the action of the bowels. Laxative cathartics and purgatives should not be employed to relieve constipation, as their effect is only temporary while they shock the system unnecessarily.

A remedy that can be used with perfect safety for the tiniest babe and that is equally effective for the strongest constitution is found in the combination of simple laxative herbs known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and sold in drug stores everywhere for fifty cents a bottle. This is an ideal household remedy and should be in every family medicine chest.

Mrs. F. I. Barsolow, 18 Leslie St., Holyoke, Mass., writes to Dr. Caldwell: "Syrup Pepsin certainly is fine. I gave it to my baby, Evelyn, and also took it myself. It is the only medicine I have been able to take without affecting Baby in the nurse."

EVELYN BARSLOW

I have used it for all four children and it is fine; they like it and ask for it. A trial bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can be obtained free of charge, by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 454 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

In the morning, so long as you have full eight hours' sleep.

Hortense has told me a very clever way to perfume my handkerchiefs and muslin underwear. Supply your washwoman with a good sized piece of orris root which she is to throw into the water in which your handkerchiefs are boiling. When they come back to you from ironing they will be redolent of the orris root. Then you can slip them between the folds of a sachet filled with violet powder and they will not lose their fragrance. Violet and orris scent together, make a real violet odor.

Hortense advises that hands and lips that crack easily when exposed to the cold, can be kept in the best of condition if anointed nightly with a lotion made of equal parts of glycerine and lemon juice. Some prefer glycerine, rosewater and benzoin and for dry skins it is a little better than the other remedy mentioned. Camphor is also cooling for chapped lips and hands. You must take care to dry the hands thoroughly after washing them and not to wet the lips while in the open air.

The teeth should be cleaned at least twice a day with a suitable brush and dentifrice, advises Hortense. Particles of food should not be allowed to cling to the teeth or gums or remain in the mouth after a meal. Always rinse the mouth thoroughly and remove particles with the brush or dental floss. In brushing the teeth do not confine the motion to up and down or straight across movements. The brush should be given a rotary or circular motion, cleansing the gums and all of the teeth, and removing any tartar that may have collected at their base. Alkaline water solution is helpful in rinsing the mouth.

"I have the habit of remaining up quite late every night to read and Hortense says it is the cause of my eyes aching so much. 'Never forget to rest the eyes occasionally during the day,' she advises, 'as it is very unwise to try them to the limit. Stop reading or working before your eyeballs ache and closing your eyes rest quietly for five or ten minutes. If this much time can be spared, it not try it for two or three minutes, at a time.'"

Don't wear spotted veils as they are deadly enemies to beauty and health. It is impossible for the eyes to keep well if they are constantly strained.

WAS CIVIL WAR VETERAN

CHARLES W. BURGESS, WHO DIED WEDNESDAY, HAD HONORABLE WAR RECORD

Charles W. Burgess, who died at the Lowell hospital on Wednesday of the present week, was a veteran of the Civil war and it appears that this fact was overlooked in the notices concerning his death. His war record was one of long and faithful service. He enlisted with Co. A, 5th regiment, Massachusetts Infantry, and served three months, from April 30, 1861 to August 1, 1861. On November 12 of the same year he reenlisted with Co. 1, 30th regiment. He was appointed first sergeant and later rose to the rank of captain. He was discharged July 5, 1865.

Weak and Tired Woman

Tells How Vinol Made Her Strong

Lowell women who are weak, run-down and suffer from the consequent effects of such a condition, will be interested in Mrs. Odell's letter. She says:

"I am a farmer's wife and was all run-down, weak, tired, and suffered from indigestion, and sometimes it seemed as though I could not keep around and do my housework. I had taken many medicines without benefit. One day I saw Vinol advertised, and made up my mind to try it. I have taken four bottles and have gained seven pounds in weight, am much stronger, and feel many years younger than before." Sarah Odell, Lockport, N. Y.

The reason Vinol builds up weak, run-down women so quickly is because it contains a delicious combination of the three most successful tonics, peptonate of iron to enrich and vitalize the blood, the strength-creating body-building elements of fresh cods' livers without oil, and beef peptonate.

We want to say to every weak, run-down, overworked woman in Lowell that we will return your money if Vinol fails to help you as it did Mrs. Odell.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT

CITY'S DISTANCE FROM DEBT LIMIT IS GROWING SHORTER—DEPARTMENT BALANCES

The financial statement for the month of October has been received from the printer and it shows, among other things, that the city was distant from the debt limit $274,340.49 on November 1. The total of loans for the ten months was $194,000. This includes the $71,000 for the extension of Dummer street, but is independent of the $225,000 water loan.

The commissioner of finance has left unexpended the sum of $18,328.98. For elections, etc., there remained on Nov. 1, the sum of $313,323.

The commissioner of public safety has unexpended the sum of $54,300.20 and there is a balance in favor of the police department of $30,000.

It was understood that the school department was going to ask for assistance to continue the evening schools but the report has it that on November 1, the school department has an unexpended balance of $123,239.11, $9,700.55 of which is credited to the vocational school.

The report also shows that the sum of $143,543.47 has been spent for street maintenance during the ten months of the year and there still remains, for the same purpose, the sum of $29,380.99.

The department of fire protection and water works showed the sum of $11,243.63 unexpended on November 1. Out of a total appropriation for the public property department there remains a balance of $29,240.97. This department spent up to Nov. 1, the sum of $104,904.88.

BIG POLICE SHAKEUP

MANY CHANGES IN THE DETECTIVE BUREAU AT BOSTON HEADQUARTERS—VETERANS SHIFTED

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—The detective bureau at police headquarters has been shaken up again by Chief Inspector John R. McGarr. The assignments of several of the veteran inspectors attached to his staff have been changed and the chief is just as reticent regarding the changes as he was a year ago when he shook his office up from top to bottom.

Inspector James Comby, one of the oldest men on duty at the bureau, who for many years has been covering the Back Bay, has been assigned to South station, where Inspector Michael H. Cronin has been on duty since three years ago last September. A depot assignment has always been regarded as a disgraceable post.

Inspector Cronin has been instructed to join Inspector Wise in the express district, and Detective Sergt. Kilday, who has been the partner of Inspector Wise in that district, has been sent into the South End district with Patrolman McCarthy for a partner. Patrolman Towle, who has been with Patrolman McCarthy, has taken the post formerly held by Comby in the Back Bay.

Detective Sergt. John F. Mitchell merely answers rollcall at the bureau of criminal investigation now. He has been given a detail to the office of Supt. Crowley, and with Capt. King is serving in the recently established automobile bureau. Last spring Sergt. Mitchell, who has been serving on the water front, was without much warning shifted to the elevated terminal at Sullivan sq. Now the report is heard that Inspector Harry Pierce, son of the former superintendent, who was sent from Back Bay to the Dudley-st. terminal at the time that Mitchell was assigned to Sullivan sq. is to get a new post.

None of the headquarters men want to talk about the changes. As one said, "We are watching our step and you never can tell when it is safe to talk."

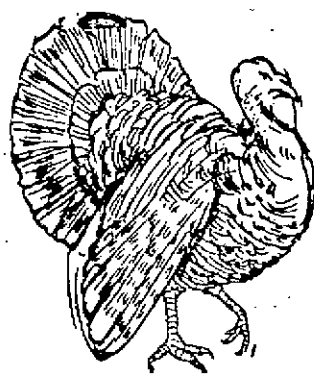

Chief McGarr has been around the city quite a little evenings recently, some of his men say. That there is a great feeling of uneasiness among the headquarters men is very apparent these days.

DANIELS CENSURES VERDICT

Secretary of the Navy Disagrees With Court-Martial in the Case of the San Diego Explosion

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Secretary Daniels has clashed with the navy court-martial which tried two commissioned officers and one warrant officer for responsibility for the fatal boiler explosion on the cruiser San Diego Jan. 21 last.

Yesterday he issued a statement taking exception to the court's findings and declaring that on the navy department's disapproval the court altered its verdict.

"I am unwilling to believe that the ideals of duty and responsibility of all members of the court are so low as to exonerate Lieut. Oak of neglect of duty," said the secretary's statement.

Nine men were killed when five of the San Diego's 16 boilers blew out in the last few minutes of a four-hour test under forced draft.

It was testified that all the officers involved and the men knew a feed pipe supplying water to the boilers had collapsed, but they decided to take a "sporting chance" in order to finish the test and have a try for the pennant.

CONTEST ON WILL

Sister of Mrs. Melinda W. Costello Will Try to Break Her Will

The will of the late Melinda W. Costello, widow of James Costello, which involves an estate of about $35,000, is to be contested and the first hearing will be held in Cambridge on Dec. 14. According to the will, which was made in February, 1913, or a little over two years before the death of Mrs. Costello, the bulk of the estate is left to a nephew, Enoch Winsby, president of a large iron works corporation at Oakland, Cal. The will is being contested on the ground of undue influence and testamentary incapacity by a sister of the deceased, Mrs. Phoebe Trider of this city, the principal heir-at-law, and other heirs-at-law, Osborne R. Willer of Swampscott, another nephew of deceased and a nephew living in Nova Scotia. F. F. Marble appears for the executor and Quin, Howard & Rogers for the heirs-at-law contesting.

Ask her to go to Asso. hall tonight.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

The four last performances of "Fine Feathers" will be given at the Opera House starting with today's matinee. To those who have already seen this remarkable play, this fact probably recalls only the pleasure they doubtless took away with them upon leaving the theatre, but to those who haven't already seen it, the statement should set them phoning to the box office for reservations for one of the remaining performances and doing it before the few choice seats have all been taken.

For the coming Sunday, another of those great Sunday shows will be given which have made the Lowell Opera House the mecca for hundreds of theatregoers and adding to the number every Sunday. The bill will be composed of five of the best vaudeville acts, all of them absolutely new to Lowell which will be presented in conjunction with a series of the latest picture features. Heading the vaudeville list will be Harry Marks and his two roles. This is one of the best of the big time vaudeville acts and after playing the Lowell engagement, Mr. Marks goes to New York City where he will be seen in and around there consecutively for the next four months. A privilege accorded only to the real big ones. This act alone, however, will not comprise all the good things to be gathered together, for be it, there will be four others, and all said to compare in a most favorable light with the headliner. Then of course there's the pictures, and anyone who has seen one of the bills so far given knows that the pictures will be one of the strong features, comedies, dramas, and serials being among the list. Seats are now selling. Commencing with the coming Monday's bon bon matinee, and continuing on matinee and evening throughout the week, the management has selected as a special Thanksgiving week offering James Forbes play which broke all records for long runs in Boston, Chicago, and New York City, "The Traveling Salesman." This is an attraction for which there has been numerous calls and inasmuch as it's one of the best plays ever written and one in which Mr. Homer Barton, who will play "Bob Blake" the title role has appeared to marked success many times before, the selection seems an ideal one. "The Traveling Salesman" affords the other members in the cast, excellent opportunity in which to display their versatility and is one calling for lavish scenic embellishments which will be carried out with every attention to detail. Seats for all performances now on sale at the box office including those for matinee and evening Thanksgiving. Monday night souvenirs of Mr. Barton will be distributed. Get the whole set.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

Get a lot of comedy this week by attending the B. F. Keith theatre where a goodly company of entertainers is on the parade. The mixture is splendid. There are comedy and singing, instrumental music and dancing, and one of the neatest animal acts imaginable. Of course the headliner is purveyor, Louis A. Simon & Co., with their farce, "The New Coachman." It is really a remarkably happy comedy situation, or series of situations. Simon in the part of the college man who was mistaken for a coachman is literally a riot. And the funniest part of it all is, that he imagines the woman who hires him is the one to whom he is about to be engaged. It all runs out well, but not until some funny stunts have occurred. Conlins, Steele & Park in their mixture of vaudeville, funniness, push matters along at a speedy rate. They give a little bit of everything and give it very well. Dave Kinder, the whistler, has a wonderful range, and can whistle anything set before him. The Six Harvard give a melange of instrumental music and singing. It is a very pretty act, and the members of the sextet are fully competent. Other good things on the bill are: Miss Busse's toy terriers, Irwin and Herzon, singing comedians in a novelty, Adroit Brothers, wonderful gymnasts and the Hearst Selling news pictorial. Good seats for the remaining performances of the week may be obtained in advance at the box office. Phone 28.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Geraldine Farrar in "Carmen" her screen debut released in five acts on the Paramount program, was one of the Merrimack Square theatre's yesterday afternoon and evening and which will also be shown four times today and as many times on Saturday. The reason why this elaborate production was again secured was because all who wanted to see it when it was first shown at the Merrimack Square theatre several weeks ago, were unable to do so. In the audience yesterday were many who saw Geraldine Farrar in this same picture when previously shown, and were irresistibly drawn to view it again. "Carmen" is a picture which is interesting when seen the second time because there is so much to admire in the way it is produced, besides the interest which the theme of the play begets of itself. Many of the scenes have been copied from well-known scenes of Spain, such as the Plaza de Toros, and so accurate has the copy been that one who had seen the original could not tell the difference. This, indeed, is one kind of motion picture perfection; the other kind is the acting of Miss Farrar in this play. Never in any picture has there ever been portrayed such realistic acting, for instance, the fight in the factory or the duel between the two soldiers over Carmen. The Farrar feature will be shown at the following hours today and tomorrow: 3, 5.15, 7.10 and 8.15 p. m. Do not fail to see this masterpiece this time.

WHAT $10 DID FOR THIS WOMAN

The Price She Paid for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Which Brought Good Health.

Danville, Va.—"I have only spent ten dollars on your medicine and I feel so much better than I did when the doctor was treating me. I don't suffer any bearing down pains at all now and I sleep well. I cannot say enough for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills as they have done so much for me. I am enjoying good health now and owe it all to your remedies. I take pleasure in telling my friends and neighbors about them."—Mrs. MATTIE HALEY, 501 Colquhoun Street, Danville, Va.

No woman suffering from any form of female troubles should lose hope until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women everywhere bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Every woman ought to have Lydia E. Pinkham's 80-page Text Book. It is not a book for general distribution as it is too expensive. It is free, and only obtainable by mail. Write for it today. Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

abounds in suspense and shows many thrilling scenes.

OWL THEATRE

"The Miracle of Life," the greatest and most powerful problem play ever depicted, will be the attraction at the Owl theatre today and tomorrow. In this Mutual masterpiece, Margarita Fisher and Joseph Singleton, two favorites of the silent drama, will be starred.

"The Miracle of Life" is a sensational problem play and a strong plea for motherhood in four vivid acts. It shows the fallacy of race suicide and that all glories for fortunes that may befall to the lot of any woman are trivial when compared to the greatest glory with which a woman may be crowned, namely that of motherhood. The story of this film is of a young wife, enamored of the many social pleasures of this world, who is about to become a wife. Fearing this state of life and dreading the thought of being forced to give up all her jolly friends and good times, she attempts to thwart the law of nature. Then comes the crowning miracle—but that is the secret that this sensational Mutual masterpiece reveals. In addition to this four-act feature picture, a three-act film and other excellent photographs will also be presented at the Owl theatre today and tomorrow.

SCHOOLHOUSE SANITATION

Forty states of the Union have taken some legal action toward safeguarding the sanitation of public school buildings according to a bulletin on "Schoolhouse Sanitation," just issued by the bureau of education of the U. S. department of the interior. "Probably nine-tenths of the existing regulation of this sort has come within in the past decade," declares the bulletin. "Each state profits by the experience of 47 others. A law passed in one extreme of the country today is copied next month or next year by a state 2,000 or 3,000 miles distant."

Thirty-eight states have some legal provision regarding the school site, according to the bulletin. None of these provisions are state-wide in their application, and are mandatory in character. These provisions include the proximity of "nuisances," availability of the site, and the size of the site. Nineteen states have laws prohibiting the location of school buildings within a specified distance from places where liquor is sold, from gambling houses, houses of prostitution, and noisy or smoky factories.

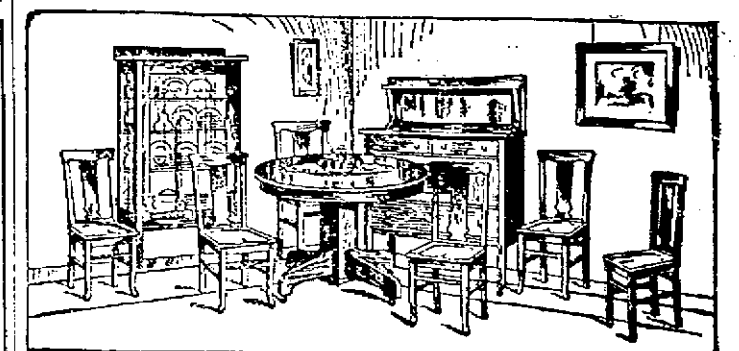

Thirty of the states have sought to regulate the water supply of the public school. "The revolt against the common drinking cup" says the bulletin "has come within the past five years. Kansas was the pioneer, but other states followed rapidly, so that now half of the entire number have either a law or a regulation regarding drinking cups."

Some form of protection against fire and panic is found in 28 states. Blauket regulations, or the power to make such regulations, exist in 12 states.

General or special construction with a view to fire prevention is dealt with in states. Thirteen of the states have something to say as to corridors and inner stairways; 24 have regulations as to exits, and 25 as to exterior escapes; 10 mention alarm and fire-fighting apparatus; and 11 states provide by law or regulation for fire drills. Less than half the states, "according to the bulletin, have any legal word on ventilation. Thirty cubic feet of fresh air per pupil per minute is the conventional amount specified.

In the matter of cleaning and disinfecting, slightly more than one-fourth of the states have regulations which control conditions to any degree outside the districts themselves. Some of the laws and regulations are almost model; others are wholly inadequate. A few state boards of health have done notable work in this particular. Special cleaning and disinfecting follow in seven states immediately upon discovery in any school of any of the states have a special list of specific diseases that call at once for action. This list includes scarlet fever, smallpox, and diphtheria in all three states, measles in two, and infantile paralysis, epidemic spinal-meningitis, and bubonic plague in one, each."

FROM THE WAR TRENCHES

NEPHEW OF MRS GEORGE H. TRY-DER WRITES FROM BATTLE-FIELD IN FRANCE

Following is a letter from the trenches in France received in this city by friends of Mrs. George H. Try-der. It is written by Capt. P. H. Smith, nephew of Mrs. Tryder, who is with the Canadian troops at the front. It is addressed to Capt. Smith's father.

From the Trenches
Somewhere in France,
Sept. 29th, 1915.

Dear Father—
I know you all will be anxious to hear from me but cannot give you much information, but will try and describe some of our experiences.
An order came suddenly one evening not over a week ago to fall in. It was dark, raining hard and muddy beyond description. We were all standing at attention when our colonel arrived and informed us that we were to immediately prepare for a march to the firing line. You should have heard the cheering. After giving some good advice he left and everyone turned in to get something to eat, and then back up. This work did not take very long and we turned out at 5:30 p. m. under a heavy rain the whole brigade moved off and such a march in the dark, mud on our boots and heavy bundles on our backs. I'll tell you the next march like this we undertake we have made up our minds to carry nothing more than is absolutely necessary.
We had a number of six miles half of five miles every half hour.

After covering about half the distance we could see the firing line in our left. The rockets sent up by our forces and the enemy were plainly visible. The zip of the bullets appeared to come nearer and nearer and the song they sang made us realize we would soon be doing our little bit.

A guide came out from the company holding the trench we were to take over, and after many turnings in what seemed to be a tunnel without an end, we arrived at our appointed section in the pitch dark. We were very warm and covered with mud and in just such a humor, that after getting a short rest we would welcome any command, no matter what it might be.

The enemy are right in sight from the top of our trenches and bullets are passing over our heads in countless numbers. This was the first time under fire for over 30 per cent. of my company and I can say that not a soldier was excited.

The lookouts were stationed and the balance of the men crept into their dug outs and went to bed. The trench was then in our hands. Lieut. Stairs of Halifax, with us one officer who remained with us until the next day.
The supplies are brought in at night and the men whose duty it is to transfer these goods to the trenches are always in dangerous positions for the shots that go over our heads sometimes find a mark amongst these carriers.

This is Sept. 31st and the war is not over yet. We have had some very heavy artillery firing all day and last night it kept up till a late hour. I lost one of my sergeants yesterday his name was Hunter, he was a fine man and very popular. One good thing he did not suffer for he never knew what happened. We buried him last night. Our chaplain came out and he was laid away amid the booming of the artillery, flashes lighting up the heavens, bullets sailing over head, and one other man slightly wounded, attached to the machine gun section, have had very bad weather, very cold and equipment, ready to turn out at a minute's notice.

With orders coming and reports to go out every hour I get very little sleep but am feeling fine. At this time my feet feel like two ice balls, have

OUCH! BACKACHE!
RUB LUMBAGO OR PAIN FROM BACK

Rub Stiffness Away With Small Tribble Bottle of Old
"St. Jacob's Oil"

Ah! Pain is gone!
Quickly?—Yes. Almost instant relief from soreness, stiffness, lameness and pain follows a gentle rubbing with "St. Jacob's Oil."
Rub this soothing, penetrating oil right on your painful back, and like magic, relief comes. "St. Jacob's Oil" is a harmless backache, lumbago and sciatica cure which never disappoints and doesn't burn the skin.
Straighten up! Quit complaining!
Stop those torturous "sitches." In a moment you will forget that you ever had a weak back, because it won't hurt or be stiff or lame. Don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle of old, honest "St. Jacob's Oil" from your druggist now and get this lasting relief.

Just had a shave and a face wash.
Lying in a dug out built of sand bags with a sack over the door.
Bullets are good but am not allowed much. "St. Jacob's Oil" is a miraculous cure for all our ailments.
Everyone feeling fine and keen to go ahead. The success of the French and English has cheered everyone up and we now know that we can break through the enemy's lines whenever we set about this task.

When we get in our dugouts we are very crowded but all seem to enjoy the life.
Very quiet today and it seems very funny to have a lull in a rifle and artillery fire after the clip it has been going.

Tell the women they can get busy and send along all the socks they can knit, all they can send will be needed.
It is some life living like animals in the ground to kill other men living as we are. We use periscopes to get observations and as soon as these instruments appear the enemy gets right busy and pumps away at these artificial eyes.

We get an issue of twice a day, two tablespoons is the allowance and it is just enough to warm our mouths. I will draw my letter to a close as we are going to be relieved tonight and must make preparations for packing up. Write as often as you can and I will let you know how things are moving when I get available artificial trench eyes.

The men are keen as mustard and always ready to comply with any request.

RETIRE FROM MARINES

SERGEANT MAJOR DEWEY WEALTHI-EST ENLISTED MAN IN THE UNITED STATES SERVICE

SERGEANT MAJOR DEWEY

Sergeant Major James Deaver, United States marine corps, wealthiest enlisted man in the united services, has been retired at Seattle after thirty-years' continuous service with Uncle Sam's sea soldiers, possessing real estate, stocks, bonds, mortgages and personal property valued at more than $193,600. Deaver had no capital when he entered the marine corps in 1855 and has been dependent entirely on his pay as an enlisted man and his own efforts in the accumulation of wealth.
He will continue to draw from the government about $70 a month retired pay for so long as he may live. By strict economy Deaver managed to save several thousand dollars in the first fourteen years with the marines, and when he was transferred to Sea-tle in 1892 wisely invested his savings in Seattle realty when values were low. He sold his holdings several times and reinvested opportunely until his wealthy enlisted man resides with his wife and young son in their beautiful home, 422 South Alki street, Seattle, overlooking the waters of Puget sound.

MURDERED HIS WIFE

CHARLES F. STARRATT DIED AT WORCESTER A VICTIM OF PELLAGRA

WORCESTER, Nov. 12.—Charles F.
Starratt of Everett who murdered his wife in March, 1914, died at the state insane hospital here last night after a four months' illness with pellagra.

Starratt was committed to the hospital immediately after his trial. He had killed his wife by knocking her down and slashing her with a hatchet, a razor and a knife. He was about to hang himself when arrested. While he was on trial he tried to commit suicide by jumping from the balcony of the court house at East Cambridge and broke one leg.

STEEL EMBARGO

Congress May Act to Keep Supply for Use
of New Warships

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Congress may be asked to place a temporary embargo on exports of structural steel to the European belligerents in order to afford a sufficient supply of the metal for use in the construction of the two battleships, bids for which were opened at the navy department on Wednesday.

This plan is suggested as a result of the disclosure that neither of the new battleships can be laid down before next summer because of a lack of steel. The entire output of the American steel plants, it is said, has been taken by the warring nations. Secretary Daniels hints that unless steel plants could be induced to insure preference for government orders, congress may be urged to act. The foreign demand for steel is greater than for armor, according to the secretary who says that this was shown by the fact that armor bids for the new ships made no increase in price over a year ago nor was there a suggestion of delay in delivery.

Announcement is made by Secretary Daniels that tentative plans are under consideration for two 36,000 ton battleships to be included in the first year's part of the five-year naval building program. No way in the world has such large warships as these at present. The new ships probably will have a greater armament and speed than any other warship ever designed for the American navy.

NEW UNION STATION

BOSTON & MAINE OFFICIALS ANNOUNCE THAT LAWRENCE WILL HAVE ONE SOON

LAWRENCE, Nov. 19.—At the close of his address to the Y.M.C.A. yesterday, President Huettner of the B. & M. said: "Let us get down to brass tacks. This hands across the sea business is all right, but what you men want to know is matters that will be of interest to you and Lawrence. I shall be pleased to answer any questions that you may desire, but I will state now that Mr. Rourke, the local division superintendent or Mr. Nicholson, the local agent, will be better able to answer those questions."

Under questioning in regard to the plans for a proposed new Central station, Mr. Rourke stated that the railroad was considering a plan of a new Central station just south of the Central bridge, now under construction. He said that the local agent and general yard master were having difficulty in working out the plan of tracks that would allow switching in that section.

"That is the one big difficulty, but just as soon as they agree on some plan we shall notify your chamber of commerce. As the president has told you the funds of the railroad are limited, and have prevented changes here before this."

"We are preparing the plans, and we want to be in a position to be ready when the time comes to start work. The plans of the proposed new Central station would do away with the cab train service, or as the president terms it, the 'scot' train service."

TWO AUTOS COLLIDED

Two automobiles collided on the Pawtucket boulevard near the pumping station last night but fortunately none of the occupants of either car was injured. The first car was driven by E. W. Brainerd of 157 Nesmith street, this city, and Annie Boisclair of 55 Amory street, Manchester, N. H. As the machines were not being operated at a high speed, the damage was not serious although both cars were scratched and the headlights broken.

SURPRISE PARTY

A large number of friends of Miss Katherine Dolan assembled at the home of Miss Mae Cogger, 534 Moody street, and presented her with a large Victrola talking machine. Miss Dolan is a popular young lady of Pawtucketville. Miss Maude E. Kelly made the presentation and Miss Dolan, although taken by surprise, responded in a fitting manner. The house was decorated for the occasion in the national colors. The following musical program was carried out: Piano solo, Lillian Landry; solo, Anna Riley; song, "America, I Love You," Maude E. Kelly; duet, "A Little Love," Misses Elizabeth and Etta Duffy; quartet, "A Perfect Day," and "When It Is Moonlight in May," Misses Etta Duffy, Ella Mulligan, Jennie Cogger and Mae Cogger; song, Miss Katherine Cogger. Miss Dolan gave a number of comic recitations, among them being a dialogue of "Cohen on the Telephone." Miss Lillian Landry was the accompanist of the evening. Refreshments were served before the party dispersed.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

To show New Yorkers and others the latest things in arms, ammunition and other military necessities, a show was organized in Madison Square Garden. The army, the navy, the marine corps, the militia and others took part.

Two applications for membership were received, three new names were proposed and other business was transacted. After the session Rev. Francis Mullin of St. Michael's church spoke on the objects of the Federation of Catholic societies. Dr. Mullin gave a very pleasing address and at the conclusion of his remarks was given a rising vote of thanks. Musical numbers were given by the following: Edward Flanagan, Michael Mahoney, Joseph Johnson, Thomas Delmore, Timothy McCarthy, James J. Sheehan, Peter Gallagher, Harry Lenox and Andrew McCarthy. The committee in charge of arrangements and to whose efforts the success of the affair was due, was composed of: Henry Smith, chairman; James J. Sheehan, George P. O'Meara, Michael Casey, Joseph Johnson, Martin McCarthy and Thomas Sheedy. The next meeting of the division will be held on December 2.

A SMART YOUNG LADY

Cut of blue broadcloth, trimmed with interesting patches of metal and silk embroidery, which run perpendicular to the demibelt. This frock, all fastened with quantities of little crocheted buttons, gives a very modish, practical effect for the girl who goes to business.

DOCTOR RESCUES GIRL

MISS SUSAN McLEAN, PULLED FROM CHARLES RIVER BY DR. BENNISON

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—Miss Susan McLean, a girl about 20 years old, who is visiting her aunt, Mrs. O'Brien, 15 Fairmount street, Everett, was rescued from drowning when her canoe upset in the Charles river just below Newton Upper Falls yesterday afternoon by Dr. Raymond E. Bennison, 26 Bay State road, Boston.

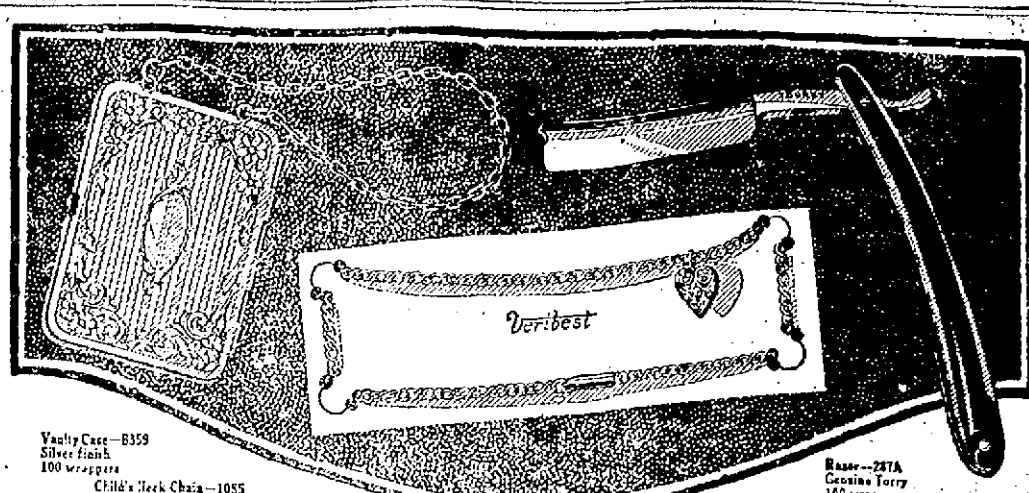

Miss McLean was alone in the canoe when it upset at a point in the river which is quite wide, and where the current is swift. Dr. Bennison saw the girl thrown into the water when her canoe was in the middle of the stream. He was alone in his canoe nearby at the time, and diving into the water grasped the girl and swam with her to the shore.

HOW TO CURE INSANITY

DR. ABBOTT TELLS OF CAUSES—MANY CASES CAUSED BY RECREATIONS

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—Lack of rest and indiscretion of energy toward so-called recreations were set down last evening as the chief causes of sending individuals to the McLean hospital, Waverley, by Dr. E. Stanley Abbott, its pathologist and clinical director. He was delivering an address on "Preventable Forms of Mental Disease and How to Prevent Them" at the Mental Hygiene conference in Ford hall.

Dr. Abbott analyzed proportionally the various causes of patients coming under his care, saying: "Some cases are inevitable because of the force of circumstances. But many—perhaps as much as half or three-quarters—could be prevented if people would rest more and do themselves less, not only with work, but with so-called recreations and in other ways. Dancing, the theatres, the movies, the ball game, really fatigue us, though the interest and excitement of them cover up the feeling of fatigue for a time. They divert but do not refresh. One never feels like settling down to hard work right after such 'recreations'."

Many New Lots of O'Brien Overcoats

$15

For Thanksgiving Buyers!

They've been going fast—and no wonder! With wool soaring to the skies, we've never before shown such splendid coats at $15.00—nor so many to choose from.

Smartly tailored, too—that's one essential difference between O'Brien Overcoats and those you see elsewhere.

We've many new lines to offer this week—Smart, new fancy plaids in grays and browns, in the popular box model with velvet collars; body-fitting coats in blue and oxford meltons; full satin lined meltons in the regulation box (these would be good value at $20).

If you pay $20 or more for your winter overcoat, you're entitled to a Stein-Blech.

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—A man who said that he was Dr. Ernest Dayton of the British transport Hanatic collapsed in front of the North Station early last evening and is now at the Relief hospital. He is believed to be suffering from some kind of poisoning, but will not tell the physicians what ails him.

or volunteer any information that will aid them.

He is a surgeon in the British navy and was in full uniform when he was stricken. On his cap was the word "Persevere." He says that his ship is the Hanatic and that it is now being dismantled at Montreal. He has a brother in the service, stationed at Delhi, India.

Dr. Dayton would not tell when he arrived here, what his purpose in coming was, or what his local address was. While the condition of Dr. Dayton is not dangerous the authorities would like to know a little more regarding him.

Curl Hair This Way and Keep it Healthy

It has been found that the use of a harmless and inexpensive fluid which dissolves the hair as "slime," will keep the straightest hair in curl, giving it the appearance of true naturalness, besides keeping the hair softer and glossier than possible with the heated iron. The liquid may be applied with a clean tooth brush, this being drawn through the hair from crown to tip and allowed to dry over night. In the morning the hair will be beautifully wavy and curling, and will lie easily and loosely on the head, as it should, considering its welfare from a hygienic standpoint. A few ounces of liquid slime will last for months and as it is really beneficial to the hair, which cannot be said of the heated iron, it should be generally adopted by the fair sex. It will not spot or discolor scalp or hair, nor leave any sediment, grease or stickiness. Home doctor.

MAKE-IT PRACTICAL

Our great industrial exposition has been the talk of the town for the past week. Everybody has seen it, and all who have seen it have been loud in their praise. Not a dissenting voice has been heard. To all members of the board of trade and individual exhibitors included—it was a revelation of civic enterprise. As an impetus to city boosting it has been worth a number of speeches and press agitations, for it showed plainly that Lowell is a city of enterprise and progressiveness, one of the great workshops of the world.

Aside from the direct advertising value to local industries what will be the practical results of the exposition? It is not enough that it has aroused a better local spirit, though this is indeed praiseworthy. Neither is it sufficient that it has given the people of Lowell a better understanding of their city in an industrial sense. We may know Lowell from one end to the other; we may love it, take pride in it and boost it vehemently at all times, but unless we severally do our part in making it a bigger and better city we shall scarcely do our part as good citizens.

With general co-operation and intelligent leadership it should be possible at the present time to secure general support for genuine projects of civic advancement. Such a proposition is that to erect a public hall. The most direct lesson of the Kaslo show was the necessity for a large hall for such exhibition purposes where, if necessary, a Made-in-Lowell show could be held annually, with a patronage from distant points. If the exposition should leave an agitation for a public hall as a legacy, it would have fully justified its existence, but all who know anything about the value of sound public opinion know that the benefits of the great show cannot be measured or gauged easily.

Another practical result which should be aimed at is to plan for more direct relationship between the local manufacturers and merchants and the local public. Now that we have all seen the diversity and high quality of the Lowell commodity, there is a feeling that we should give it the preference, and if the mills and stores take advantage of this public feeling, it ought to mean a far larger business. We feel that the people of Lowell will do their share if they are met half way by local leaders of business.

KEEP IT UP

That the agitation for safety in schools will not die down seems evident from the reports of communities in all sections of the state. In some instances the state authorities demand improvements and in others the city governments anticipate state action by an investigation followed by plans for improvement. If the needs for greater safety were borne in mind everywhere, state action would not be necessary for each community could without difficulty discover its shortcomings and remedy them. Money is being spent all around for less worthy projects, but in no particular is the expenditure of money more necessary. Schools must be made as safe as human ingenuity can make them and as a beginning the more obvious dangers should be removed.

One of the most encouraging reports comes from Newton where the chief of the fire department and the commissioner of public buildings have just made an investigation of the schools and recommended immediate changes. There is a lesson for all communities in their joint report which declares that many of the schools are in a dangerous condition, especially the Technical High school, which is the newest and most costly in Newton. With regard to this school, they say that it is filled with inflammable material and that a fire in the basement would rapidly spread to the entire structure.

Among other constructive criticisms, the Newton report declares that in every school in Newton—and there are 25—it is necessary for children to pass doors leading from the basement in order to go from the stairs to the exits. Many changes are suggested, amounting to about $50,000, most of which are in line with the suggestions made everywhere since the Peabody tragedy. The state and local authorities seem thoroughly aroused to the necessity for sweeping school changes, and the public will support any reasonable expenditure to this end. In this city we should see that our schools are thoroughly safe before we start to spend a hundred thousand dollars or so for improvements that are neither timely nor necessary.

ALLIES IN BALKANS

One of the most engrossing problems of the war is before the world at the present time in regard to the present and future status of the allies in the Balkans. The entire question hinges on the decision of Greece and this decision will apparently be taken before long. King Constantine is in no hurry to make up his mind but apparently both England and France are prodding him on to some positive determination, while the Kaiser, through his sister the Queen of Greece and others is just as strongly opposing the allied designs. Anything may happen, without surprising the world. It is tomorrow, Greece should declare war on Germany, it would not seem strange; if Greece should declare war on the allies, the world would not be amazed. Torn by contrary currents of feeling, Greece will have a hard task in keeping neutral, though if reports be true the Greek people are not in sympathy with their king, who, however, has the army on his side. Still, the situation might change daily. Should the allies try to coerce Greece into action or incite the people against their king, there might be a prompt revolt; should the Teutonic drive against Serbia prove as successful as intended, it might have a like result. On the other hand, the allies have Greece practically at their mercy, for though Greece could intern the troops flying from Serbia and prevent the landing of others at Salonika, the English, French and Italian fleet could bombard the Greek coast and declare an effective contraband on supplies. The allies are doing everything possible to coax and scare Greece into action, but Bulgarian victories are a powerful counter argument. It will prove fascinating to watch developments, and there is no certainty as to what any day may bring, one way or the other.

THE DEFECTIVE BABY

A few days ago a defective baby was born in a Chicago hospital. It had many physical deformities and in all probability had it lived it would have grown up with a deformed mentality. One of the doctors in the hospital explained the situation to the mother of the pitiable little wail and while admitting that an operation might have given it an opportunity to live he advised her to let it die. She agreed to do so, no operation was performed and the defective infant died in a few days. Now a storm of comment has swept over the country and while some praise the doctor for what they deem his courage and independence of thought, others condemn him for taking a course that is neither in conformity with medical ethics nor the ideals of Christianity or deeper humanity.

While it may be true that the baby, if operated on, might have lived to be a physical monstrosity and a moral pervert, there was a chance that its mind might in time triumph over its deformity. A list of the world's greatest leaders in the realms of thought would reveal the names of many who were physically defective, and however ugly the casket of the body, the mind might have shone out like a star. Who then shall set himself up as the master of life and death? Is it not the mission of science to take what nature provides and work for its improvement without setting out to destroy what it cannot create?

On the other hand it may be argued that the doctor did not put the child out of existence, but if he could have saved its life he not constructively its destroyer? In this he assumed an enormous responsibility, the influence of which might be most dangerous to society. Unfortunately the modern cry of efficiency and materialism is soulless, and there is a tendency to regard man as a mere machine, but where mind and soul are concerned, no man can set himself up as a judge of the right of a child to live.

It must not be forgotten in this connection that many families would have been happier had defective children died, but selfishness has not yet taken the place of charity in the scheme of existence. The Author of Life permits some to suffer, for reasons that we may not see as yet, but nevertheless the defective have the right to live and strive for moral, if not physical, perfection.

HOSPITAL SHIP LOST

The meagre despatch which told of the sinking of the hospital ship Anglia in the English channel brought a message of one of the most tragic occurrences of the war, for though the loss of life was comparatively slight the circumstances made the incident more touching than war's greatest tragedies. The instrument of destruction was a floating mine, and the victims were about one hundred soldiers who were wounded at the front and were destined for English hospitals. Many of those lost were in their coats at the time of the collision with the mine and they did not have the shadow of a chance to escape. It is most harrowing to picture these young men, maimed by shot and shell and wrecked by the horrors of trench combat, sent to their death as they had hoped for a term of recuperation in the quiet of a hospital ward. Still more terrible is the picture of the homes where they were fondly expected, where everything would have been done by parents, wife, sister and brother to atone for what they had been through. Almost in sight of the friendly cliffs of Dover that they fought to save from invasion they met the death that had spared them in the battles of the bloody line in France and Belgium. The pathetic story is another episode in a drama of unparalleled horrors.

BETTER WATER

According to Supt. Thomas, tests of the water which has passed through coke at the filtration plant show that from 75 to 80 per cent of the iron which it contained has been eliminated. The sand filters have not yet been used but it is the expectation of the water department that these will take away the remaining impurities and give us as pure a water supply as possible. A few months will serve to show whether this prognostication is too bright as the impurities in the local water were visual and more offensive to the eye than to the stomach. If the new filtration plant in reality gives us sparkling water, free from iron and manganese, it will have proved a public boon, for the people of Lowell want water that looks as pure as chemists say it is.

Just about the time that Germany had designated as the time of parting for the allies, a joint conference is held in Paris attended by representatives of the English government, and Russia has signified her intention of being present at the next. In view of their recent difficulties it is most significant that the allies are drawing closer together. This shows that the mighty resolve to conquer is not limited to Germany, which has been claiming a monopoly in it as well as some other things.

Come to think of it wouldn't it be a little ungrateful if His Honor, the mayor, should become an assessor in due time, and apply his theory of machinery valuation and double taxation to his friends in the newspaper business and in the manufacture of textile fabrics in this city. But the mayor is giving out his present dose for campaign purposes only, having admitted that candidates make statements on the stump merely for effect with the voters.

There are said to be 33 living Apollos at Chicago university, otherwise known as "perfect men," physically speaking. If that is their only claim to distinction they are wasting time as they should be in some male chorus. Yet, the original Apollo had some mentality and perhaps the "perfect men" may live down their reputation for brawn as opposed to brain.

A candidate on the stump who cannot find much of anything to say on his own merits or achievements can cultivate his voice in grand style and make a fool of himself at the same time by abusing someone who is not running for office.

A NERVE TONIC

In many severe nervous disorders the best remedy is often a tonic. The most active tonic treatment is recommended by the highest medical authority to arrest the progress of such diseases.

It is impossible to reach the nerves directly with medicine. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a nerve tonic but they act on the nerves through the blood, enabling the blood to carry to the nerves the elements needed to build them up.

Neuralgia, sciatica, sick headache and a number of more severe nervous troubles are properly treated by building up the blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and are often entirely corrected in this way.

If you are nervous you can help yourself by refusing to worry, by taking proper rest, sleep and vacations, by avoiding excesses and by taking out-of-door exercise. For medicine take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, the non-alcoholic tonic.

Sufferers from nervous disorders who have been taking treatment without benefit should investigate the tonic method. Write today to Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for the booklet, "Diagnosis of the Nervous System." It will be sent free on request.

Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail on receipt of price, fifty cents per box, six boxes for $2.50.

Successful Memory Treatment

The late Horace Hutton used to say that having to take a little trouble would impress a fact on any one's memory so that he would never be able to forget it. In illustration he would tell this story:

"Our waitress, Maggie, could never remember to put salt on the table, and time after time Mrs. Hutton would remind her to do it. One morning it was absent, as usual, and I said, 'Maggie, where is the salt ladder?'
"It's in the pantry, sir."
"Please bring it in, Maggie. I said kindly."

"Maggie brought it in with a look of wonder on her face."
"Put it right beside the table, I commanded; and when she had done so I added, 'Now I want you to climb up to the top of it, look all over the table and see if there is any salt there.'
"Maggie never forgot the salt again."—Youth's Companion.

Courage
Courage isn't a brilliant dash, A daring deed in a moment's flash; It isn't an instantaneous thing, Born of despair with a sudden spring. It isn't a creature of flickered hope, Or the final tug at a slipping rope. But it's something deep in the soul of man That is working always to serve some plan.

Courage isn't the last resort In the work of life or the game of sport; It isn't a thing that a man can call At some future time when he's apt to fall.

If he hasn't it now, he will have it not When the strain is great and the pace is hot. For who would strive for a distant goal Must always have courage within his soul.

Courage isn't a dazzling light That flashes and passes away from sight; It's slow, unwavering, ingrained trait That has the patience to work and wait. It's the part of a man when his skies are blue, It's part of him when he has work to do.

The brave man never is friend of it, He has it when there's no need of it.

Courage was never designed for show, It isn't a thing that can come and go, It's written in victory and defeat And every trial a man may meet.

Back of his smiles and behind his tears, Courage is more than a daring deed, It's the breath of life and a strong man's creed.

—Edgar A. Guest in Detroit Free Press.

Making Bird Houses

In view of the interest that is being taken in the matter of construction of bird houses in this vicinity of late, especially among children, the instructions sent out by the government on this subject may be of interest. According to this authority, an ordinary tomato can with a circular piece of board fitted in one end will make an excellent house to attract bluebirds or wrens. The board should have a hole in its upper half to serve as an entrance and the can may then be hung by wires to the limb of a tree or fastened to a crotch. A farmers' bulletin (No. 692) entitled "Bird Houses and How to Build Them" has been issued by the United States department of agriculture, and in it are outlined plans for bird houses of all descriptions from the simple one to an elaborate martin house with doors that open and close. Many birds that are economically valuable, says the bulletin, may be attracted to particular localities by the construction of bird houses. The importance of birds as insect destroyers is being more and more prelated every year, and as a result there has been a decided movement to protect and make neighbors of them. Many birds, if furnished a safe retreat, will more than pay their rent to their landlords. The tomato can may be used in another manner to attract the desirable wren or bluebird. One end may be removed and the can may be superimposed on a post of the same size and fastened securely by pressing it down. A hole should be cut in the side to per-

LOOK AT CHILD'S TONGUE IF SICK CROSS, FEVERISH

When Constipated or Bilious Give "California" Syrup of Figs

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad, has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhoea, his face is red, give a teaspoonful of "California" Syrup of Figs, and in a few hours all the foul and sour bile gently moves out of his little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless "fruit laxative," they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California" Syrup of Figs, which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. To be sure get the genuine, ask to see that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

mit the bird to enter. This tomato can, as well as the other one described, should always be put in a shaded place, as the metal becomes very hot in the sun. Simple bird houses have long been made in the southern states from gourds. The entrance is in the side, and there is a drain hole made in the bottom. A piece of wire through the neck for mounting it completes the house. A number of gourds thus prepared and strung on a pole with a cross piece seems to make a satisfactory tent house for a colony of martins. Used singly they are equally well adapted to wrens and bluebirds. While gourds are not endurable when exposed to the weather, they are easily replaced. Ordinary wooden boxes, if clean, can be made into simple bird houses by nailing on a cover and cutting out an entrance hole. Such makeshifts are rarely weather proof and are never pleasing to the eye. Branches containing real woodpecker holes, when obtainable, are perhaps the best attraction that can be offered most house birds. By carefully fitting such a branch to a fruit or shade tree its foreign origin will scarcely be noticed. A house that looks something like a mail box, and which may be fastened to the side of a tree, is particularly suitable for sparrow hawks and screech owls. Bluebirds and wrens, that do not seem very particular about what habitation they occupy, may also use a similar house. Its bottom can be removed by turning a baton. Another house that also resembles a mail box, but has a gable roof, where the screech owl dwelling has a flat one, is designed to be placed on top of a post or stub of a tree rather than fastened to its side. Such a house has proved attractive to flickers. The roof may be lifted off as a stopper is removed from a bottle. Bird houses may be made more or less elaborate according as people have time and inclination to put on their construction. Many bird lovers take great pleasure in arranging, planning and building elaborate habitations for birds and such may receive valuable hints for the construction of an attractive three-story martin house from the department's new bulletin.

SYMPATHY FOR ARMENIA

Protest Against Turkish Atrocities on Armenian People — Appeal for Relief Funds

Dr. James I. Barton, president of the national Armenian atrocities committee, was the principal speaker at a meeting of protest against the atrocities that are being committed by the Turks against Armenians, which was held last evening in St. Anne's parish house under the auspices of a committee from the Federation of Churches.

Mayor Murphy also spoke and he pledged the services of the municipal council to any committee that might be formed in this city, and concluded by saying some means should be taken in Lowell to swell the fund for Armenian relief.

Dr. Barton in the course of his address read extracts from copies of consular and ambassadorial reports that are on file in the state department at Washington, the said reports describing the most awful atrocities, covering a period from April to September.

Dr. Barton said that assuming that there were 2,000,000 Armenians in Turkey, he estimates, from the reports from various parts of the country that at least one million have been either put to death or forced to leave the country, or are on the journey of death. The state department, he says, estimates the number to be 1,800,000.

The doctor said he did not know the reason for these atrocities. At the close of the doctor's address Samuel H. Thompson offered a set of resolutions which was adopted, and then Mayor Murphy addressed the gathering.

A committee of three to enlarge itself was appointed by the chairman, Rev. J. M. Kyle, the appointees being as follows: Capt. W. P. White, U. S. N., retired, Samuel H. Thompson and William E. Abbott.

Following are the resolutions that were adopted:

Whereas, the world is witnessing today in Turkey, amid the multiple horrors that are afflicting Europe, what will appear as the greatest, most pathetic and most arbitrary tragedy in history—the deliberate extermination at the hands of the Turkish government of the entire Armenian race, one of the oldest and most honorable races, and

Whereas, the purpose of the Turkish government would seem to include the extinction, not only of the Armenian race, but also of other Christian races in that unhappy land; and in the execution of its purpose, the employment of methods that for injustice and cruelty surpass anything that ever preceded it in Turkey or any other country, and

Whereas, the present condition of such of these sorely persecuted people as may have escaped death is utterly helpless and desolate, unless succored by their Christian brethren,

Be it resolved, that we, the representatives of the Christian churches of Lowell, Mass., gathered in public assembly, in the name of Jesus Christ, our common Lord, and of an enlightened manhood and civilization, do most earnestly protest against this awful crime against a defenseless race and against civilization. Not forgetting the difficulties and obstacles in the way of his effective interference and with full confidence in his Christian sympathy and integrity, we urge upon the president of the United States such action by our government as may commend itself to his wisdom and as within his power, believing that as a Christian nation we can not, we must not, permit such a stupendous crime to go unprotected and unrebuked.

Be it further resolved, that we call upon the Christian people of our city to fervently remember the distress of their American brethren in their prayers to Almighty God, and to generously contribute of their abundance to the immediate relief of the destitution of this afflicted people.

Plenty of fun at Associate, tonight.

White and Parent Arrested at Concord Charged With Theft From Franklin Police Station

FRANKLIN, N. H., Nov. 19.—City Marshal Manchester received word yesterday from Concord that Harry White of Skowhegan and Fred Parent of Waterville, Me., had been arrested there for him.

It is alleged that White stole an overcoat, here belonging to Policeman Michael Doherty and that Parent sold it. It is claimed the coat was recovered in Concord.

The two men sought lodging at the police station Tuesday night and were let out at their request at 4 a. m. Wednesday. It is alleged that the overcoat was stolen from the police station when they left the building.

CREATOR TAKES BRIDE

Bandmaster Brought Wife to Boston After Ceremony at Providence—To Begin Wedding Trip Sunday

PROVIDENCE, Nov. 19.—Giuseppe Creatoro, the bandmaster, and Miss Rosina Maria Ida de Martinus of New York city were married yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock at Providence, by Rev. Francis W. Gibbs, pastor of the First Universalist church, at the clergyman's home. The couple was attended by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carlo de Martinus of New York city, and by her two sisters, Misses Catherine and Lina de Martinus. Immediately after the ceremony the wedding party returned to Boston, where Mr. Creatoro is filling a week's engagement with his band.

Mr. Creatoro has canceled his concert tour for the next two weeks and the couple will leave Boston Sunday night on a short wedding trip. They will take up their residence at Staten Island, N. Y.

KILLED IN HURAWAY

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 19.—John Sharkey was killed and his companion, John J. Brophy, was seriously injured when the horse attached to a wagon loaded with tree training apparatus ran away down a steel hill here yesterday afternoon and struck a curbstone.

MAN FIGHTS; HORSE PAYS LIFE; ONE VICTIM THROWN INTO TREE

AN EQUINE VICTIM OF THE WAR

Innocent of any share in bringing on war, man's friend, the horse, must bear a fearful share of the burdens. Many thousands of horses have been killed and wounded. There is a Blue Cross society to look after the horses, but it is hampered by lack of funds to meet the great emergency. The horse in the picture met a gruesome fate as the victim of a German shell, which exploded in the French lines. The force of the explosion killed the horse and threw the carcass into a tree.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR SIX DIVISIONS WITH TWO BANDS AND TWENTY FLOATS

The committees and workers in charge of the big temperance parade to be held in this city on Saturday, Dec. 4, met last evening in the Y. W. C. A. and completed arrangements for the affair. Besides the Lowell divisions, a large number of temperance advocates are expected to represent Chelmsford, Tewksbury, Dracut, Billerica and other nearby towns. The parade will be comprised of six divisions, one drum corps, two bands and about 20 floats. It will form in the Highlands and start promptly at 2 o'clock. The route of the parade will be: Westford street, to Chelmsford, to Appleton, to Garnet, to Middlesex, to Central, to Merrimack, to city hall. Here after being reviewed by the mayor, the participants will be dismissed. For chief marshal, an attempt is being made to secure one of Lowell's most prominent temperance workers, Harry W. J. Howe has been selected as chief aide, and the various divisions will be headed as follows: First division, boys, George F. Lockhart. Second division, girls, W. J. McCready. Third division, men, Herbert J. Rail. Fifth division, women, Ray Melvin. Sixth division, general, Walter A. Chase. The marshal for the fourth division, which will comprise children in automobiles, has not been chosen. The various divisions will form as follows: First, boys: Nichols street, north of Westford. Second, girls: Bellevue street, south of Westford. Third, women: Gates street, south of Westford. Fourth, children: Royal street, south of Westford. Fifth, men: Grand street, south of Westford. Special or general: Howard street, south of Westford. Besides the special features and floats which will comprise the sixth and last division, other features will be distributed throughout the parade. Features have been promised by W. C. T. U., Florence Crittenton Rescue League, working boys of the Y. M. C. A., and the following churches: First Baptist, Paige Street Baptist, First Trinitarian, Congregational, Kirk Street Congregational, Centralville M. E., Evangelical, First Presbyterian and First Baptist.

One of the floats will be a water wagon mounted by 15 boys representing the 15 dry cities in Massachusetts. Another will present 19 young women, dressed in white, personifying the 19 dry states of America. A suggestion was made as to the use of Billy Sunday's song, "The Brewer's Big Horse Can't Run Over Me," and other valuable ideas were exchanged. The meeting was presided over by Committee Chairman Walter A. Chase.

U. S. BEST-HATED NATION
Nelson O'Shaughnessy Tells Chamber of Commerce Country Should Get Ready for After the War
BOSTON, Nov. 19.—"After spending several months recently in the countries now at war, I am ready to agree with the man who remarked to me some time ago that the United States is the best-hated nation on earth," declared Nelson O'Shaughnessy, former charge d'affaires in Mexico City, in an address on "Our National Security," before members of the Boston chamber of commerce at the first luncheon assembly yesterday afternoon at the American House.
"There is a general feeling among belligerent nations that all we Americans want is to make money," he continued, "and that whatever happens to any of them is of no concern to us."
"I am not an alarmist, but I believe we should be ready. Why not let us change our policy from 'preparedness' to one of 'insurance'?"
"I believe in a system of short-term conscription to insure an economic and equitable upkeep of an enlarged army."
"I don't say that we shall be immediately fallen upon by the country that gets the upper hand in the war, but the party that wins will rule the world—us included. My final word of advice—don't be misled by the well-meaning believers in the peaceful Utopia."

MORE SPEED IN RUSSIA
PETROGRAD, Nov. 19.—There has been a great speeding up of methods and men on the Russian railway systems during the past few weeks, as a result of investigations undertaken by the new minister of the interior, M. Khvostoff. His investigations were begun in the first place owing to complaints regarding scarcity of food supplies in Moscow.
The minister's plans for remedying the conditions including the speeding up of managers and workmen, the use of motor vehicles for unloading and delivery, the use of the electric street cars for freight at night, and the fixing of maximum prices for distribution service by private concerns. The new measures are being put into operation at Moscow, Petrograd and other places where they are found necessary.

OUR AMERICAN HIGHWAYS

BODY OF MEN WORKING IN HARMONY FOR BETTER HIGHWAYS ALL OVER THIS COUNTRY
An association of practical men working together for a common public purpose, national in its scope, yet depending in large measure upon the co-operation of the states for the success of its efforts, and having no other object in view, immediate or remote, but the improvement of the public roads of the country—such is the American Highway association. It was organized at a convention in Washington five years ago. It has no endowment. It is never included in any of the appropriation bills of congress. It does not represent any special interest. Its one purpose is to make straight the paths of the people. It depends for its support upon the annual dues of its members. Its policies are summed up in this faithful saying: "An indispensable union of 'industrious states' bound together by a great system of improved public highways, built of the best available materials on scientific lines under the most capable supervision with definite objectives. What it aims at is the common good—good roads for all; making easy the ways to market, opening new and better highways for the postal service, bringing sparsely settled neighborhoods together for the cultivation of all the arts of peace and at the same time providing precautionary avenues for necessities of war, if war, unhappily, should come."
There were in the United States last year 2,240,000 miles of public roads, only 10 per cent. of which are classified as "improved roads." Last year the expenditures on account of road construction, including the estimated value of convict labor, made by states, counties, townships and districts aggregated about $235,000,000. Ten years ago the expenditures on these roads amounted to approximately $75,000,000 and the difference between these two sums shows that there has been a great advance in the demand for improved public highways. But with 90 per cent. of the roads of the country over which the people travel and do business, unimproved, it is clearly seen that the surface has scarcely been scratched. In the German empire, in Europe, which covers less territory than the single American state of Texas, there are 36,000 miles of state road and in Prussia alone, the annual expenditure on the public roads amounts to $35,000,000. In England and Wales, there are 160,000 miles of public roads, of which 27,326 miles are what are called "main roads" and 123,672 miles are included under the designation "other than main roads." Five years ago the local authorities in England and Wales expended on these roads no less than $125,000,000. In Florida, according to the latest available information, there are 1752 miles of what are called "improved roads." However odious comparisons may be, they are very useful at times to show how far behind the rest of the civilized world the United States is in taking care of the most important economic problem with which they must deal if the immense resources of the country are to be developed.
Of cost and materials, of construction and maintenance, of country life and country roads, of marketing facilities and practical economies that can be secured only by the building of good roads, there is a wealth of information and suggestion that will be given in these articles so that the people may understand fully the great purpose of the American Highway association.

MAY LOSE SIGHT OF EYE
ARMAND GIARD OF WARE PLAYED WITH DYNAMITE CAPS—EXPLOSION BLEW OFF FINGERS
WARE, Nov. 19.—Armand Giard, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jean Giard of Walnut street, was playing with a dynamite percussion cap and a toy pistol yesterday, when the cap exploded and blew off the index finger and a portion of the thumb of his left hand and made a gash in his nose. A portion of the metal of the cap pistol punctured his left eye, which he may lose the sight of.
Dr. Louis E. Dionne took the boy to Ware hospital and summoned Dr. Harry D. Gaffney to assist him in amputating the finger and thumb. Antitetanus toxin was injected to prevent lockjaw.

DIPHTHERIA IN DANVERS
DANVERS, Nov. 19.—The ninth grade of the Maple Street school of this town was closed by the advice of the board of health after it had become known that several children of the school had been stricken with diphtheria, and it is feared that it will be necessary to close the Maple Street and Charter Street schools if the epidemic should spread.
The four pupils stricken are Philip Kirby and Margaret Kirby, children of Henry P. Kirby, a prominent Danvers merchant, and Sidney Rapkin, son of Samuel Rapkin, a local tailor, and Alice Durkee. It is feared that several other children may be affected, as they are complaining of sore throats.

BOY DRILLS IN SCHOOLS
AMSTERDAM, Nov. 19.—Bomb drill, consisting of exercises of an elementary sort designed to instruct children how to act in the event of a raid by hostile aeroplanes, has been adopted in all the public schools of Baden, Alsace and Lorraine, Prussia.
Travelers from Germany state that in both Baden and Alsace a number of children were recently severely injured in the scramble to leave the school buildings during the recent raids. At Offenburg the annual general council of mayors of Baden cities had just opened its sessions in the city hall when five alarms and sirens announced the approach of a squadron of French aeroplanes. The mayors adjourned to the roof of the building until the danger was over.

man citizenship when he accepted in 1909 a pension from the University of Munich. He is 35 years old.
English friends of Dr. Wells describe him as thoroughly British in sympathies and feeling. MANY BULGARIAN DESERTERS
LONDON, Nov. 19.—Bulgarian deserters arrived in such numbers in Rumania after Bulgaria's entry in the war that the Rumanian government was considerably embarrassed as to what to do with them, says the Bucharest correspondent of the near east. At Calafat no less than 800 Bulgarians in full equipment crossed the river, and large and small parties arrived at other points in Rumania. Their excuse for deserting was that they did not wish to fight Russia. Bulgarian reservists in Rumania left the country at the call for mobilization with apparent reluctance, while the Greeks responded enthusiastically to their own call. Processions composed both of Greeks and Rumanians accompanied the Greek reservists to the train, with patriotic songs in it.
It is expected that the projected work will contribute toward business relations.
1914 YEAR OF THE TIGER
LONDON, Nov. 19.—The year 1914, says a British consular report from Japan, just issued, was, according to the old Japanese system of reckoning, the Year of the Tiger, and in conformity with Japanese superstitions should have been a year of tragedy and disaster.
To a great extent this was so, says the report. The year began with the eruption of the Sakurajima volcano in the south of Japan, in the spring, the empress dowager died, later on the disclosure of certain scandals contributed to the fall of the cabinet, in early summer the Kishida bank failed, and in August war broke out.

WHITE AT CENTER, A TOWER OF STRENGTH TO THE YALE ELEVEN

Yale is now ready for the game with Harvard at the stadium in Cambridge, Saturday. Since the Princeton contest the coaches have been drilling their charges in all branches of football, especially in kicking. Guernsey, whose toe figured in the Tigers' defeat, has been in fine form in practice, and the gridiron warriors of Harvard will have to keep their eye on this fellow. While the football experts have been singing the praises of Guernsey, Van Nostrand and Captain Wilson since the Princeton victory and one or two others, the players themselves give a whole lot of credit to White, center on the blue eleven. White's playing Saturday, while not sensational, was steady and consistent all through. The coming battle at Cambridge between Wallace and White should be worth watching.

HARVARD - YALE GAME

CRIMSON AND BLUE PLAYERS REST TODAY - FORMER AT TYNGS ISLAND

CAMBRIDGE, Nov. 19.—The Yale football team, entrenched almost within sight of the stadium, and the Harvard forces, bivouacked at Tyngs Island gave themselves up to physical rest today and tried to obtain a calm mental poise in preparation for the football classic tomorrow. Encouraged by his somewhat unexpected victory over Princeton last Saturday, Yale approached the final contest of the season with more confidence than was regarded possible ten days ago. On the other hand the Harvard backers, although recognizing the strength and resourcefulness of their opponent, were fairly certain that the Crimson would only would make it four straight wins, but would keep the Harvard goal line across which no Blue foot has scrambled in seven years, still unbreached. Experts agreed that each team possessed unusual qualities both on the offense and defense, and that the contest was of the mental equation type, one of Yale's brute strength and bulldog tenacity against a lighter Crimson eleven well trained in a deceptive and diversified attack. The kicking departments of the two teams were regarded as about on an equality, although the football on the whole seemed to feel that Mahan was a trifle the better punter and that Guernsey was somewhat surer in field goal shots.

Steadiness in the backfield and dexterity in handling punts were acknowledged to be an important factor in the coming contest. What little practice was indulged in today was almost entirely confined to placing additional rivets in these parts of the defense.

CYML FIVE WON

Defeated Holy Angels Quintet by Score of 16 to 6—Martin Star of the Game

The CYML basketball team opened its season rather auspiciously last evening by handing out a beating to the Holy Angels quintet, made up of former students at Holy Angels' college, Buffalo, N. Y. The score was 16 to 6. The attendance for the opening night was rather small, but enthusiasm among those present was not lacking and every good play was given plenty of applause. The game was fast and furious from the start, but the CYML athletes had it on their opponents in every department of play. Joe Foley, who was out of the game for the greater part of last year, appeared in a come-back role last evening, and he displayed great speed. Martin was the star performer of the game, with four baskets to his credit, while Foley and Randall came in for some good teamwork. The lineup and summary:

CYML: Holy Angels. Martin 16, Foley 4, Flynn 1, Ryan 1, Keenan 1. Summary: CYML 16, Holy Angels 6. Baskets: Martin 4, Flynn 1, Ryan 1, Keenan 1. Points on fouls: Holy Angels 2. Referee, G. F. Beane. Timer, M. Wrenn.

Y.M.C.A. HANDBALL
Play in the Y.M.C.A. monthly handball tournament started yesterday with several good matches. Five or more games will be played each week until the end of the month to complete the schedule.

The present cup holder in Class A is Dr. N. O. Provencher. Tournaments

the other day was one of the most probably knew as much about the sport as any man in the country. He did not succeed as a manager because he was too good a fellow. He was not the kind to enforce discipline and it hurt him to call a player.

Kempston, the husky fireman alley artists has lost a lot of his old time form and his rolling to date has been anything but satisfactory. In the game against the White Ways and Crescents the other night Kemp became so disgusted at his inability to hit the white sticks by rolling his regular style that he plumped them down the polished surface left-handed.

James Donahue, a cousin of Joe Donahue, the former high school star, is making good this year with the Villanova football team. He is playing one of the end positions. Regarding his ability on the gridiron a Philadelphia paper has the following to say: "Donahue has natural ability for an end, and is bound to make good. His defensive work is his best point, and the manner in which he cut down the interference is ideal. He is besides an exceptionally strong offensive player."

The basketball game scheduled for tonight at the Crescent rink has been postponed to Wednesday night when Miah Murray's White Bears of Boston will be the drawing card. The lineup of the Lowell team has not yet been arranged.

CRESCENTS WIN AGAIN

RUID STREET TEAM HANDED LAWRENCE HOWLERS A BEATING LAST NIGHT—MARTIN HIGH MAN

A bowling aggregation known as the Lawrence English Social club came to Lowell last night and matched its skill against the strong Crescent team which is at the present time topping the City league standing. The Crescents were in good form and not a member of the team was pushed very hard. The game was won by the Crescent high man of the evening with a three string total of 238.

A match game in the Crescent league between the Crescent and the Lawrence English Social club resulted in a win for the Crescent team. Powers, with 237, rolled the best total in the game. The scores:

TIM MURKANE APPOINTED
Named a Member of Committee to Consider the Merger Proposition—Opposed to Plan

The merger proposition is now officially in the hands of a committee of three, which body shall have final say in the matter. What they decide goes to the committee of Edward L. Farrer, president of the International League; T. H. Murnane, president of the New England league, and John H. Farrell, secretary of the national association. The International has been known to be after Hartford and Springfield and those same cities are wanted also by the New England league as a part of the merger proposition.

If Barrows holds out for the International and Murnane for the New England, Farrell will decide. Murnane, however, is publicly opposed to the

British Execute 24 Hindus at Lahore—Germans Blamed

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Mail advices reaching Washington yesterday from India told of the execution of 24 Hindus and the sentence of 27 others to servitude for life by a governmental commission at Lahore, and described activities against the British government among certain elements in the Indian population more extensive than has been officially admitted.

According to the reports the Lahore affair was only one of several that recently have been brought to an issue in India. With similar results, all the prosecutions being based upon charges of anarchy, mutiny and insubordination.

The native press, while speaking of the loyalty with which India has responded to the call by the British government upon the natives for military service, also has referred in terms of condemnation to the activities of the disaffected elements in the population, which in some quarters are ascribed to German machinations.

The general tendency, however, is to credit the mutinous agitation to work of a few conspirators alleged to have been located on the Pacific slope of America for several years and actively engaged in a propaganda campaign. These conspirators are declared to have been stirring up antagonism to the British rule there.

The most disquieting feature of the situation, according to the reports, is the uncertainty of the extent to which the native troops have been tampered with. In the Punjab and in Bengal, between the middle of June and the middle of September, 17 Indian cavalrymen were sentenced to death for mutiny, making bombs and cutting wires, and 71 others were convicted of other offenses.

ENGLISH STOCKS SUFFER

LONDON, Nov. 19.—Among English stocks which have suffered as regards price quotations during the past few months must be included the shares of all the big London banks. These stocks have always been considered investments of the most conservative nature, and the quotations for the important banks were frequently four or five times their par value, showing a net return to the investor of between four and five per cent. On a basis of present stock exchange prices, however, the average yield of stocks of the ten biggest English banks is 6.75 per cent. The par value of English bank stocks varies widely. The stock in the biggest bank has a paid-up par value of only $12.50 per share; this stock is now quoted at $37.50 a share, at which price it yields the investor six per cent. Other good bank stocks have a paid-up value of from $20 to $75 and are quoted at $41 to $160.

To some extent the fall in prices of these stocks is due perhaps to apprehension of lower dividends resulting from depreciation in gilt-edged securities held by the banks, but a more potent influence has been the fact that large offerings of bank stock from closing up of estates have come upon narrow and even unwilling markets.

Best time at Associate hall tonight.

EAT A SQUARE MEAL AND NOT FEAR INDIGESTION

There are hundreds of people in Lowell who were not the least bit surprised when they read a while ago that druggists are now selling M-O-N-A on a guarantee to refund the money in case it did not relieve. This remarkable remedy has proved it will relieve the worst case of indigestion, headache, dizziness, or the general played-out condition that afflicts every one suffering with stomach trouble. M-O-N-A does not simply relieve, it cures.

There is hardly a druggist but can tell you of many well-known people in this city who this remedy has restored to health, often after they have tried many other methods of treatment with little or no benefit. We really believe no other dyspepsia remedy has made so large a percentage of cures as M-O-N-A. It is so large that the price of a pleasant customer, and there are hundreds today grateful to M-O-N-A because it has done for them what it is advertised to do. A few months ago, when they could eat nothing without wondering what the remedy was, they are now eating heartily and happily.

Labor Commissioner Davie Makes Public His Report

CONCORD, N. H., November 19.—Labor Commissioner John S. B. Davie has made public his report on the strike of the employees at the factories in Nashua of the Nashua and Jackson Manufacturing companies. The commissioner says, in summing up that he "secured the consent of one party to arbitrate, which the other party rejected, and the consent of one party to mediate, which the other party rejected." He is of the opinion that he can go no further until both parties have agreed to one or the other of the proposed plans. Either the arbitration or mediation plan would bring permanent industrial peace, in the opinion of Mr. Davie.

FRENCH OFFICIAL REPORT

PARIS, Nov. 19, 2:30 p. m.—There has been spirited fighting in Alsace, accompanied by the throwing of hand grenades, according to the announcement given out this afternoon by the French war office.

Eight German aviators, flying over Lunéville were pursued by French aviators. Five of them were driven away, but the others succeeded in throwing down several bombs. Three persons were wounded.

The text of the communication follows:

"In Alsace, on the plateau of Unterholz and at Hartmannsweilerkopf, there has been very spirited fighting, accompanied by activity from the trench guns as well as the throwing of hand grenades. On the remainder of the front last night passed without incident.

"Eight German aviators endeavored yesterday to fly over Lunéville. French aviators went up in pursuit, and five of the Germans were deflected from their objective. The remaining three threw down a number of bombs on the town. These missiles wounded three persons. The material damage inflicted was unimportant."

TURKISH REPORT SUCCESS

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 16, via London, Nov. 19.—(Delayed in transmission)—An official statement issued at the Turkish war office says:

"On Nov. 14, the enemy fired thousands of shells against our left wing near Anafarta and Seddul Bahr without important damage. On the 15th the enemy similarly bombarded our right wing and advanced positions in the center with land and naval guns for five hours. In the meantime the enemy delivered an attack. The left wing of one of our center regiments was driven back some distance. When the enemy attempted to attack the front of another regiment he reached its advanced trenches but by cross fire and counter attacks was repulsed from these trenches to his former positions suffering heavy losses.

"In the Caucasus on the Vialk front we brought down and captured undamaged a second enemy aeroplane. The front of our right wing enemy vessel was sunk with its crew.

"Arab volunteers destroyed enemy telegraph lines by a surprise attack on a hostile camp.

ITALIAN WAR REPORT

ROME, Nov. 18, via Paris, Nov. 19.—Continuation of the desperate and long continued struggle for Gorizia is recounted in an official statement issued today at the headquarters of the Italian general staff. The communication follows:

"During all of yesterday there was an intense artillery action on both sides. The enemy's guns were particularly active in the Gorizia zone. We have seen that from the suburbs and even from the center of the town shots of all calibers are being fired against our positions.

417 DEER SHOT

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—When the office of the fish and game commission closed at 5 yesterday afternoon 417 deer had been reported killed during the first three days of the open season in Massachusetts. These included 244 bucks and 173 does. Five others were reported wounded. Last year more than 500 deer were slain during the season.

The smallest animal reported slain so far this season was a 75-pound doe, which was shot by Edward Miller in Colrain, Franklin county. Three deer weighing 300 pounds each, were reported slain. One of these, shot in Washington, Berkshire County by Walter G. Briggs, had a set of eight-pound antlers.

THE SPELLBINDER

Mayor Murphy's attacks upon the proprietor of The Sun relative to the latter's taxes appear to have given Jackson Palmer an opportunity that he has been seeking, to get after the assessors, and the took advantage of it in his speeches last evening.

As a sort of preamble to his remarks, Mr. Palmer stated that he was not fighting for The Sun and that he had nothing in common with it, politically. He then referred to a statement which Mayor Murphy made concerning the proprietor of The Sun at a board of trade meeting to which the latter referred with a challenge to give $1000 to any charity if Mayor Murphy could prove his statement. Mayor Murphy, he said, never took up the challenge because his remarks were only "a Murphy story."

Referring to Mayor Murphy's statement as to the dodging of taxes, Mr. Palmer said: "When Mayor Murphy first made that statement Monday night I immediately asked him why if he had known this for two years he had not removed the assessors. I called attention to the fact also, that when it was put up to him a year ago to remove them he declined, and I have stated the reason why.

"But when I asked him why he did not remove the assessors Mayor Murphy went up to the Highlands and stated that he had only known about the matter four or five weeks when a gentleman suggested to him that he look into the matter of the tax bill paid by The Sun's proprietor.

"This, like the board of trade matter, is only a Murphy story and I'll show you why it is.

"Over one year ago a newspaper made this same tax dodging charge and as a result has been sued for libel by the proprietor of The Sun. The suit was brought over a year ago. Dennis J. Murphy, the mayor, is counsel of record for the paper thus sued. One of the libel charges against the paper, contained in the plaintiff's declaration was that it had made that charge relative to the plaintiff's taxes and Mayor Murphy as the defendant's counsel made answer to that particular charge and hence has known about it for over one year.

"I have made charges and claims against the present board of assessors but I haven't dared at any time to make the charge that Mayor Murphy now brings against them, nor did I charge that they have violated the statutes by furnishing the secret records of their office to be used for campaign purposes."

Mr. Palmer then spoke of the unprotected waterways and called attention to the fact that it is always the children of the poor people, the working people who are drowned. "You never hear of the children of mill agents or capitalists being drowned in these places," said Jackson.

It is a very significant fact that on all the charges and challenges that Jackson Palmer has put up to Mayor Murphy since he started speaking in public and has sidestepped and dodged them all, without referring to, replying to, or denying any of them.

Palmer Sang a Little

After making several speeches Jackson Palmer wound up the evening with a hymn of the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen, in Odd Fellows building where he sang a couple of songs. The spirit was willing but the "pipes" were a trifle hoarse.

Brown's Big Issue

Between Jackson Palmer and Geo. H. Brown, the Locks & Canals company may yet have a "hot time." Mr. Palmer is now to have them pay more than they have to at present, claiming that while they have considerably over a million dollars' worth of property in Lowell, they are assessed for less than the Highland building. Mr. Brown speaking at Broadway and Williston street came out in favor of the municipal ownership of heat, light and power plants, and that the city can generate its electricity from its water power now monopolized by the Locks & Canals company. If the Locks & Canals balk on sharing with the city then he will invoke the aid of the legislature to put the screws on the Locks & Canals company. He stated that under municipal ownership, the water lights would cost about half what the city is paying for them at the present time. He further stated that during his last term in office he presented this plan and that Mayor Murphy and Commissioners Morse and Carmichael turned him down. He stated that they even declined to visit the city of Holyoke and investigate for the water lights, claiming that the city of Holyoke is operating with success under this system.

O'Donnell on High School

Messrs. O'Donnell, Thompson and Palmer were around town last evening making speeches while Mayor Murphy was elsewhere engaged. Mr. Palmer scored Mayor Murphy for not removing the assessors as above mentioned. Mr. Thompson repeated his remarks about the introduction of the merit system at city hall.

Mr. O'Donnell, at Broadway and Williston street and in Centralville discussed the High School proposition. He called attention to the great haste of Mayor Murphy to seize that Kirk street site, rushing through an appropriation of $150,000 which by no means represents the entire cost of the property, and the taking action upon it without taking the public into his confidence and before he had any definite plans relative to the kind of building to be constructed, and promising settlements that cannot be carried out. The seizure of a site for such an important project should be gone into with great care and deliberation and in full view of the public which is also vitally interested, for it is important not only that the best site for the money be obtained, but also that the least valuable taxable property be taken. In this case, without investigating other available sites, some very valuable property has been lost to the assessors. Mr. O'Donnell then criticized the site selected, stating that if the city is going to erect a $700,000 high school it should erect it on a site that would provide for an adequate approach to it.

Thompson Making Gains

There isn't any doubt that Perry O. Thompson's stock has taken a big boom within the past few days, especially when he convinced his doubtful supporters that he meant business, by going on the stump. There is a flocking of Murphy Republicans to Thompson not only at the Tammany yesterday Mr. Thompson explained the great non-partisan reform in the appointment of evening school teachers that he brought about when a member of the school board and argued that the merit system should prevail, rather than the political system which has been the rule in all departments of the city's business, and promised to bring about this reform at city hall. If elected, former Mayor O'Donnell, who spoke after Mr. Thompson yesterday noon, complimented Mr. Thompson on his address and said: "No doubt some day Mr. Thompson will be mayor and he is a credit to all departments of the city."

Mutiny of Indian Troops

Newspaper despatches from Constantinople by way of Berlin declare that a mutiny of Indian troops has checked the British advance on Baghdad at Kut, 105 miles southeast of the objective point.

LITTLE HOPE THAT MONASTIR WILL ESCAPE THE BULGARIANS

LONDON, Nov. 19.—The fate of Monastir is not yet known definitely but there is little hope in England that it will escape the Bulgarians. There is a possibility, however, that the invaders will not dare to make such an extension of their line with the French apparently established solidly on their flank.

Left in the dark as to the actual progress of the Anglo-French campaign in the near east the British public can only hope the enterprising will soon have such strong forces there that they will enable the harassed Serbians to make a successful stand and preserve a small portion of their country, as the Belgians did along the Yser. Some substance is given to this hope by a recent news item that the Anglo-French force is now assuming formidable proportions, as well as by hints that Italy is on the verge of actual participation in the Balkan campaign.

Retreat of Serbians

The retreat of the Serbians towards the Albanian border is causing increased uneasiness at Athens, but the developments there are interpreted as being not unfavorable to the entente powers.

War Council Reticent

The British war council has returned from Paris without giving any intimation of the outcome of its deliberations with the French committee but the public is convinced closer unity will prevail hereafter in the operations of the allied armies and fleets.

German Attack Repulsed

Little news comes from the eastern front, in addition to the reports that a German attack south of Riga has been repulsed and that Austro-German attempts to cross the Styrian river in Galicia have been resumed.

FEATURES OF LAST NIGHT'S WAR NEWS IN BRIEF FORM

Kitchener decides on powerful offensive both on Dardanelles and in Balkans.

British capture Turkish trenches in Gallipoli by storm.

Germans join Bulgarians in drive on Monastir, held by British garrison.

Italy to take vigorous part in Balkan war.

French guns silence German batteries and destroy port south of the Somme.

FOR ALDERMAN

There has been considerable discussion relative to primary possibilities, as to the strength of the French-American vote, and it has been variously estimated at between 2000 and 2500. Mignault's supporters claim that there are over 2500 French voters in the city, which include both democrats and republicans, in national and state politics, for there are some consistent French democrats in Lowell, despite the popular impression that all are republicans.

There isn't any doubt that Perry O. Thompson's stock has taken a big boom within the past few days, especially when he convinced his doubtful supporters that he meant business, by going on the stump. There is a flocking of Murphy Republicans to Thompson not only at the Tammany yesterday Mr. Thompson explained the great non-partisan reform in the appointment of evening school teachers that he brought about when a member of the school board and argued that the merit system should prevail, rather than the political system which has been the rule in all departments of the city's business, and promised to bring about this reform at city hall. ### GERMAN WAR REPORT

BERLIN, Nov. 19, (By wireless to Sayville, N. Y.)—The capture of 5000 Serbians was announced by the war office today.

The text of today's German official statement by army headquarters on military operations is as follows:

"The Western theatre of war: There have been artillery duels and shelling warfare in and near the Argonne and in the Vosges.

"A German aeroplane squadron attacked a British troop encampment west of Poperinghe.

"Eastern theatre of war: There is nothing to report.

MAN UNCONSCIOUS AT ST. JOHN'S HOSPITAL

Assault at Cartridge Plant a Dangerous One—Assailant Ordered to Pay Fine of $40

Pleading guilty to a complaint charging him with assault and battery on Philip Byroski at the plant of the United States Cartridge Co. last night, Thomas Bagley was ordered to pay a fine of $40 by Judge Durlight in the local police court this forenoon. He appeared and was held in $200 surety for the superior court.

The complaint was signed by Martin Conway, chief of the cartridge company's police force. The assault occurred at the South Lowell plant. Byroski was about to ring in on the time clock. Bagley said that Bagley approached him and without any provocation struck him in the eye. When the victim asked why he was struck, he alleged Bagley followed with another blow which knocked the man senseless.

The special officers were notified and Byroski was taken to St. John's hospital, where he remained unconscious for some time. At first it was believed that the blow over the temple had caused a concussion of the brain and Byroski's recovery was in doubt but early this morning he showed a great improvement and was able to leave the hospital in time to appear in court.

When Bagley was asked why he assaulted the man he replied that there was no hard feeling and he hit the man only in fun. "It is fortunate for you that your feeling did not end more seriously," remarked the court, "I have a good mind to send you to the house of correction." It was finally agreed to impose a $40 fine.

Larceny of Robes

For the larceny of two robes from automobiles which were lined up in front of the Kasino while their occupants were viewing the industrial exposition, Samuel Sharrow, was committed to the house of correction for six months. On Wednesday Sharrow visited the spot and despite the efforts of the special police in the vicinity successfully disappeared with a heavy robe stolen from the automobile of Ernest F. Byorkman. Yesterday, however, the police were on the watch as a result of being notified of the theft on Wednesday and Sharrow was arrested with a robe belonging to Justin N. Dows. He was refused another chance this forenoon.

CITY HALL NOTES

The John Pilling Shoe company has been granted a permit to build a storehouse at an estimated cost of $7500, in Shaffer street. The building will be of brick, two stories in height and 115 feet long by 15 feet wide. The foundation will be of concrete and the many things enumerated in the permit includes pent house for elevators, sprinkler system, etc. It was stated today that the Pilling company is contemplating the erection of another new building as large, if not larger, than the one here-in described.

Fine New Dwelling

George H. Dana will build a fine residence at 304 Andover street. Mr. Dana is proprietor of the auto station in East Merrimack street. The building will be 2 1/2 stories and the estimated cost is $6000. The building will be 41 by 30 feet and will contain 3 rooms, recreation hall, sewing room, bath, pantries, etc.

HILLSTROM SHOT TO DEATH

I. W. W. Leader Was Convicted of Murder of J. C. Morrison and Son—Died Protesting His Innocence, After Fierce Battle With Guards—Last Words "Fire, Let Her Go"

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 19.—Joseph Hillstrom, condemned murderer, whose case attracted attention throughout the country and prompted the intervention of President Wilson, the Swedish minister to the United States and the American Federation of Labor, was put to death by a firing squad in the state prison here at 7:42 a. m. today. His death was instantaneous.

When Gov. Spry declined to grant Hillstrom, who was found guilty of murdering J. C. Morrison and his son, spent last night in his cell at the state prison under the eyes of the death watch which was placed over him yesterday President Wilson's request for a reconsideration of the case. Hillstrom declined to see a minister.

Protested His Innocence

Although he continued to protest that he could prove his innocence if granted a new trial, Hillstrom remained silent about how he received a bullet wound, or where he was the night Morrison, of whose murder he was convicted, was shot and killed at his grocery in Salt Lake City. "It's nobody's business where I got the wound," Hillstrom said. "It is only public curiosity that wants to know that. I am not here to gratify public curiosity."

The Industrial Workers of the World of which Hillstrom was a member, held a meeting at their hall and another in the streets last night. Attendance was not larger than usual and the remarks of the speakers were mild.

A chair for Hillstrom had been placed against the inner wall of the

Teutons Take 5000 Serbs—Kitchener Meets Gen. Sarrail—German and French Air Battle

Venice again has been subjected to bombardment by an Austrian airplane squadron, Vienna announces. The official report states that bombs were successfully dropped on forts in the suburbs, the arsenal, the aviation station and barracks, as well as on the gas works and railway station. All the raiding units returned safely.

Tentons Capture 5000 Serbs

In pressing their pursuit of the Serbians the Teutonic allies have captured 5000 additional prisoners, Berlin announces.

50,000 Bulgars Against 50,000 Serbs

Athens despatches estimate that more than 50,000 Bulgarians are facing 50,000 Serbians in the Monastir region in south Serbia. The Serbian forces, which have evacuated Prilep following their enforced abandonment of Babuna Pass, are expected to retire to the heights between Prilep and Monastir and eventually retreat towards Albania, the advices state.

Rumanian Decision Expected

In the face of the concentration of both Austrian and Russian forces on the Rumanian frontier, Rumania is expected to reach a decision regarding her future attitude towards the two groups of belligerents, according to a Bucharest despatch to Rome.

German Raid on British Camp

An attack by a German airplane squadron on a British camp near Poperinghe, six miles from Ypres, Belgium, is reported by the Berlin war office.

Italian Pressing Campaign

ROBBED OF $125

Slick Flim Flam Game Played on Branch St. Today

Hyman Snider, a cobbler at 39 Branch street, is wondering why out of 110,000 people a couple of slick looking strangers picked him out to work an old flim flam game. Snider is also minus $125 in money, a lady's gold watch, chain and bracelet valued at over $100.

First one came looking for a jewelry store and then another to sell valuable jewels which the first vendor bought. On pretence of having leased a store nearby he got the cobbler to loan him the money and other valuables to land the bargain until he went to Lyden to get his cash. Both left and never returned.

TWO BRITISH WARSHIPS SUNK BY THE GERMANS

Berlin Reports Gunboats Torpedoed in Mediterranean off the Egyptian Coast

BERLIN, Nov. 19, via London, 5:37 p. m.—Two British gunboats have been sunk in the Mediterranean off the Egyptian coast by a German submarine. Official announcement to this effect was made by the admiralty today.

A British auxiliary cruiser also was put out of action. The statement follows:

"A submarine on Nov. 6, in Sollum harbor, destroyed by gunfire two Anglo-Egyptian gunboats, the Prince Abbas and the Abdul Menen, each of which was armed with two guns. The same submarine silenced with its fire an armed British merchant steamer and captured its gun."

"One of our submarines on Nov. 5, on the North African coast sank by a torpedo the British auxiliary cruiser two Egyptian gunboats, Abdel Mo-naym and Abbas, which probably are the warships referred to in the German announcement. The Abdel Mo-naym, 538 tons, was built in 1902. The Abbas, 298 tons, was built in 1891, and according to the latest naval records, was armed with one 3-pound gun.

The Gulf of Sollum is on the north coast of Africa, at the boundary between Egypt and Tripoli.

STEAMER NAMED TARA

LONDON, Nov. 19, 6:04 p. m.—There is no British steamship named Tara. The auxiliary cruiser referred to in the official German statement apparently is the small craft Tara. An official British report on Nov. 8, said the Tara, an armed boarding steamer, had been sunk in the Mediterranean by a German submarine, and that 34 men were missing.

Naval records contain the names of

Great Britain, France and Russia United in Effort to Add China to Entente Alliance

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Great Britain, France and Russia have united in an effort to add China to the entente alliance in order to prevent possible friction in the future between Japan and China and to preserve the peace of the far east. If China agrees to the plan, military participation in the present war is not expected.

Negotiations thus far are in a conversational stage at Peking with no indications as to China's attitude. Although the United States is being

BRIGGS JAILED

Father's Plea to Go to Jail in Son's Place Refused by Judge

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—The plea of a father that he might serve a prison sentence for his son; the son's appeal for mercy for the sake of his children, and the evident regret of Judge Fox in imposing sentence on the young man, furnished yesterday one of the most affecting scenes ever witnessed at the Suffolk court house.

The proceedings did not last more than 10 minutes. The case was that of Osborn F. Briggs, upon whom Judge Fox pronounced sentence to three months in the Charles street jail for contempt of court in attempting to influence a juror in a suit to which his father was a party. The sentence is not subject to appeal.

Frederick L. Briggs, the father, is secretary of the state board of registration in Anabaptism. In the suit where the alleged tampering occurred, he was defendant, and a verdict was given in his favor. Arthur G. Bracey, a member of the panel that decided the case, is the man young Briggs was charged with attempting to influence. Bracey's sister, a telephone girl, is said to have been responsible for the case being brought into court, for it is said that she told some of her associates and that one of these was a friend of the plaintiff in the suit.

In pronouncing sentence upon Briggs, Judge Fox said:

"I find that so much of the complaint as charges Osborn F. Briggs did call at the residence of Arthur F. Bracey, the juror, and did wilfully and corruptly approach his brother, Herbert L. Bracey, to influence Arthur G. Bracey, is sustained by the evidence.

"In fixing sentence I have regard for the fact that the respondent Briggs has borne a good reputation, but on the other hand, attempts of this kind are most dangerous to the integrity of the courts and all men should be made to see that no attempt to approach a juror, whether directly or indirectly, can be made with impunity. The respondent, Osborn F. Briggs, is adjudged to be in contempt of court, and is to be sentenced to the county jail for the term of three months."

The elder Briggs was then given permission to address the court. He told Judge Fox that Osborn is his only child, and that the young man had never given him a moment's uneasiness. Hundreds of citizens would testify to his good reputation, he said. Young Briggs has a wife and five children, and his father says that all his evenings are spent with them.

"I ask you honor," said Mr. Briggs, "to consider the life my boy has led, and if you can conscientiously do so, not to let him go out of this court room with the stigma of a criminal. I will pledge my word that nothing ever will occur again that the courts will have cause to complain of. It is a serious situation for my five grandchildren just at the season of Thanksgiving and Christmas.

"I would like to have you take me instead of the boy. I am well along in years and have done my work in the vineyard and perhaps punishment will not bring harm to me. Punish me, if your honor can, for what he did. I pledge you my word he will do nothing again."

Young Briggs, in addressing Judge Fox, said:

"Your honor, I realize that you must perform your duty. I shouldn't have done what I did if I had for a moment thought it was wrong. I have five little children, and to send me to jail will put a smudge upon them. I have been suffering terribly. I ask you, sir, to consider your decision. You will blight my future. Little children already have spoken to my children about what they have seen in the papers. I hope Your Honor will reconsider."

Judge Fox said that if he were satisfied that this would be the best offense of this kind he would not punish the defendant. It was known to the courts that efforts were made to influence jurors, he said, but he hoped it is not as bad as had sometimes been represented. The punishment inflicted upon the defendant was solely for the purpose of deterring others in the future, he declared, and under all the circumstances he felt that the sentence must stand.

WAS CHAPLAIN WITH ADMIRAL DWEY IN BATTLE OF MANILA BAY

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The Rev. Fr. William Henry Ironside Reaney, chaplain in the United States navy, who was with Admiral Dewey in the battle of Manila bay, died in a hospital here last night of acute stomach trouble. Fr. Reaney held the rank of captain, the highest obtainable by a naval chaplain. He was born in 1863 when his father was commander of the battleship Ironclad. At the request of the crew his father included Ironside in his name. Fr. Reaney was appointed chaplain in 1892, and had been stationed at the Brooklyn navy yard for several years. He was chaplain of the United Spanish War Veterans.

THE FRENCH MAID SAYS:

HOW TO MAKE A PIN CUSHION

"I wish I knew how to embroider a comfortable Marie, and I think I can pin cushion," said Marjory. "I don't suggest and tell you how to make some know how to start or what stitch to use and think of the many other pretty things I could make too, if I knew how to embroider."

"You could do it all right I am sure,"

Marjory said. The flower design is well fitted to a boudoir or bedroom of blue. It is made from two oblong pieces, the back piece being larger in length, width, and scallops than the top piece. The scallops, which are buttonholed, look well embroidered in blue, as do also the solid dots in the corners and the eyelets through which the facing ribbon runs. The flowers are worked in blue with yellow centers and the vines and leaves are worked in quite a pale green. Mercerized thread or silk may be used.

"Another attractive cushion is that with the more formal design of knotted wild roses. The flower design is virtually the same as the other but the color changes the whole appearance. Each of the five petals is composed of a single French knot of pale pink silk. The centers are single yellow French knots and the foliage is a deep green made in the lazy-daisy stitch. Cut in line stitch is used for the stems.

"The design is very quickly worked. Pale pink ribbon laces the two oblongs of the pillow together, running through white embroidered eyelets. The ribbon is wider than baby ribbon and is twisted before it is run through the eyelets. Many looped bows of the ribbon ornament each of the four corners. The ribbon should be pink but not so vivid as to overpower the shade of pink in the embroidery."

DENIES LINDSEY NEW TRIAL

Denver Juvenile Court Judge Granted 30 Days to Perfect Appeal in Contempt Case

DENVER, Nov. 19.—Ben B. Lindsey, Judge of Denver's juvenile court, yesterday was denied a new trial by Judge John Perry in district court here.

Lindsey recently was fined $500 and costs for contempt of court as a result of his refusal to divulge as a witness information imparted in a conversation with Neal Wright, aged 12, whose mother was being tried for the murder of her husband.

Judge Perry allowed the defendant 30 days in which to perfect an application to the supreme court for a writ of superseas.

A MATRIMONIAL TANGLE

With Bigamy—Married Here—
No Record Found

LYNN, Nov. 19.—A young woman who says she is Mae Pearl of Newburyport went to Lynn yesterday and set up the claim that she is the lawful wife of William E. Ray, who in August went through a marriage ceremony with Miss Madeline Cowan of Lynn. Miss Pearl asserts that she married the recent bridegroom at Lowell two years ago, and that he was known to her as Walter E. Pitchforth.

She showed several papers to prove that she is suing for divorce on the grounds of cruel and abusive treatment and desertion. She admits that he is not the type of man she first considered him, and that his chief fault is marrying in haste.

She says she lived with him as his wife for nine months before he told her that he was not divorced. He remarried her after obtaining a decree, she declares, lived with her for several months and then left.

The recent reports of his adventures led her to believe that he was her missing spouse, and she went to Lynn yesterday, hunted him up with the assistance of friends and identified him.

The last wedding ceremony was performed under what was virtually a command from Miss Cowan's father, James Cowan, a special policeman. He met them after their return from a moonlight sail and marched them up before J. Joseph Doherty, who as clerk of the Lynn district court has the power of a marrying justice. Later Mr. Cowan learned of Ray's previous marriage, and now is seeking to have the ceremony performed by Clerk Doherty annulled. At present the young woman is living with her parents.

No Record in Lowell

SHOE MAKING IN PRISON

RE-ESTABLISHMENT OF WORK IN MASSACHUSETTS REFORMATORY RECOMMENDED TO COUNCIL

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—Re-establishment of shoe making at the Massachusetts reformatory, which was discontinued a year ago as a prison industry was recommended by the state commission on economy and efficiency in a special report submitted to Gov. Walsh and the executive council today. The commission gave two reasons for its recommendation, the first being that the industry earned a substantial profit. The commission declared that this profit would have been increased materially had there not been a contract stipulating that 40 per cent and later 50 per cent of the net profit be paid to the purchase and selling agent for his services.

The fact that shoe making is a Massachusetts industry in which discharged prisoners find employment at good wages, was given as another reason.

$25,000 DAMAGE

Fire Destroyed Glass Making Plant at Rochester, N. Y.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 19.—Fire early today destroyed the glass-making plant of the Bausch & Lomb Optical Co., erected several months ago when the European war cut off the company's supply from Europe. The loss is estimated at $25,000. Early reports that the fire was of incendiary origin were denied by company officials.

WORCESTER, Nov. 19.—Edward F. Deignan, a former private detective in Worcester, who was sentenced on Feb. 10 to serve a year in the house of correction for an attempt to extort money from Judson Hall, has been pardoned by the county commissioners. The action is taken by the county commissioners on a recommendation made to them Tuesday by Dis. Atty. James A. Stiles. The pardon cuts three months off Deignan's sentence.

If you want help at home or in your business, try The Sun "Want" column.

Charles A. Cross, corner of Prichard st. and Wallace av., drove the occupants out today and before the flames were extinguished did damage estimated at $2000.

The fire was discovered by Mrs.

Cross, who smelled the smoke. Chief Murnane found that the fire had broken through the partitions of the basement and swept through Dr. Kearney's apartment. Some furniture belonging to both families was removed, but much was damaged by the smoke and water. Three rooms in the Kearney home were gutted. It is believed the fire started in some waste paper in the basement.

USE OF NEUTRAL FLAGS

BERLIN, Nov. 19.—What purports to be the frequently mentioned but never published British admiralty instructions to the masters of merchant ships regarding the use of neutral flags to escape the submarine menace, are printed by the Lokal Anzeiger in the morning edition today. The German admiralty referred to these instructions at the outset of the submarine campaign, and in the diplomatic correspondence regarding the sinking of the Lusitania.

The first of the regulations as printed by the Lokal Anzeiger is unrelated but apparently was issued at the beginning of the submarine campaign. It takes the form of a telegram from the British admiralty communicating to the ships and is given as follows:

"British shipping is instructed to maintain a sharp watch for submarines and show either the flag of a neutral country or none at all so long as the ship is in the vicinity of the British Isles. The British flag must be shown on meeting British or allied warships. House flags must not be hoisted and marks such as name and home port, must be effaced.

"Flags which should be used according to the above are the following: American, Italian, Scandinavian and Holland.

"The second document is a decree of 'Commander-in-Chief at Devonport,' British naval station, dated March 15, which reads:

"Confidential.

"Carrying neutral flag, use of false names.

"Neutral flags: Ship upon long voyage and under regular voyage about the United Kingdom shall be equipped with neutral flags if they carry a valuable cargo. The neutral flags shall be carried, according to route, as follows:

"Route Bristol channel and south-eastern part of the Irish channel, Norwegian flag or Italian flag.

"Route Liverpool, Glasgow and northern part of Irish channel, Spanish or Norwegian flag.

"Route eastern coasts of the kingdom, some Scandinavian flag, or south of Hatterpool the flag of Holland or Spain.

"Crossing the channel no flag shall be shown."

Other documents explaining the international propriety of using neutral flags or otherwise disguising ships and using the shelter of the neutral zone mile zone bear less directly upon the subject.

BIG RUSH FOR TICKETS

TICKETS FOR THE INDUSTRIAL SHOW HAVE BEEN USED TWICE OVER

The rush at the industrial show of Lowell-made goods which is being conducted at the Casino in Thordike street under the auspices of the Lowell board of trade, has been so great that the officials of the show have had tickets printed twice, but this did not suffice, and finally a new scheme was adopted, and that was to send the tickets that were taken up at the show, to the board of trade and after the signature of Secretary John H. Murphy had been placed on them they were again given out.

Tonight will be the last opportunity offered the public of Lowell to visit Lowell's greatest exhibition of Lowell-made goods free of charge, and those who intend to take in the show may call at the board of trade office for tickets before 6 o'clock.

KILLED FINE BECK

Berry Simpson, Centralville's greatest fisher and hunter killed a fine buck near the old nickel mine on the Lawrence road, near Varnum's landing, yesterday. The deer weighed over 200 pounds and had a fine head. It was the first deer to be killed in the immediate vicinity this season and Berry feels pretty good about it. Mr. Simpson has a crack shot and he never yet has failed to get his share of game, big or small, in the proper seasons. He is one of Lowell's best known sportsmen.

SEEK CHINA'S AID

tals are refraining from participation. This sensational turn in far eastern affairs on the eve of the proposed change by China from a republic to a monarchy has been the confidential exchanges between the allied powers during the last week, but only became known here today.

Japan, so far as is known, has not yet been consulted, and if that government knows of the plans unofficially, there is nothing here to indicate what its attitude will be.

This latest step by Great Britain, France and Russia is understood here to have been considered essential to permanently safeguard the interests of the allies. The impending change in China's form of government has rendered the situation somewhat acute. Fear of revolution in China and the possibility of Japanese interference to reserve peace has attracted wide attention among the European diplomats.

By joining the entente alliance none of China's operations could affect the course of the war in Europe, but the move would effectively guarantee Japanese abstention from interference in China. Japan's attitude is not clear as yet, but two possibilities are considered here as plausible: First, that Japan will join in the movement on the theory that her paramount interests in China will not suffer any abridgment through the future actions of the allies, or, second, that Japan will remain aloof from any present viewling even the future entrance of China as an ally as not affecting Japan's right to independent action in the far east wherever her interests are affected.

Some Chinese diplomats are believed here to be inclined very favorably toward the move as insuring the integrity of China beyond question and stabilizing the national government.

None of the communications that have passed on the situation indicate that the allies have any hope that President Yuan Shi Kai will abandon his plan to establish a monarchy. In fact, the indication is that efforts to add China to the allies resulted largely from the supposition that the change in government was inevitable and that it was the duty of the allied powers, in order to prevent possible complications between Japan and China, to get definitely at this time. The assurance from Peking that the monarchy will not be established immediately is being interpreted, therefore, by various observers as a development growing out of a knowledge of the plans of the European allies to bring about a new understanding on far eastern questions.

The inner detail of the situation has not been revealed but the attention of the British, French and Russian colonies in the far east has been attracted by reports of the English treaty at Kanton afforded Chinese diplomats at Kanton and the words of admiration for the German armies frequently spoken in Japanese newspapers of high standing, as well as occasional adverse references to the Anglo-Japanese alliance.

It is known that the German minister at Peking, recently pointed out to the Chinese foreign office that in the event that China changed her form of government she might not obtain the recognition of the powers, and without this recognition she could not very well be taken care of diplomatically in the peace conference that will end the European war.

It is thought in some quarters here that the idea of joining China to the entente alliance may have appealed to Great Britain and Russia particularly because of the presence of German propaganda being carried on from China to disturb India and Persia.

Comment was withheld by American officials here today. It was declared that confidential affairs relating to the activities of the belligerents would not be a proper subject for discussion. At the various legations and embassies where the general outlines of the plan of the allies are known, there was a similar reticence because of the incomplete character of the negotiations.

THE HARVARD SQUAD

ATHLETES WITH COACHES, TRAINERS AND STUDENT SUPPORTERS ARE RESTING AT TYNG'S ISLAND

About 35 members of the Harvard football squad attended by student admirers, coaches and trainers, arrived at Tyng's island early last evening and made preparations for a homelike stay until tomorrow morning when they will journey to Cambridge to get ready for their annual struggle with the Yale bulldog. For the past few years, the Harvard team has brought prominence to the pretty little island in the Merrimack, and many of Harvard's former stars attribute their success to the short stay at the island prior to the annual big game.

The entire football contingent left Boston yesterday afternoon on the 5 o'clock express with a special car attached. When they arrived at the island they found many former football students from the Harvard institution awaiting them, and the Harvard Glee club and Harvard orchestra were also in attendance.

After a trip of inspection around the picturesque little resting place the "regulars" were coaxed from the "ordinary" fellows and were forced to pit down to local sports according to the orders of the trainers. Tea and coffee were served from the training table, and the Crimson lads were obliged to drink milk.

After supper the regulars did not mingle with any of their supporters and they wandered around the island in little groups talking over the game they played with their big rival. Shortly after 10 o'clock they gathered inside and at 5:30 o'clock every man was dreaming of the coming battle.

Meanwhile the Glee club and orchestra were dispensing delightful music in one of the lower halls, and the evening wound up about 10 o'clock in a general jollification. There were several Lowell people in attendance and they joined in the cheers and songs characteristic of college life with as much "pep" as any of the college students.

The Harvard players were up at an early hour this morning. Breakfast, consisting of cereal foods and lamb chops was first served and then they set out for the golf links.

At noon a chicken dinner was served after which the men lounged about the clubhouse, some reading and others talking over college life and the game. They will leave the island about 4 o'clock tomorrow morning for Cambridge.

This morning Capt. Mahan said he felt very confident of a victory over the Yale team. Other players were not in the least disturbed over the result, and the majority of them were discussing the margin of victory.

TALKS ON PARKS

Prominent Park Officials Heard at City Hall Yesterday

At the meeting of park superintendents, commissioners and engineers, members of the Park Institute of New England, held at city hall yesterday afternoon, Joseph J. McCaffery, supervisor of playgrounds of Providence, R. I., gave an interesting short talk on playgrounds. He said in part:

"There must be suitable apparatus in playgrounds if the children are induced to go to them," he said. "And there should be fencing about all playgrounds. The only punishment which can be meted out to a playground patron who transgresses the rules is expulsion from the grounds. Fences also serve to protect the girls and the smaller children from molestation. And the shrubbery is better protected in this way. I believe in the sand-bins as a means of engaging the attention of the smaller children. The sand sterilizes itself. I believe in swings, but am against regular gymnasium equipment because too many accidents occur when it is used. And if swings are used, they should not be the high ones. All equipment should be placed at the rim of the grounds, for the center is needed for the playing of games. The 'glam's slide' is another good piece for the older children. The smaller ones should not be allowed to use it. A slide gives a great deal of satisfaction, but it should be of wood. Steel slides are all very well until the warm weather comes, and then they get very warm, and, if scratched at all, rust. The ideal arrangement for a playground is to have it divided into three parts, one for the boys, one for the girls, and one for the smaller children. Garibaldi park, in the Italian section of Providence, is on three distinct levels, and it is considered an ideal arrangement by many. Of course this could not be done everywhere. There should be buildings and sanitaries placed on all playgrounds and it would be a good thing to have water taps on them, also, for in very hot weather it is very desirable to wet down the grounds."

Mr. Dillon of Boston

John H. Dillon, chairman of the park commission of Boston, is a great believer in parks and progressive park systems. He says that every dollar expended is returned three fold. When environment is such that tired women and sickly children of the tenement houses, during the sultry blasts of mid-summer, can go to an open space where there is green grass and pure air, and can rest there, then the original expenditure is worth a hundred times its first value, for park space and green grass and fresh air bring back to life and health many a tired mother and sickly child.

"Parks," he continued, "are not of recent origin. They date back to the times of the early Greeks and Romans and we are simply following in the footsteps of the first great civilizations. Where cities have created park systems, they are not only attractive but they save many dollars to the people in the summer months. Parks should be for the people, there should be no 'Keep off the grass' signs on them. They should be thrown wide open. Playgrounds should be open at all times. They are the greatest possible inducement to keep the boys off the streets. And I will go a step farther. More public buildings should be opened evenings, for the very same reason. It would be hard to realize what the people of the west end of Boston would do if it were not for the common. At night, in summer, the people of that district sleep there. And I cannot imagine what thousands would do if they were forced to give up the use of Franklin park. On pleasant Sundays in summer, from 75,000 to 150,000 go there, and many who go, take their meals there with them."

"The work the park superintendents of various cities are doing is very closely allied with character building. The strength of the youth is increased, stamina is built and the morals are kept right. These are the points the youth of today must have, for in a very few years they are to take our places, and they will be expected to build better than we have done. And there is no better way to increase strength and health than to provide adequate parks and playgrounds."

Cosmos club, Associate hall tonight.

Special Offering

Let me show You Worsted Fabrics and Beautiful Scotch, Melton and Novelty Overcoatings that are sold by ready-made dealers and clothiers at twice the price I ask.

It would be useless for me to spend all this money in newspaper advertising unless I could back up exactly what statements I make. I am positively exact and well informed in regard to the quality of the goods that clothing dealers are selling to the public, and it astonishes me how they do business at all alongside of the values I offer.

I have been in your city for seven years and have built up a tremendous tailoring business; my customers come back to me season after season. I want to get you on my books and I positively assure you that I'll leave nothing undone in the way of value, style, workmanship, trimmings, etc., to bring you back and make a regular customer of you.

SLEEPYTIME TALES

GRANDFATHER AND THE BEAR

"Once upon a time," began grandfather, and Beth immediately cried with delight: "Oh, going to finish the bear story," and grandmother smiled and went on: "My grandfather took the baby bear into the kitchen and gave it a big dish of honey so it would keep quiet while he examined its nose foot. So the little cub licked the honey and was very quiet and good when grandfather washed and dressed his injured foot."

"For a while the big bear outside was quiet and patient, but at last it seemed to think it was time his child came out and it began to growl in a very ferocious manner and then began to scratch on the door with its powerful paws."

"Grandfather didn't like to open the door the big bear was so frantic and yet he didn't want to keep the little one any longer, so he opened a window very quietly and dropped the cub down on to the ground. The baby ran to its mother with whining and cries and the two trotted off to the woods together."

"Not long after this grandfather was out hunting again and saw his little friend was still there around his paw."

"Didn't your grandfather ever see the bear again?" asked Beth. "No, I think not," answered grandmother. "I like bear stories," said Ned, "will you tell us another sometime?" "Perhaps," said grandmother smiling.

CHAMP CLARK IN HUB

GET READY WITHOUT HANKRUPPING THE COUNTRY. SPEAKER'S ADVICE ON PREPAREDNESS

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—"We must get our country prepared, but the preparedness must be done without hankrapping the country," declared Champ Clark, speaker of the national house of representatives, in an address before nearly 1500 members of the Boston City club and their guests last night at the cutting of the term of enlistment in the army and navy to one year; that every boy with the necessary mental and physical qualifications be given an opportunity for education at West Point or Annapolis at cost; that a drill officer be supplied to schools and colleges in the country; and that the surplus of cadets from Annapolis be put in charge of an American merchant marine.

The speaker took a little fling at ex-President Roosevelt, criticizing him in a semi-humorous way, and he attacked with much gusto a Boston newspaper for an editorial about him. During his address he swung from ridicule to sarcasm, from praise to condemnation, with varying rapidity. Taken altogether, his audience had a most entertaining hour and a half and they applauded him frequently.

At the dinner preceding Clark's address, republicans and democrats indulged in a friendly political bout. W. T. A. Fitzgerald presided and the speakers included Congressman Gallivan, the Hon. Richard Olney, Congressman Carter, Congressman Dallinger, Congressman Teague and Edmund Billings.

In the auditorium of the club, Postmaster Murray of Boston presented Mr. Clark, who started a long review of the conditions which existed in the country a century ago, as compared with today's conditions and outlook. "The chuck-rakes and the pessimists," he said, "tell us that the country is going to the dogs, that all the politicians are a bunch of crooks. It is not so. We are progressing all the time."

After reviewing the facts and figures of population and official acts of presidents and other national officers in the past century, Mr. Clark mentioned Roosevelt and said that he "liked him for two reasons." "First," he said, "I like him because he knows a little about more things than any other human being I ever laid eyes on. Secondly, because in spite of the fantastic capers which he cuts before heaven, he's an American to the core." The audience rose to its feet and cheered.

Clark then conducted a general review of the progress of the nation during the past 100 years.

"I think," he continued, "that the greatest thing that we have accomplished is this, the political influence we have in the world outside the United States. We see too much of the feeling that because liberty is a good thing it is the easiest thing in the world to get. We gave South America their chance to live with the Monroe Doctrine. Col. Roosevelt says in one of his multitudinous utterances that the president who issued that doctrine was a 'mediocre president.' Colonel Roosevelt will be lucky if he gets as important a place in American history, and earns it, as that same 'mediocre president'."

$1200 ROBBERY

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—Jewelry and furs to the value of more than $1200 were stolen yesterday afternoon from the home of Kenneth W. Faunce of 29 Kirk street, West Roxbury, during the absence of the family. The house was ransacked, and when Mrs. Faunce arrived home she found the contents of drawers and closets strewn around the house in great disorder.

The theft was reported to the police and the surroundings were inspected. No clue was secured, however, as to the identity of the thief.

Entrance was gained by means of a key to the front door which had been left in the mail box by the Faunce maid. This was left in place for the accommodation of Mrs. Faunce.

I ask in the most gentlemanly manner your vote.

THE ANCONA CASE

Italian Official Report
on Without Warning

NAPLES, Nov. 18, 10.10 p. m. (Delayed in transmission).—The official report of the investigation into the sinking of the Italian steamship Ancona by a submarine off the Tunisian coast on Nov. 7, was sent to Thomas Nelson Page, the American ambassador at Rome, tonight. The investigation reached the conclusion that the submarine fired a shell against the wireless apparatus aboard the Ancona without any warning. The captain brought the vessel immediately to a halt.

The submarine having hoisted the Austrian flag, the investigators found the Ancona was about to hoist the Italian ensign but the flag reached only half way up the mast when the submarine launched a torpedo which struck the steamer amidships.

The captain of the Ancona, the official account says, ordered the lifeboats lowered, but while this was being done the submarine continued firing against the steamer's boats. Some of the boats were pierced by shots, obliging the survivors to use their clothes to stop up the holes. In the meanwhile, it is alleged, those on board the submarine jeered at their victims.

FOURTH DEGREE K. OF C.

BUSINESS MEETING FOLLOWED BY WHIST—VOTED TO HOLD ANNUAL BANQUET IN JANUARY

Bishop Delaney assembly, fourth degree, Knights of Columbus, held an important business meeting at their club rooms last evening. It was largely attended and among other things, it was voted to hold the annual banquet of the degree early in January.

After the meeting an informal entertainment was held, members of the council participating. Progressively whist was enjoyed by 30 tables. Following were the winners: First, William F. Thornton; second, Thomas A. D. Sullivan; third, Christopher McSorley; fourth, David Gerow; consolation prize, William F. Wholey.

The committee in charge consisted of Dr. Hugh Walker, F. N. Frank Mealey and John Coyne.

AWARDED GOLD MEDAL

WILLIAM D. HOWELLS GETS PRIZE
ARTS AND LETTERS INSTITUTE

BOSTON, Nov. 18.—William Dean Howells, of New York, today was awarded the gold medal offered by the National Institute of Arts and Letters for distinguished work in the writing of fiction. Mr. Howells was not present, but a letter from him was read by Eliphalet Hitchcock, secretary of the institute, expressing his appreciation.

A medal is annually awarded for distinguished service to arts or letters, although it is stipulated that the recipient need not necessarily be a member of the organization.

New members elected by the institute were announced as follows: Chas. E. Miller, United States Senator Elihu Root, Henry Osborn Taylor, Robert I. Altken, James Earl Fraser, Hertram G. Gaudine, Brock Trowbridge, all of New York; Ernest R. Kroeger, St. Louis; Arac Oldberg, Evanston, Ill.; Gamaliel Bradford, Ellery Sedgwick and Ralph Adams Cram, of Boston.

SWEATERS FOR SWATTEES

Manager Lally Doule of this year's C.M.A. baseball team this morning received the 11 sweaters to be presented to the members of the team in recognition of their work on the diamond during the past season. The sweaters will be given to the players at the C.M.A.C. headquarters at 130 o'clock, at which time they are requested to report. The players to receive sweaters are: Guibault, LeBourgeois, Hubert, Little, Chennard, Sullivan, Salvas, Schonbon, Pouliot, Pelletier and Dragon.

FOR MURDER OF WARD

MISS ELIZABETH CANNON HELD
WITHOUT BAIL FOR THE GRAND JURY

WESTFIELD, Nov. 18.—Miss Elizabeth Cannon, charged with the murder of her ward, Lucille Thomas, at Russell, on Nov. 8, was held without bail for the Hampden county grand jury in the district court today. At a hearing on Nov. 8, she pleaded not guilty. Miss Cannon will remain in the county jail at Springfield until the grand jury acts.

BOXED 12 ROUND DRAW

DICK STOSH OF CLEVELAND SHOULD
OVER STEVE KENNEDY

At the Unity club of Lawrence last evening Dick Stosh, lightweight of Cleveland, gave Steve Kennedy quite a lacing, but the bout was called a draw. All impartial fans failed to see how Kennedy was entitled to a draw, for he was outpointed in nearly every round and Steve was not in the lead at any time. Four frames were pretty even and the rest went to the ex-amateur champion by a wide margin.

Stosh showed that he was a good two-handed battler, with a good share of science. He would make Kennedy miss, and then rip rights and lefts to the Lawrence boy's midsection. Stosh also used his left jab with telling effect and the fans were loud in their praise over the Cleveland's work.

Kennedy did not lose any friends by last night's exhibition, but gained many adherents by his plucky stand against Stosh. Steve did not fight as well as he did against Grover Hayes a few weeks ago. Kennedy showed that he has more sand than most boys, for he took everything Stosh handed out and kept plugging along throughout, although out-classed by a better man.

Joe Carroll and Harry Ah Chung boxed eight rounds to a draw in an uninteresting semi-final. This bout was slow as Ah Chung did not open up until the last two rounds and when he did it looked bad for Carroll.

CARD OF THANKS

We, the undersigned, take this means of expressing our heartfelt thanks to our many friends and acquaintances who by their floral tributes and condoling words helped to lighten the burden of sorrow caused by the death of our beloved son and brother. We assure all that their many kindly acts will ever be remembered.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Casey and Family.

GRAND EXHIBITION

emphasize the fact that no tickets of any kind will be sold. In place of a ticket visitors at the exhibit will be asked to contribute 25 cents before gaining admission. This small fee will finance the extra day, and also pay a few outstanding bills incurred in promoting the large enterprise. After the show closes tomorrow night a general get-together of members of the board of trade will be held and the exposition will be brought to a close by a general jollification. Speeches will be made by prominent citizens and a general discussion will take place on the subject, "How has the exposition helped the city of Lowell?" A sumptuous repast will also be served and a musical program to which the best talent obtainable will contribute will be carried out.

"Industrial Day" Attendance

Yesterday, which was "Industrial day" at the exposition, was given over almost entirely to employees of Lowell's great industries, and the attendance for the day was 25,013 persons, breaking all previous records. The total for the week up to last night was 73,321 and before the exhibit closes tomorrow night is expected that the figure will come close to the 125,000 mark. In the morning and afternoon students of the local parochial schools were the guests of the management and they were much impressed with the various subjects pointed out to them. The boys from the Middlesex Training school were also in attendance during the day and they displayed great interest in the wonderful enterprise. Shortly after 5.30 o'clock in the afternoon the employees of Lowell's mills and factories started to inspect the exhibit and in less than an hour over 1500 persons passed through the main entrance. From then on there was a continual rush but the police did good work relieving the congestion and everyone was given plenty of time to make the rounds of the various aisles. During the evening one woman fainted and was sent home in a carriage. Shortly before 10 o'clock President Robert Marden, megaphone in hand, made a trip around the one way streets announcing that the exhibit would close promptly at 10 o'clock, but the crowd was so interested that the closing time did not come until much later.

Last Night's Officials

The floor marshal last night was J. Joseph O'Connor and he was assisted by a large force of aides to keep the crowd moving. They included Charles J. Landers, John J. O'Rourke, Joseph J. Higgins, Charles D. Devine, George A. King, Peter R. Crank, William F. Hawley, John J. Maloney, William F. Higgins, James C. Warner, Frank Goldman, Jeremiah J. O'Sullivan, William C. Purcell, Raymond Kearney, Charles T. Donohue and Albert J. Blazon.

The afternoon floor marshal was John H. Beaulieu, assisted by George E. Monaghan, Ephraim Pelletier, Earl Russell, John E. Clark, E. Christman, W. A. Parthenais, J. A. Foley, N. Champagne, A. Gaudette and E. Dube.

During the morning and afternoon the Board of Trade orchestra gave its usual enjoyable and lively concert. To handle the floor work yesterday morning the chief marshal was Thos. J. O'Donnell. Assisting him were the officers of the C.M.A. C. Gaudine, headed by Maj. William P. Gonvor. The other officers were Captains Joseph Boyd, Edward LeCam and Walter L. Esperance. First Lieut. Paul Angel, First Serg. Lester Robertson, Serg. Arthur Lamoine, Corp. Robert Leith and Privates J. Tierney, R. Davenport and William Payton.

"Green Ticket" Day

Today at the exposition is "Green Ticket" day and the guests during the morning were pupils and teachers of the Vocational school. The doors opened at 9 o'clock and during the day thousands of visitors were received by President Marden and his assistants.

NO SCHOOL SIGNAL

The afternoon session in the public schools was suspended today on account of the heavy downpour of rain which started shortly before noon. The "no school" signal, box 222, sounded on the fire alarm system at 12.15 o'clock.

HILLSTROM'S PROGRESS

Three important questions relative to Hillstrom's progress will be discussed at an open meeting to be held in the town hall tonight under the auspices of the Hillstrom board of trade. The matter of having a mains extended to the town will come up, a protest will be made against the proposed increase in rates by the City State St. Ry. and an attempt will be made to devise some scheme to reduce the town's tax rate. Women as well as men are invited to attend.

HILLSTROM EXECUTED

prison facing a battle to conceal the five men of the firing squad from the condemned man and the spectators. Three of Hillstrom's friends had been invited at his request to witness the execution.

Suit Marked "Morrison"

Officers were much perplexed by an incident that developed last night in connection with arrangements for the execution. Hillstrom expressed a desire to wear a dark suit which had been under lock and key with his other effects. Deputy Warden A. C. Ure for the state prison brought out the suit and examined it preparatory to having it pressed. He discovered the name "Morrison" written in indelible ink on the white lining of the suit.

MERRIMACK CLOTHING COMPANY

ACROSS FROM CITY HALL

STORE OPEN TONIGHT

When he reported to Hillstrom that he had found a name on the suit, Hillstrom inquired whether the name was "Morrison" and said he believed it had been placed there by "some detective at the county jail."

Hillstrom said the suit was bought for him by a friend after his arrest.

Murdered Man and Son

The suit, however, officials at the prison said, was much too large for Hillstrom. Mrs. J. C. Morrison, widow of the murdered man, said her husband had a suit similar to the one under investigation and that the writing resembled that of her husband but she was unable to identify the suit positively as his. Another suit was obtained for Hillstrom to wear at his execution.

Hillstrom was convicted of the murder of John G. Morrison, a grocer and his son, Arline. Under Utah law he was allowed to choose between shooting and hanging.

Pres. Wilson's Appeal Denied

President Wilson twice appealed for further respite for Hillstrom. The president's second request, made yesterday, was denied by Gov. Spry as not made on any new facts.

At 6 o'clock this morning Governor Spry and the members of the board of pardons received telegrams from Seattle, Wash., saying that William Busky of that city had sworn to add evidence that he was with Hillstrom all of the night on which the Morrison murder was committed and that Hillstrom was innocent. A similar message, it was stated, had been sent to President Wilson.

Attorneys for Hillstrom immediately asked the governor to grant a ten day respite. Members of a pardon board held a hurried conference and decided not to interfere with the execution. It was reported at that time that Hillstrom was weak and showing signs of breaking down under the strain.

White Target Over Heart

The number of spectators at the execution was small, being limited by law and including certain officers and press representatives. The prison physician placed a paper target directly over Hillstrom's heart to guide the members of the firing squad who had selected their rifles by lot. The execution was under the direction of Sheriff J. S. Corless of Salt Lake county.

Hillstrom Broke Down

When the officers went to get Hillstrom he broke down and started to struggle with them but when he saw the sheriff he became calm and threw up his hands. Accompanied by the officers he walked to the death chair. After he was seated they asked him if he had anything to say. He said:

Hillstrom Yelled "Fire!"

"Gentlemen, I die with a clear conscience. I never did anything wrong in my life. I die fighting, not like a coward. Well, I'm going, good bye."

Fought Guards Fiercely

Although self-possessed when he faced his executioners, Hillstrom had a sensational nervous collapse just previously. He tied the door of his cell with strips torn from his blankets and fought the guards fiercely with the handle of a broom he had snatched from an attendant in the corridor.

Shock Cell Doors

This outburst was unexpected. Hillstrom retired calmly last night. He remained asleep until early this morning. About 4 o'clock he arose and began to shake the cell door, shrieking as if in a nightmare. The noise reached the outside guards who turned in a general alarm. The prison physician tried with slight success to quiet the man. It was decided not to interfere with him until necessary and he was not disturbed until the time arrived to take him to the scene of execution.

Savage Attack

When the guards arrived for this purpose Hillstrom attacked them savagely with the broom handle, which he had broken in two, leaving a sharp point on one piece. Deputy Warden Ure received a slight wound in the arm. Hillstrom fought violently until Sheriff Corless, for whom he had previously manifested high regard, arrived and appealed to him.

"Joe, this is all nonsense," said Corless. "What do you mean? You promised to die like a man."

Fought For His Life

Hillstrom hesitated a moment and then yielded. "Well, I'm through," he said. "But you can't blame a man for fighting for his life."

The blanket strips he had tied to the door were then cut, he was blindfolded and led to the place of execution supported by two guards.

Final Words: "Fire! Let Her Go!"

Hillstrom's final words were: "Fire! Let her go!" uttered a moment before the rifles cracked.

Ed. Rowan, secretary of the local Industrial Workers of the World organization, claimed Hillstrom's body. He intimated it would be sent to Wyoming for burial as requested by Hillstrom.

Says Hillstrom Innocent

The telegrams received this morning asserting that William Busky of Seattle had made an affidavit that he was with Hillstrom the night Morrison was murdered and that Hillstrom was innocent, were from O. H. Hilton of Denver, one of Hillstrom's attorneys. The sheriff was requested to postpone the execution until this statement had been investigated. Hillstrom told Warden Pratt of the prison that he did not know Busky. The sheriff was then directed to proceed with the execution.

None of Hillstrom's I.W.W. friends were present. The law provides that not more than five friends of a condemned man may be present if their presence be requested by him. Hillstrom declared last night that he did not wish any of his friends to see the execution.

Thanksgiving Offering

THANKSGIVING, 1915, WILL BE THE GREATEST THIS COUNTRY HAS EVER CELEBRATED.

There is no more beautiful and inspiring custom on earth than the ancient American institution of Thanksgiving Day. And never had the American people better cause for Thanksgiving than this year. While "grim visaged war" staggers over the world, and has transferred Europe into a veritable inferno, this country is enjoying peace and plenty. This entire building throbs with life and activity but nowhere is there any confusion or excitement, every part of this big commercial machine running as smooth as clock work. This proves conclusively the correctness of the arrangement and equipment of our structure, and speaks volumes for the judgment and foresight of the projectors, architects and builders who created it. Today starts a series of unusual opportunities for Thanksgiving shoppers.

ELECTION FRAUDS MURDER TRIAL PASSPORT FRAUD

45 Election Officers Arrested at Pittsburgh on Charge

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 19.—Twenty-five more election officers, concerned in the charges brought by the grand jury after its investigation of last September's general primary election, were arrested this morning and, like the 20 taken to the office of District Attorney Jackson last night, gave bail for a hearing before an alderman. It was said that no less than nine election boards were directly involved in the city, while a number in boroughs and townships of Allegheny county were to be proceeded against later.

REPORT OF CAPTURE OF BABUNA PASS BY BULGARS NOT CONFIRMED

PARIS, Nov. 19.—The Saloniki despatch announcing the general retreat of the Serbs on the southwestern front after the capture of Babuna Pass by the Bulgars is without official confirmation, says a Havas despatch from Athens filed yesterday. The only fact established is the evacuation of Prilep by the Serbs. The abandonment of Babuna Pass has been expected in Athens military circles for several days, as it was not considered possible for the Serbs, notwithstanding their heroic defense, to resist longer repeated Bulgarian attacks, especially as they threatened envelopment by a movement from Tetovo and Kisevo. The Serbians probably will retire to the heights between Prilep and Monastir, the inhabitants of which are taking refuge in Albania and Greek territory. Large numbers have arrived at Elendina, Greece, but the more well-to-do are going to Saloniki. The military governor of Monastir is reported to have appointed a committee of notables to preserve order but it is feared it will not be possible to restrain the bands of Komitadjis, (irregulars) in the environs of the city. The Serbian army is expected to retreat towards Albania. It is estimated there are 50,000 Serbs in the Monastir region opposed to more than 60,000 Bulgars.

AMERICANS OF GERMAN ORIGIN, ONE AFTER GOWNS FOR MRS. GALT, TURNED DOWN IN PARIS

PARIS, Nov. 19.—The Paris dress-makers' syndicate has blacklisted two American customers of German origin, one of them a man named Kurzmann, reputed to have been commissioned to buy gowns for Mrs. Norman Galt, who is to be the bride of President Wilson, according to Gustave Tery's newspaper L'Ouvreur. The newspaper avers that Kurzmann has threatened to raise a diplomatic question, because of the modiste's refusal to accept orders from him. L'Ouvreur declares, however, that each house from which he ordered gowns has offered to supply them, with its compliments to Mrs. Galt without having them pass through the hands of an intermediary.

Main Contention in Case of Mrs. Burnes Will be That She Was Insane

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Nov. 19.—The introduction of evidence by the defense in the trial of Mrs. Mary A. Burnes, charged with the murder, by poison, of her husband, Frank A. Burnes, was begun shortly after the opening of the trial today. Col. John H. Bartlett, counsel for Mrs. Burnes, closed his summary of what the defense expects to prove, repeating his statement of yesterday that the main contention would be that the woman was insane. He said Mrs. Burnes did not discover that the poison was missing from the bag in which she had placed it until after Dr. Fernald, the physician who had been called to attend her husband had left for the second time. She was so horrified, she said, to find that it had disappeared that she did not mention it to anyone. She realized now, she added, that she made a mistake in doing so. Col. Bartlett said that it would be shown that Mrs. Burnes was in the habit of buying liquor for her husband and that she bought some the day before he died. Fred L. Gove of Nottingham, brother-in-law of Mrs. Burnes, was the first witness for the defense.

Mrs. Burnes Collapsed

While the first witness for the defense was testifying Mrs. Burnes collapsed and the trial was suspended until the afternoon session. Col. John H. Bartlett, counsel for Mrs. Burnes had completed his opening and Fred L. Gove was testifying regarding what he thought to be irrational acts on the part of the defendant, when Mrs. Burnes fell over her chair. She was carried to a side room and recovered after being attended by her physician, but appeared to be very weak. Mr. Gove testified that Burnes and his wife lived at his home for two months in the summer of 1914, and that he and his wife continued the acquaintance after they had left. Mr. and Mrs. Burnes, he said, seemed unusually affectionate. There were days on which Mrs. Burnes, the witness said, acted as he thought, irrationally, while at other times she seemed melancholy. Gove denied the testimony of witnesses for the prosecution that the woman showed no grief after the death of her husband. On the other hand, he declared he found her sobbing and tried to comfort her.

MATRIMONIAL

John Tansey and Miss Annie Callan were married Wednesday afternoon at the Immaculate Conception rectory, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Lawrence F. Tighe, O.M.I. pastor. Miss Katherine Lahiff acted as bridesmaid and Leo Tansey as best man.

Webb-Palmer

Henry B. Webb of Waltham and Mrs. Agnes D. Palmer, formerly of this city, were married Nov. 6 in Waltham by Rev. Mr. Webster, rector of Christ church. The couple will make their home in Waltham.

CARD OF THANKS

The undersigned take this means to express publicly sincere thanks and appreciation to the many relatives, neighbors and friends who so thoughtfully and kindly assisted by kind acts, words of sympathy and moral offerings at the death of our beloved mother. All acts were deeply appreciated by the Cashman Family.

U. S. Government Inquiry Into Activities of Von Nuber

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—The department of justice was today making further inquiry into the activities of Austrian Consul-General von Nuber and his associates. In an announcement the department said information had been received which would probably lead to further indictments for passport frauds.

Von Nuber and German Ambassador von Bernstorff were recently charged publicly by Dr. Joseph Gorlick, former Austrian consul, with having directed propaganda carried on the Austro-Hungarian consular service in the United States for fomenting strikes in munitions plants. These allegations have already been formally denied by the Austrian embassy here and through the embassy by the Austrian foreign minister. The investigation is the outcome of a conference in New York on Wednesday between A. Bruce Bielaski, chief of the bureau of investigations of the department of justice, and Dr. Gorlick.

ALLIED WAR COUNCIL

NEXT MEETING IN LONDON—RUSSIA AND ITALY MAY SEND REPRESENTATIVES

PARIS, Nov. 19.—The next meeting of the allied war council will be held in London. It is likely the Russian and Italian governments will designate representatives to attend this council.

One session of the war council in Paris this week was held at the foreign office and another, presided over by President Poincaré, at the Elysees palace. In addition the several members of the French and British committees had no consultations apart. Premier Asquith, who is acting temporarily as war secretary conferred with the French war minister, Gen. Gallieni; A. J. Balfour, first lord of the British admiralty with Admiral Lacaze, French minister of marine; Premier Briand, who is in charge of the French foreign portfolio with Sir Edward Grey, British foreign secretary and Albert Thomas, French under secretary of war for munitions, with David Lloyd George, British munitions secretary.

It is understood that an understanding has been reached in regard to various subjects and energetic action is expected to result.

BANK ROBBED OF $2500

Package of Bills Disappears From the Paying Teller's Cage in First National Bank of New Haven

NEW HAVEN, Nov. 19.—The disappearance in a mysterious manner of a package containing $2500 in bills, about two weeks ago, was made public by the First National bank this afternoon after reports had become current that one of the city's banks had been robbed. The package had been on a truck behind the paying teller's cage.

WHAT HORTENSE TOLD ME

Hortense gave me a long lecture this morning on guarding my eyes carefully, emphasizing the fact that once the sight is ruined you have lost one of your most valuable possessions. The light, she says, should fall over the left shoulder when reading, writing or sewing. When out in the sun this winter when there is snow on the ground, it is best to wear slightly smoked glasses to soften the glare. They will be very restful to the eyes, will not attract unpleasant attention in the country, and will prevent chronic wrinkles. When the eyes are very tired bathe them with hot water and drop a few drops of diluted boracic acid in the eyes with an eye dropper. Use ten or fifteen drops of the acid to one ounce of distilled water.

The habit of raising the brows continually will also tend to produce wrinkles, more quickly than the passing years. Before combing your hair place long, narrow strips of court plaster just above the center of the eyebrows and reaching half way to the hair line. Every time you raise your brows this will be a silent reminder and soon you will learn to know when you use these muscles that you know work unconsciously and this will soon break you of the habit. Wear the plaster whenever you can until broken of the habit.

This fall I have been taking long walks in the woods and I have found that rubbing heels help me much and keep me from fatigue and backache that I used to experience when I walked a long distance. They prevent the constant jarring of the spine with every step. The appearance of the feet is less important than your comfort so you should have the soles of your shoes broad and moderately thick. If your instep is high, Hortense advised me, be sure the arch of the shoe fits the arch of the foot perfectly and the heels are high enough to give the proper poise. Low heels on a foot with a high instep are tiresome and injurious. Green liquid soap, which is recommended by experts for fine skins or for skin that have the pores extended, can be made at home, Hortense tells me. Take equal parts of glycerine, water, alcohol and green castile soap. Shave the soap into the water and stir over the fire until the mixture is smooth. Add the glycerine and, lastly, the alcohol, after the kettle is removed from the fire. Add a tablespoon of eau-de-cologne if perfume is desired.

Hortense says that adults, as well as children, suffer from prickly heat way up to the real cold weather. Take warm baths frequently and dust the skin with lycopodium powder. Pulverized starch is also good, or bathe with this lotion: Powdered borax six drams and rose water six ounces.

Hortense is continually lecturing me about the importance of sleep as a habit of staying up quite late every night to read some entrancing story. It doesn't matter what time you retire, she says, so long as you have a regular hour and stick to it. The old saying that an hour of sleep before midnight is worth two after, is not true, literally, but it has this much truth in it; that the early hours of sleep are worth more than later. The person who is healthy goes to bed at about the same hour every night and it does not make a great deal of difference whether it be nine o'clock at night or three in the morning, so long as you have full eight hours' sleep.

Hortense has told me a very clever way to perfume my handkerchiefs and muslin underwear. Supply your washwoman with a good sized piece oforris root which she is to throw into the water in which your handkerchiefs are boiling. When they come back to you from ironing they will be redolent of the orris root. Then you can slip them between the folds of a sachet-filled with violet powder, and they will not lose their fragrance. Violet and orris scent together, make a real violet odor.

Hortense advises that hands and lips that crack easily when exposed to the cold, can be kept in the best of condition if anointed nightly with a lotion made of equal parts of glycerine and lemon juice. Some prefer glycerine, rosewater and benzoin and for dry skins it is a little better than the other remedy mentioned. Camphor ice is also cooling for chapped lips and hands. You must take care to dry the hands thoroughly after washing them and not to wet the lips while in the open air.

The teeth should be cleaned at least twice a day with a suitable brush and dentifrice, advises Hortense. Particles of food should not be allowed to cling to the teeth or gums or remain in the mouth after a meal. Always rinse the mouth thoroughly and remove particles with the brush or dental floss. In brushing the teeth do not confine the motion to up and down or straight across movements. The brush should be given a rotary or circular motion, cleansing the gums and all of the teeth, and removing any tartar that may have collected at their base. Alkaline water solution is helpful in rinsing the mouth.

"I have the habit of remaining up quite late every night to read and Hortense says it is the cause of my eyes aching so much. 'Never forget to rest the eyes occasionally during the day,' she advises," as it is very unwise to try them to the limit. Stop reading or working before your eyeballs ache and closing your eyes rest quietly for five or ten minutes. If this much time can be spared, if not try it for two or three minutes at a time. Don't wear spotted veils as they are deadly enemies to beauty and health. It is impossible for the eyes to keep well if they are constantly strained."

WAS CIVIL WAR VETERAN

CHARLES W. BURGESS, WHO DIED WEDNESDAY, HAD HONORABLE WAR RECORD

Charles W. Burgess, who died at the Lowell hospital on Wednesday of the present week, was a veteran of the Civil war and it appears that this fact was overlooked in the notices concerning his death. His war record was one of long and faithful service. He enlisted with Co. A, 5th regiment, Massachusetts Infantry, and served three months, from April 30, 1861 to August 1, 1861. On November 12 of the same year he re-enlisted with Co. I, 30th regiment. He was appointed first sergeant and later rose to the rank of captain. He was discharged July 5, 1866.

Weak and Tired Woman Tells How Vinol Made Her Strong

Lowell women who are weak, run-down and suffer from the consequent effects of such a condition, will be interested in Mrs. Odell's letter. She says:

"I am a farmer's wife and was all run-down, weak, tired, and suffered from indigestion, and sometimes it seemed as though I could not keep around and do my housework. I had taken many medicines without benefit. One day I saw Vinol advertised, and made up my mind to try it. I have taken four bottles and have gained seven pounds in weight, am much stronger, and feel many years younger than before." Sarah Odell, Lockport, N. Y.

The reason Vinol builds up weak, run-down women so quickly is because it contains a delicious combination of the three most successful tonics, peptonate of iron to enrich and revitalize the blood, the strength-giving, body-building elements of fresh cod's livers without oil, and beef peptonate.

We want to say to every weak, run-down, overworked woman in Lowell that we will return your money if Vinol fails to help you as it did Mrs. Odell.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT

CITY'S DISTANCE FROM DEBT LINE IT IS GROWING SHORTER—DEPARTMENT BALANCES

The financial statement for the month of October has been received from the printer and it shows among other things, that the city was distant from the debt limit $274,310.49 on November 1. The total of loans for the ten months was $194,000. This includes the $71,000 for the extension of Dummer street, but is independent of the $225,000 water loan.

The commissioner of finance has left unexpended the sum of $16,328.98. For elections, etc., there remained on Nov. 1, the sum of $3313.23.

The commissioner of public safety has unexpended the sum of $84,300.22 and there is a balance in favor of the police department of $30,000.

It was understood that the school department was going to ask for assistance to continue the evening schools but the report has it that on November 1, the school department has an unexpended balance of $122,239.11, $9,700.55 of which is credited to the vocational school.

The report also shows that the sum of $113,543.47 has been spent for street maintenance during the ten months of the year and there still remains, for the same purpose, the sum of $29,389.99. The department of fire protection and water works showed the sum of $41,243.53 unexpended on November 1. Out of a total appropriation for the public property department there remains a balance of $29,240.37. This department spent up to Nov. 1, the sum of $104,804.55.

BIG POLICE SHAKEUP

MANY CHANGES IN THE DETECTIVE BUREAU AT BOSTON HEADQUARTERS—VETERANS SHIFTED

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—The detective bureau at police headquarters has been shaken up again by Chief Inspector John R. McGarr. The assignments of several of the veteran inspectors attached to his staff have been changed and the chief is just as reticent regarding the changes as he was a year ago when he shook his office up from top to bottom.

Inspector James Comboy, one of the oldest men on duty at the bureau, who for many years has been covering the Back Bay, has been assigned to South station, where Inspector Michael H. Cronin has been on duty since three years ago last September. A deputy assignment has always been regarded as a disagreeable post.

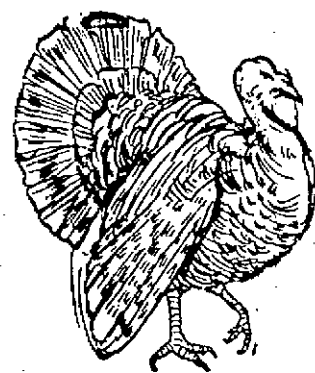

Inspector Cronin has been instructed to join Inspector Wise in the express district, and Detective Sergt. Kilday, who has been the partner of Inspector Wise in that district, has been sent into the South End district with Patrolman McCarthy for a partner. Patrolman Towle, who has been with Patrolman McCarthy, has taken the post formerly held by Comboy in the Back Bay.

Detective Sergt. John F. Mitchell merely answers roll call at the bureau of criminal investigation now. He has been given a detail to the office of Supt. Crowley, and with Capt. King is serving in the recently established automobile bureau. Last spring Sergt. Mitchell, who has been serving on the water front was without much warning shifted to the elevated terminal at Sullivan sq. Now the report is heard that Inspector Harry Pierce, son of the former superintendent, who was sent from Back Bay to the Dudley-st. terminal at the time that Mitchell was assigned to Sullivan sq. is to get a new post.

None of the headquarters men want to talk about the changes. As one said, "We are watching our step and you never can tell when it is safe to talk." Chief McGarr has been around the city quite a little evenings recently,

DANIELS CENSURES VERDICT

Secretary of the Navy Disagrees With Court-Martial in the Case of the San Diego Explosion

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Secretary Daniels has clashed with the navy court-martial which tried two commissioned officers and one warrant officer for responsibility for the fatal boiler explosion on the cruiser San Diego Jan. 21 last.

Yesterday he issued a statement taking exception to the court's findings and disclosing that on the navy department's disapproval the court altered its first verdict.

The court first acquitted the officers and then changed its verdict to hold Lieut. K. L. Hill, in charge of the fire room, guilty, with a sentence to lose 40 numbers, but with recommendation for clemency. Edson C. Oak, chief engineer, was acquitted of negligence. Chief Machinist Thomas O'Donnell was found not guilty. As the court refused to reverse its verdict as to Oak, Secretary Daniels remitted the sentence in Hill's case and issued a statement declaring the verdict a miscarriage of justice.

"I am unwilling to believe that the ideals of duty and responsibility of all members of the court are so low as to exonerate Lieut. Oak of neglect of duty," said the secretary's statement. Nine men were killed when five of the San Diego's 16 boilers blew out in the last few minutes of a four-hour test under forced draft.

It was testified that all the officers involved and the men knew a feed pipe supplying water to the boilers had collapsed, but they decided to take a "sporting chance" in order to finish the test and have a try for the penant.

An Ideal Remedy for Nursing Mothers

Compound of Simple Laxative Herbs Safe for Baby and Mother

Constipation is a condition that affects the old, young and middle-aged, and most people at one time or another need help in regulating the action of the bowels. Harsh cathartics and purgatives should not be employed to relieve constipation, as their effect is only temporary while they shock the system unnecessarily.

A remedy that can be used with perfect safety for the tiniest babe and that is equally effective for the strongest constitution is found in the combination of simple laxative herbs known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and sold in drug stores everywhere for fifty cents a bottle. This is an ideal household remedy and should be in every family medicine chest.

Mrs. F. L. Barsolow, 18 Leslie St., Holyoke, Mass., wrote to Dr. Caldwell, "Syrup Pepsin certainly is fine. I gave it to my baby, Evelyn, and also took it myself. It is the only medicine I have been able to take without affecting Baby in the nursing."

ing. I have used it for all four children and it is fine; they like it and ask for it."

A trial bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can be obtained free of charge, by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 454 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

BROOKLINE—SEVERAL OTHER SPEAKERS HEARD

Dr. O. P. Gifford of Brookline delivered a stirring address on "A Great Adventure" before about 250 boys and men at a banquet held in the entertainment hall of the Y.M.C.A. last evening. Dr. Gifford quoted the words of the man who stood on the deck of the Lusitania when she went down and said to a man by his side, "I have no fear of death, I consider it a wonderful adventure."

He then spoke on the adventure of life and of death, stating that it is a great adventure for a man to raise a son to take his place in the world; that it is a great adventure for a boy to take his course through the world; that it is a great adventure for a boy to come to a large city to take his start in business life. He also showed how much the example of his father, as well as hereditary influences were at work upon the boy as he struggled for character. He emphasized the fact that in the great adventure of death, what a man had sowed he would reap; that when a man sowed corn in his field, that he would reap corn, and that if a man had not sowed character in his life he would not reap it in the life after death; then when a man opened the memory box of treasures they would be his own and not another's; or a higher, purer record than that which he had sowed at his death; that it was necessary to sow character to reap a destiny. In the great adventure of life and of death it was character that was

Diseases of Children

I find worms one of the most common of children's diseases—either pinworms or stomach worms. These parasites make their presence felt through deranged stomach, swollen upper lip, sour stomach, offensive breath, hard and full belly with occasional gripings and pains about the navel, pale face of leaden tint, eyes heavy and dull, twitching eyelids, itching of the nose, itching of the rectum, short dry cough, grinding of the teeth, little red points sticking out on tongue, starting during sleep, slow fever.

For over 60 years Dr. True's Elixir, the Family Laxative and Worm Expeller, my father's discovery, has been the standard remedy for worms, stomach disorders and constipation, both for children and adults. Mr. Wm. L. Wylie of Houston, Texas, writes: "I want to say that Dr. True's Elixir is certainly a fine medicine." At all dealers, 35c, 50c and $1.00. Advice free. Write needed to insure a wonderful adventure.

Others who took part in the program were: J. B. C. Coburn, chairman of the boys' work of the association; S. H. Thompson, president of the association; Dr. Yarnell, the general secretary; G. B. Merriman of Boston, superintendent of Camor and Earl Leadbetter, physical director and Earl Leadbetter. Certificates were given to about 40 boys who passed the examination in Bible study last April, and loving cups were presented to the boys who, as a club, had made the best record. The juniors who received these were: Raymond Wood, Robert Friend, Sterling Pratt, Roscoe Brannan, Chester Hibbs and George Stewart. The students who received them were: Miles Dallison and Samuel Baligan, taught by Wesley Brown, and Don Cameron, Dexter Shaw, Roland Falls, Marshall Phil and Merton Fleming, taught by Wallace Gumb. The C. S. and N. trio of Pawtucketville furnished music during the evening. Richard Chadwick and Walter Sturtevant playing the fife, and Fremont Nichols the traps and snare drum.

ENGLAND AND SCOTLAND

Representatives of Both Countries Will Play Soccer at Glen Essex, Thanksgiving Day

Soccer fans are looking forward expectantly to Thanksgiving day when all roads will lead to Glen Essex, where England and Scotland will play off their fifth annual game. The first game was played at Glen Essex, Thanksgiving day, 1911, England winning by 1 goal. The next game in 1912 was played on the Glen Forest grounds, Scotland winning by two goals. This game was played in a snow storm. In 1913, the third game staged again at Glen Essex Scotland won by one goal. Last year England turned the tables on the Scots, winning by a 2 to 0 score.

It is considered a great honor to be selected to play in any of these international contests, and the players picked out are supposed to represent the cream of the various soccer teams around these parts. The local Bunting team has been signally favored by having five of their players selected for the Thanksgiving game. Capt. W. Kelly and J. Greenhalge will play with Scotland and J. Smith and J. Wallace have been chosen to represent England. A. Smith, the fullback for the Bunting team, has been chosen a reserve man for the England team.

LIQUOR FEEDS THE FISHES

Thirsty Citizens of Montpelier Watch Condemned Whiskey Gargle on Way to Winoski River

MONTPELIER, Vt., Nov. 18.—200 pint bottles of whiskey and a half barrel of alcohol, secured in a raid at the McGrath drugstore and condemned by the court, were fed to the fishes of Winoski river yesterday when Deputy Sheriff Lawson and Emery emptied the liquor into the sewer in front of the Washington county jail. Judge E. M. Harvey, who ordered the destruction, acted as official witness.

A delegation of thirsty citizens viewed the function from adjoining sidewalks.

EXPERT TELLS FACTS
HERBAL SKIN BALM

The many sufferers from skin troubles that itch, burn and pain will be glad to know that a new article that is made from Nature's herbs, and will soothe and begin healing as soon as applied has been given by science for the relief of the many disheartened martyrs.

Mr. R. J. Cramer, who is doing some special work with the American Medicine Company of Allentown and whom you are at liberty to address in care of that firm, writes: "I gave a box of DEXMA to Stuart McKibby, 511 Turner St., of this city, and Mr. McKibby has just come to me with the following statement: 'I was troubled with a rash all over my arms and hands. I have tried several remedies, but none seemed to have any effect or benefit me. I tried one box of DEXMA salve. After applying daily for a week I am pleased to say that my skin is all cleared up and I heartily endorse and recommend this remedy.'"

Why suffer from unsightly eruptions of the face of Eczema, or running sores, or poison rashes, when this wonderful new discovery will at once stop all suffering and begin to heal at once?

We are the only druggists in this town from whom DEXMA, the great herbal balm, can be secured. Ask us today.

St. Anne's Church Held Annual Fair - The Committees

The 28th annual fair of St. Anne's church of North Billerica held last evening in the cozy little parish house far eclipsed from both a social and financial standpoint any of the many successes of its kind held by the church in the past. The prettily decorated hall, dotted with profusely decorated booths and tables, the large attendance and the splendid entertainment presented, made the event an unprecedented success.

Last evening's entertainment consisted of a one-act farce entitled "Poor Pillioddy." The sketch is full of comedy and was very favorably received by the audience. Besides developing several comedy situations, the play unfolds an interesting story of the troubles of a widow of a mariner who lives a life of weariness.

The cast was as follows:

Mr. John Peter Pillioddy. Harold Tivy Mrs. Pillioddy. Mrs. Mary Strang Mrs. Fitzgerald O'Sullivan Capt. Fitzgerald O'Sullivan Mrs. O'Sullivan. Miss Ella Whitehead Sarah Blunt. Mrs. Fred G. ## INCREASE IN IMPORTS

Food Imports of France for Six Months of 1915 Greater by $131,400,000, Than Same Period Last Year

PARIS, Nov. 18.—Figures compiled officially regarding exports and imports show that the food imports of France for the first six months of 1915 were greater by $131,400,000 (1,314,000,000 francs) than for the same period in 1914, while the value of manufactured goods brought into the country in the half year increased $18,000,000 francs.

Imports of all kinds last month had risen 141,000,000 francs, as compared with 223,000,000 francs in October of last year.

IN MILADY'S BOUDOIR

EYE RELIEF FOR THE WOMAN WHO SEWS

If there is much sewing to do and there always is in the fall, on the children's clothes and dresses for oneself, the home dressmaker should take care that her eyes do not become overstrained or allowed to become too tired are so often subject to headache—are languid, pale and nervous—because their blood is thin or insufficient. They are not really sick and hesitate to complain, but they lack that ambition and vivacity which is their birthright. They do not need drugs—but do need the tonic and nourishment in Scott's Emulsion that makes richer blood, fills hollow cheeks, suppresses nervousness and establishes strength. Nourishment alone makes blood and Scott's Emulsion is the essence of concentrated nourishment, free from wines, alcohols or opiates.

OUR YOUNG WOMEN

If mother or daughter is frail, pale or nervous, give her Scott's for one month and see the betterment. It has a wholesome, "nutty" flavor. Avoid substitutes. At any drug store.

Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N.J. 15-34

by close application to the stitching of seams, working of buttonholes or the thousands of other tasks that are necessary when dressmaking is being done. For that reason always be careful when working on dark materials to wear a light colored apron and to spread a white cloth on the work table. If you are working by artificial light, a white cloth on the table will be found to increase the light to an appreciable extent, and thus the strain on the eyes will not be nearly as great.

On the other hand, if you are working on white or very light colored material, a dark cloth thrown over the lamp will reduce the strain on the eyes. If needles having elongated eyes are used, they will be easier to thread than those with round eyes. When the eyes become tired you will get relief by looking out of the window at a distant view, or a picture of a landscape that has distance to it, down a long road or over the hills to the distant mountains. Leaning the head against the chair back and covering the eyes with a cold compress will often relieve eye strain and even headache, which is the result of sewing on very fine materials or intricate stitchery on fine lace where the crochet hook is used. Take care of your eyes for they are your best friends and servants.

SPRINGFIELD CONTESTS

GRIFFIN AND DOYLE WIN DEMOCRATIC CAUCUSES—MISS F. M. O'KEEFE NOMINATED

SPRINGFIELD, Nov. 18.—Only two contests developed last night in the democratic caucuses, and in both cases the present office holders were successful in obtaining the party support. Councilman Lawrence P. Griffin had a stiff contest in disposing of his opponent in ward 1, Leon J. Gour, but Councilman John R. Doyle, who was opposed for the ward 2 nomination by John Regan, William H. Reely and Matthew F. Malone, was an easy winner, polling more than 50 per cent. of the entire vote.

For school committee the democrats nominated at large Miss Frances M. O'Keefe, secretary of the Suffrage Extension league.

CONTEST ON WILL

Sister of Mrs. Melinda W. Costello Will Try to Break Her Will

The will of the late Melinda W. Costello, widow of James Costello, which involves an estate of about $35,000, is to be contested and the first hearing will be held in Cambridge on Dec. 14. According to the will, which was made in February, 1913, or a little over two years before the death of Mrs. Costello, the bulk of the estate is left to a nephew, Enoch Winsby, president of a large iron works corporation at Oakland, Cal. The will is being contested on the ground of undue influence and testamentary incapacity by a sister of the deceased, Mrs. Phebe Trider of this city, the principal heir-at-law, and other heirs-at-law, Osborne R. Witter of Swampscott, another nephew of deceased and a nephew living in Nova Scotia. F. P. Marble appears for the executor and Quin, Howard & Rogers for the heirs-at-law contesting.

Ask her to go to Asso. hall tonight.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

The four last performances of "Fine Feathers" will be given at the Opera House starting with today's matinee. To those who have already seen this remarkable play this fact probably recalls only the pleasure they doubtless took away with them upon leaving the theatre, but to those who haven't already seen it, the statement should set them 'phoning to the box office for reservations for one of the remaining performances and doing it before the few choice seats have all been taken. For the coming Sunday, another of those great Sunday shows will be given which have made the Lowell Opera House the mecca for hundreds of the city's people and adding to the number every Sunday. The bill will be composed of five of the best vaudeville acts, all of them absolutely new to Lowell which will be presented in conjunction with a series of the latest picture features. Heading the vaudeville list will be Harry Marks and his two Roses. This is one of the best of the big time vaudeville acts and after playing the Lowell engagement Mr. Marks goes to New York City where he will be seen in and around there consecutively for the next four months. A privilege accorded only to the real big ones. This act alone, however, will not comprise all the good things to be gathered together, for he it, there will be four others, and all said to compare in a most favorable light with the headliner. Then of course there's the pictures, and anyone who has seen one of the bills so far given knows that the pictures will be one of the strong features, comedies, dramas, and serials being among the list. Seats are now selling. Commencing with the coming Monday's bon bon matinee, and continuing on matinee and evening throughout the week, the management has selected as a special Thanksgiving week offering James Forbes' play which broke all records for long runs in Boston, Chicago, and New York City, "The Traveling Salesman." This is an attraction for which there has been numerous calls and inasmuch as it's one of the best plays ever written and one in which Mr. Homer Barton, who will play "Bob Blake" the title role has appeared to marked success many times before, the selection seems an ideal one. "The Traveling Salesman" affords the other members in the cast, excellent opportunity in which to display their versatility and is one calling for lavish scenic embellishments which will be carried out with every attention to detail. Seats for all performances now on sale at the box office including those for matinee and evening Thanksgiving. Monday night souvenirs of Mr. Barton will be distributed. Get the whole set.

R. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

Get a lot of comedy this week by attending the R. F. Keith theatre where a goodly company of entertainers is on parade. The mixture is splendid. There are comedy and singing, instrumental music and dancing, and one of the most animal acts imaginable. Of course the headliner is purveyed by Louis A. Simon & Co. with their "The New Coachman." It is really a remarkably happy comedy situation, or series of situations. Simon in the part of the college man who was mistaken for a coachman is literally a riot. And the funniest part of it all is, that he imagines the woman who hires him is the one to whom he is about to be engaged. It all flows out well, but not until some funny stunts have occurred. Collins, Steele & Park in their mixture of vaudeville funniest push matters along at a speedy rate. They give a little bit of everything and give it very well. Dave Kinder, the whistler, has a wonderful range, and can whistle anything set before him. The Six Harvards give a melange of instrumental music was because all who wanted to see it when it was first shown at the Merrimack Square theatre several weeks ago, were unable to do so. In the audience yesterday were many who saw Geraldine Farrar in this same picture when previously shown, and were irresistibly drawn to view it again. "Carmen" is a picture which is interesting when seen the second time because there is so much to admire in the way it is produced, besides the interest which the theme of the play begets of itself. Many of the scenes have been copied from well known scenes of Spain, such as the Plaza de Toros, and so accurate has the copy been that one who had seen the original could not tell the difference. This, indeed, is one kind of motion picture perfection; the other kind is the acting of Miss Farrar in this play. Never in any picture has there ever been portrayed such realistic acting, for instance, the fight in the factory or the duel between the two soldiers over Carmen. The Farrar feature will be shown at the following hours today and tomorrow: 2.15, 7.15 and 9.15 p. m. Do not fail to see this masterpiece this time.

The other five-act, Paramount play today is "The Mummy and the Humming Bird," with Charles Cherry in the leading role. This play has enjoyed singular popularity for years. It is the pathetic story of a triangular struggle into which a perfectly innocent woman is dragged. This play

WHAT $10 DID FOR THIS WOMAN

The Price She Paid for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Which Brought Good Health.

Danville, Va.—"I have only spent ten dollars on your medicine and I feel so much better than I did when the doctor was treating me. I don't suffer any bearing down pains at all now and I sleep well. I cannot say enough for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills as they have done so much for me. I am enjoying good health now and owe it all to your remedies. I take pleasure in telling my friends and neighbors about them."—Mrs. MATTIE HALEY, 601 Colquhoun Street, Danville, Va.

No woman suffering from any form of female troubles should lose hope until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial. This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women everywhere bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Every woman ought to have Lydia E. Pinkham's 80-page Text Book. It is not a book for general distribution as it is too expensive. It is free, and only obtainable by mail. Write for it today. Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

OWL THEATRE

"The Miracle of Life," the greatest and most powerful problem play ever depicted, will be the attraction at the Owl theatre today and tomorrow. In this Mutual masterpiece, Marguerite Fisher and Joseph Singleton, two favorites of the silent drama, will be starred. "The Miracle of Life" is a sensational problem play and a strong plea for motherhood in four vivid acts. It shows the fallacy of race suicide and that all glories for fortunes that may befall to the lot of any woman are trivial when compared to the greatest glory with which a woman may be crowned, namely that of motherhood. The story of this film is of a young wife, enamored of the many social pleasures of this world, who is about to become a wife. Fearing this state of life and dreading the thought of being forced to give up all her jolly friends and good times, she attempts to thwart the law of nature. Then comes the crowning miracle—but that is the secret that this sensational Mutual masterpiece reveals. In addition to this four-act feature picture, a three reel film and other excellent photoplays will also be presented at the Owl theatre today and tomorrow.

SCHOOLHOUSE SANITATION

ing regulation of this sort has come within the past decade," declares the bulletin. "Each state profits by the experience of 47 others. A law passed in one extreme of the country today is copied next month or next year by a state 2,000 or 3,000 miles distant." Thirty-eight states have some legal provision regarding the school site, according to the bulletin. Nearly all of these provisions are state-wide in their application, and are mandatory in character. These provisions include the proximity of "nuisances," availability of the site, and the size of the site. Nineteen states have laws prohibiting the location of school buildings within a specified distance from places where liquor is sold, from gambling houses, houses of prostitution, and noisy or smoky factories. Thirty of the states have sought to regulate the water supply of the public school. "The revolt against the common drinking cup," says the bulletin "has come within the past five years. Kansas was the pioneer, but other states followed rapidly, so that now half of the entire number have either a law or a regulation regarding drinking cups."

Some form of protection against fire and panic is found in 35 states. Blanket regulations, or the power to make such regulations, exist in 12 states.

General or special construction with a view to fire prevention is dealt with in states. Thirteen of the states have something to say as to corridors and inner stairways; 24 have regulations as to exits, and 35 as to exterior escapes; 10 mention alarm and fire-fighting apparatus; and 11 states provide by law or regulation for fire drills. Less than half the states, according to the bulletin, have any legal word on ventilation. Thirty cubic feet of fresh air per pupil per minute is the conventional amount specified. In the matter of cleaning and disinfecting, slightly more than one-fourth of the states have regulations which control conditions to any degree outside the districts themselves. Some of the laws and regulations are almost model; others are wholly inadequate. A few state boards of health have done notable work in this particular. Special cleaning and disinfecting follow in seven states immediately upon discovery in any school of any of a certain class of diseases. "Three of the states have a special list of specific diseases that call at once for action. This list includes scarlet fever, smallpox, and diphtheria in all three states, measles in two, and infantile paralysis, epidemic spinal-meningitis, and bubonic plague in one, each."

STEEL EMBARGO

Congress May Act to
of New Warships

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Congress may be asked to place a temporary embargo on exports of structural steel to the European belligerents in order to afford a sufficient supply of the metal for use in the construction of the two battleships, bids for which were opened at the navy department on Wednesday.

This plan is suggested as a result of the disclosure that neither of the new battleships can be laid down before next summer because of a lack of steel. The entire output of the American steel plants, it is said, has been taken by the warring nations. Secretary Daniels hints that unless steel plants could be induced to insure preference for government orders, congress may be urged to act. The foreign demand for steel is greater than for armor, according to the secretary who says that this was shown by the fact that armor bids for the new ships made no increase in price over a year ago nor was there a suggestion of delay in delivery.

Announcement is made by Secretary Daniels that tentative plans are under consideration for two 36,000-ton battleships to be included in the first year's part of the five-year naval building program. No navy in the world has such large warships as these at present. The new ships probably will have a greater armament and speed than any other warship ever designed for the American navy.

NEW UNION STATION

BOSTON & MAINE OFFICIALS ANNOUNCE THAT LAWRENCE WILL HAVE ONE SOON

LAWRENCE, Nov. 19.—At the close of his address at the Y.M.C.A. yesterday, President Huestis of the B. & M. said: "Let us get down to brass tacks. This hands across the sea business is all right, but what you men want to know is matters that will be of interest to you and Lawrence. I shall be pleased to answer any questions that you may desire, but I will state now that Mr. Bourke, the local division superintendent or Mr. Nicholson, the local agent, will be better able to answer those questions."

Under questioning in regard to the plans for a proposed new Central station, Mr. Bourke stated that the railroad was considering the plan of a new Central station just south of the Central bridge, now under construction. He said that the local agent and general yard master were having difficulty in working out the plan of tracks that would allow switching in that section.

"That is the one big difficulty, but just as soon as they agree on some plan we shall notify your chamber of commerce. As the president has told you the funds of the railroad are limited and have prevented changes here before this."

"We are preparing the plans, and we want to be in a position to be ready when the time comes to start work. The plans of the proposed new Central station would do away with the cab train service, or as the president terms it, the 'scoot' train service."

TWO AUTOS COLLIDED

Two automobiles collided on the Pawtucket boulevard near the pumping station last night but fortunately none of the occupants of either car was injured. The machines were driven by F. W. Brainard of 157 Nesmith street, this city, and Annie Boisclair of 55 Amory street, Manchester, N. H. As the machines were not being operated at a high speed, the damage was not serious although both cars were scratched and the headlights broken.

SURPRISE PARTY

A large number of friends of Miss Katherine Dolan assembled at the home of Miss Mae Cogger, 54 Moody street, and presented her with a large Victrola talking machine. Miss Dolan is a popular young lady of Pawtucketville. Miss Maude E. Kelly made the presentation and Miss Dolan, although taken by surprise, responded in a fitting manner. The house was decorated for the occasion in the national colors. The following musical program was carried out: Piano solo, Lillian Landry; solo, Anna Riley; song, "America, I Love You," Maude E. Kelly; duet, "A Little Love," Misses Elizabeth and Edna Duffy; quartet, "A Perfect Day" and "When It is Moonlight in May," Misses Edna Duffy, Edna Mulligan, Jennie Cogger and Mae Cogger; song, Miss Katherine Cogger. Miss Dolan gave a number of comic recitations, among them being a dialogue of "Cohen on the Telephone." Miss Lillian Landry was the accompanist of the evening. Refreshments were served before the party dispersed.

LA BELLE DIANA

Fashioned of pale blue net that falls in tiers lengthening at the back, this skirt is an admirable length for dancing. The simple bodice has shoulder straps of blue tulle, which also wreath the front of the skirt. The girdle is wide blue satin ribbon crushed.

Curl Hair This Way and Keep it Healthy

It has been found that the use of a harmless and inexpensive fluid which keeps the hair in its natural condition, giving it the appearance of true naturalness, besides keeping the hair softer and glossier than possible with the heated iron, the fluid may be applied with a clean tooth brush, this being drawn through the hair from crown to tip and allowed to dry over night. In the morning the hair will be beautifully wavy and curling, and will lie easily and loosely on the head, as it should, considering its welfare from a hygienic standpoint. A few ounces of liquid salerine will last for months and as it is really beneficial to the hair, which cannot be said of the heated iron, it should be generally adopted by the fair sex. It will not spot or discolor scalp or hair, nor leave any sediment, grease or stickiness.—Home Doctor.

DENIES SAILINGS CANCELLED

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The Austro-German submarine campaign in the Mediterranean will make but little difference in sailings from New York to Italian ports and cause but slight rearrangement of schedules, steamship agents announced today. A statement to the effect that all sailings for Italian ports had been cancelled, attributed last night to Hartford, Solari & Co., agents of the Italian line, was denied by the firm today.

GERMAN WAR REPORT

BERLIN, Nov. 19. (By wireless to Sayville, N. Y.)—The capture of 5000 Serbians was announced by the war office today.

The text of today's German official statement by army headquarters on military operations is as follows:

"Western theatre of war: There have been artillery duels and mining warfare in and near the Argonne and in the Vosges.

"A German aeroplane squadron attacked a British troop encampment west of Poperinghe.

"Eastern theatre of war: There is nothing to report.

"Balkan theatre of war: During yesterday's successful battles in pursuit of the enemy about 5000 Serbians were taken prisoner."

INDENMITIES FOR WAR DAMAGE

PARIS, Nov. 19.—The law providing for indemnities to French citizens for war damages, as elaborated by a special committee of the chamber of deputies, and as it will probably be enacted, proclaims "the equality of all French citizens and the solidarity of the nation in the face of the burdens of war," and declares that "damages caused in France to the property, real or personal, by acts of war gives right to indemnity."

The damages specifically named as entitling a citizen to reparation are those caused by the authorities or the troops of the army, including taxes, requisitions, war contributions, fines imposed upon private individuals or communities, regardless of whether they were in conformity with the conventions of the Hague. Included also are all damages caused by the French army or its allies.

The right of foreigners to indemnities in France, according to this project will depend upon the terms of treaties with the nations of which they are subjects. The damages are to be estimated by commissions appointed for the purpose.

ZEPPELINS CAUSE REMOVAL

Window of St. Margaret's church, Finest Specimen of Stained Glass Work in London, Taken Out

LONDON, Nov. 19.—The east window of St. Margaret's church, adjoining Westminster Abbey, which has been called the finest specimen of stained glass work in London, is being removed to a place of safety in view of the recent Zeppelin raids.

The window was made at Gouda, Holland, and was presented by the margraves of Dori to King Henry VIII for the chapel of Whitehall palace. The king, however, gave it to Waltham Abbey. The glass, of which the blues and greens are remarkably striking, suffered sundry removals and vicissitudes, and at one time was buried to escape the zeal of the Puritans. Eventually it was purchased by the wardens of St. Margaret for $2,000. It is now valued at twenty times that sum.

BRITISH ADVANCE CHECKED

BERLIN, Nov. 19. (Via wireless to Sayville, N. Y.)—The British advance against Baghdad has been checked south of Kut in Mesopotamia by mutiny of Indian troops who refused to march further against Baghdad because of the presence in that city of objects sacred to their religion according to a Frankfurter Zeitung despatch from Constantinople, the Overseas News Agency says.

BANK CLEARINGS

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Bradstreet's compilation of bank clearings for the week, show an aggregate of $4,945,542,000, gains of 8.6 per cent. over last week, 73.6 last year and 46.7 in 1913. Outside of New York the total is $1,531,335,000, an increase of 6.5 per cent. over last week, 25.8 last year and 17.3 in 1913.

AERO SQUADRON OFF

FORT SILL, Okla., Nov. 19.—The first aero squadron, U.S.A., composed of six aeroplanes, started from the aviation field here today on a flight to new headquarters at San Antonio.

The flight is the first of its kind ever attempted by army aviators and will be made under conditions as nearly like those encountered in war time as possible. It is planned to complete the journey in six days.

MAKE IT PRACTICAL

Our great industrial exposition has been the talk of the town for the past week. Everybody has seen it, and all who have seen it have been loud in their praise. Not a dissenting voice has been heard. To all members of the board of trade and individual exhibitors included—it was a revelation of civic enterprise. As an impetus to city boosting it has been worth any number of speeches and press agitations, for it showed plainly that Lowell is a city of enterprise and progressiveness, one of the great workshops of the world.

Aside from the direct advertising value to local industries what will be the practical results of the exposition? It is not enough that it has aroused a better local spirit, though this is indeed praiseworthy. Neither is it sufficient that it has given the people of Lowell a better understanding of their city in an industrial sense. We may know Lowell from one end to the other; we may love it, take pride in it and boost it vehemently at all times, but unless we severally do our part in making it a bigger and better city we shall scarcely do our part as good citizens.

With general co-operation and intelligent leadership it should be possible at the present time to secure general support for genuine projects of civic advancement. Such a proposition is that to erect a public hall. The most direct lesson of the Kasino show was the necessity for a large hall for such exhibition purposes where, if necessary, a Made-in-Lowell show could be held annually, with a patronage from distant points. If the exposition should leave an agitation for a public hall as a legacy, it would have fully justified its existence, but all who know anything about the value of sound public opinion know that the benefits of the great show cannot be measured or gauged easily.

Another practical result which should be aimed at is to plan for more direct relationship between the local manufacturers and merchants and the local public. Now that we have all seen the diversity and high quality of the Lowell commodity, there is a feeling that we should give it the preference, and if the mills and stores take advantage of this public feeling, it ought to mean a far larger business. We feel that the people of Lowell will do their share if they are met half way by local leaders of business.

KEEP IT UP

That the agitation for safety in schools will not die down seems evident from the reports of communities in all sections of the state. In some instances the state authorities demand improvements and in others the city governments anticipate state action by an investigation followed by plans for improvement. If the needs for greater safety were borne in mind everywhere, state action would not be necessary for each community could without difficulty discover its shortcomings and remedy them. Money is being spent all around for less worthy projects, but in no particular is the expenditure of money more necessary. Schools must be made as safe as human ingenuity can make them and as a beginning the more obvious dangers should be removed.

One of the most encouraging reports comes from Newton where the chief of the fire department and the commissioner of public buildings have just made an investigation of the schools and recommended immediate changes. There is a lesson for all communities in their joint report which declares that many of the schools are in a dangerous condition, especially the Technical High school, which is the newest and most costly in Newton. With regard to this school, they say that it is filled with inflammable material and that a fire in the basement would rapidly spread to the entire structure.

Among other constructive criticisms, the Newton report declares that in every school in Newton—and there are 25—it is necessary for children to pass doors leading from the basement in order to go from the stairs to the exits. Many changes are suggested, amounting to about $50,000, most of which are in line with the suggestions made everywhere since the Peabody tragedy. The state and local authorities seem thoroughly aroused to the necessity for sweeping school changes, and the public will support any reasonable expenditure to this end. In this city we should see that our schools are thoroughly safe before we start to spend a hundred thousand dollars or so for improvements that are neither timely nor necessary.

ALLIES IN BALKANS

One of the most engrossing problems of the war is before the world at the present time in regard to the present and future status of the allies in the Balkans. The entire question hinges on the decision of Greece and this decision will apparently be taken before long. King Constantine is in no hurry to make up his mind but apparently both England and France are prodding him on to some positive determination, while the Kaiser, through his sister the Queen of Greece and others is just as strongly opposing the allied designs. Anything may happen, without surprising the world. If, tomorrow, Greece should declare war on Germany, it would not seem strange; if Greece should declare war on the allies, the world would not be amazed. Tied by contrary currents of feeling, Greece will have a hard task in keeping neutral, though it reports to be true the Greek people are not in sympathy with their king, who, however, has the army on his side. Still, the situation might change daily. Should the allies try to coerce Greece into action or incite the people against their king, there might be a prompt revolt; should the Teutonic drive against Serbia prove as successful as intended, it might have a like result. On the other hand, the allies have Greece practically at their mercy, for though Greece could intern the troops flying from Serbia and prevent the landing of others at Saloniki, the English, French and Italian fleet could bombard the Greek coast and declare an effective contraband on supplies. The allies are doing everything possible to coax and scare Greece into action, but Bulgarian victories are a powerful counter argument. It will prove fascinating to watch developments, and there is no certainty as to what any day may bring, one way or the other.

THE DEFECTIVE BABY

A few days ago a defective baby was born in a Chicago hospital. It had many physical deformities and in all probability had it lived it would have grown up with a deformed mentality. One of the doctors in the hospital explained the situation to the mother of the pitiable little waif and while admitting that an operation might have given it an opportunity to live he advised her to let it die. She agreed to do so, no operation was performed and the defective infant died in a few days. Now a storm of comment has swept over the country and while some praise the doctor for what they deem his courage and independence of thought, others condemn him for taking a course that is neither in conformity with medical ethics nor the ideals of Christianity or deeper humanity.

While it may be true that the baby, if operated on, might have lived to be a physical monstrosity and a moral perversity, there was a chance that its mind might in time triumph over its deformity. A list of the world's greatest leaders in the realms of thought would reveal the names of many who were physically defective, and however ugly the caseness of the body, the mind might have shone out like a star. Who then shall set himself up as the master of life and death? Is it not the mission of science to take what nature provides and work for its improvement without setting out to destroy what it cannot create?

On the other hand it may be argued that the doctor did not put the child out of existence, but if he could have saved its life he was not constructively its destroyer? In this he assumed an enormous responsibility, the influence of which might be most dangerous to society. Unfortunately the modern cry of efficiency and materialism is soulless, and there is a tendency to regard man as a mere machine, but where mind and soul are concerned, no man can set himself up as a judge of the right of a child to live.

It must not be forgotten in this connection that many families would have been happier had defective children died, but selfishness has not yet taken the place of charity in the scheme of existence. The Author of Life permits some to suffer, for reasons that we may not see as yet, but nevertheless the defective have the right to live and strive for moral, if not physical, perfection.

HOSPITAL SHIP LOST

The meagre despatch which told of the sinking of the hospital ship Anglia in the English channel brought a message of one of the most tragic occurrences of the war, for though the loss of life was comparatively slight the circumstances made the incident more touching than war's greatest tragedies. The instrument of destruction was a floating mine, and the victims were about one hundred soldiers who were wounded at the front and were destined for English hospitals. Many of those lost were in their cots at the time of the collision with the mine and they did not have the shadow of a chance to escape. It is most harrowing to picture those young men, maimed by shot and shell and wrecked by the horrors of trench combat, sent to their death as they had hoped for a term of recuperation in the quiet of a hospital ward. Still more terrible is the picture of the homes where they were fondly expected, where everything would have been done by parents, wife, sister and brother to atone for what they had been through. Almost in sight of the friendly cliffs of Dover that they fought to save from invasion they met the death that had spared them in the battles of the bloody line in France and Belgium. The pathetic story is another episode in a drama of unparalleled horrors.

BETTER WATER

According to Supt. Thomas, tests of the water which has passed through coke at the filtration plant show that from 75 to 80 per cent of the iron which it contained has been eliminated. The sand filters have not yet been used but it is the expectation of the water department that these will take away the remaining impurities and give us as pure a water supply as possible. A few months will serve to show whether this prognostication is too bright as the impurities in the local water were visual and more offensive to the eye than to the stomach. If the new filtration plant in reality gives us sparkling water, free from iron and manganese, it will have proved a public boon, for the people of Lowell want water that looks as pure as chemists say it is.

Just about the time that Germany had designated as the time of parting for the allies, a joint conference is held in Paris attended by representatives of the English government, and Russia has signified her intention of being present at the next. In view of their recent difficulties it is most significant that the allies are drawing closer together. This shows that the mighty resolve to conquer is not limited to Germany, which has been claiming a monopoly in it as well as some other things.

Come to think of it wouldn't it be a little ungrateful if His Honor, the mayor, should become an assessor in due time, and apply his theory of machinery valuation and double taxation to his friends in the newspaper business and in the manufacture of textile fabrics in this city. But the mayor is giving out his present dose for campaign purposes only, having admitted that candidates make statements on the stump merely for effect with the voters.

There are said to be 33 living Apollos at Chicago university, otherwise known as "perfect men," physically speaking. If that is their only claim to distinction they are wasting time as they should be in some male chorus. Yet, the original Apollo had some mentality and perhaps the "perfect men" may live down their reputation for brawn as opposed to brain.

A candidate on the stump who cannot find much of anything to say on his own merits or achievements can cultivate his voice in grand style and make a fool of himself at the same time by abusing someone who is not running for office.

SEEN AND HEARD

Abu Martin says one of the easiest ways to die is being killed by an unguarded report.

Not Committing Himself

"Any rattlesnakes around here?" "What's your business?" asked the boy with the big straw hat. "What has that to do with it?" "Well, the last man who looked around here for summer board asked me a lot of questions like that, and when I told him there wasn't any rattlesnakes or mosquitoes or anything he said he was a metallist and guessed the place wouldn't suit him."—Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph.

There Was a Reason

Some time ago an esteemed resident of the country went to a big city to call on an acquaintance, and when he returned he had much to tell at the corner grocery.

"Do you know, Zeke," remarked Uncle Josh one evening, "that Jess" as soon as I hit that city town I made a dive for one of them 20-story buildings

A NERVE TONIC

In many severe nervous disorders the best remedy is often a tonic. The most active tonic treatment is recommended by the highest medical authority to arrest the progress of such diseases.

It is impossible to reach the nerves directly with medicine. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a saving tonic but they act on the nerves through the blood, enabling the blood to carry to the nerves the elements needed to build them up. Neuritis, sciatica, sick headache and a number of more severe nervous troubles are properly treated by building up the blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and are often entirely corrected in this way.

If you are nervous you can help yourself by refusing to worry, by taking proper rest, sleep and vacations, by avoiding excesses and by taking out-of-door exercise. For medicine take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, the non-alcoholic tonic.

Sufferers from nervous disorders who have been taking treatment without benefit should investigate the tonic method. Write today to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for the booklet, "Disorders of the Nervous System." It will be sent free on request.

Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail on receipt of price, fifty cents per box, six boxes for $2.50.

and went straight up to the top." "Ye don't mean it, Josh," returned Zeke, wondering. "What in the thunderation did ye do that for?" "Safety first, Zeke," answered Uncle Josh. "Ye have ter git at least that high to keep from bein' run over by the cars and automobiles."—Exchange.

Successful Memory Treatment

The late Horace Hutton used to say that having to take a little trouble would impress a fact on any one's memory so that he would never be able to forget it. In illustration he would tell this story:

"Our waitress, Maggie, could never remember to put salt on the table, and time after time Mrs. Hutton would remind her to do it. One morning it was absent, as usual, and I said, 'Maggie,' where is the salt ladder?" "It's in the pantry, sir." "Please bring it in, Maggie. I said kindly."

"Maggie brought it in with a look of wonder on her face. 'Put it right beside the table, I commanded; and when she had done so I added, 'Now I want you to climb up to the top of it, look all over the table and see if there is any salt there.' 'Maggie never forgot the salt again.'—Youth's Companion.

Courage

Courage isn't a brilliant dash. A daring deed in a moment's flash; It isn't an instantaneous thing, Born of despair with a sudden spring. It isn't a creature of flickered hope Or the final tug at a slipping rope, But it's something deep in the soul of man That is working always to serve some plan.

Courage isn't the last resort In the work of life or the game of sport; It isn't a thing that a man can call At some future time when he's apt to fail.

If he hasn't it now, he will have it not When the strain is great and the pace is hot, For who would strive for a distant goal Must always have courage within his soul.

Courage isn't a dazzling light That flashes and passes away from sight; It's slow, unwavering, ingrained trait That has the patience to work and wait.

It's part of a man when his skies are blue, It's part of him when he has work to do, The brave man never is freed of it, He has it when there's no need of it.

Courage was never designed for show, It isn't a thing that can come and go, It's written in victory and defeat And every trial a man may meet. It's part of his hours, his days and years, Back of his smiles and behind his tears, Courage is more than a daring deed— It's the breath of life and a strong man's creed.

—Edgar A. Guest in Detroit Free Press.

Making Bird Houses

In view of the interest that is being taken in the matter of construction of bird houses in this vicinity of late, especially among children, the instructions sent out by the government on this subject may be of interest. According to this authority, an ordinary tomato can with a circular piece of excellent fitted in one end will make an excellent house to attract bluebirds or wrens. The board should have a hole in its upper half to serve as an entrance and the can may then be hung by wires to the limb of a tree or fastened to a croch. A farmers' bulletin (No. 669) entitled "Bird Houses and How to Build Them" has been issued by the United States department of agriculture, and in it are outlined plans for bird houses of all descriptions from the simple one to an elaborate martin house with doors that open and close. Many birds that are economically valuable, says the bulletin, may be attracted to particular localities by the construction of bird houses. The importance of birds as insect destroyers is being more appreciated every year, and as a result there has been a decided movement to protect and make neighbors of them. Many birds, if furnished a safe retreat, will more than pay their rent to their landlords. The tomato can may be used in another manner to attract the desirable wren or bluebird. One end may be removed and the can may be superimposed on a post of the same size and fastened securely by pressing it down. A hole should be cut in the side to permit the bird to enter. This tomato can house, as well as the other one described, should always be put in a shaded place, as the metal becomes very hot in the sun. Simple bird houses have long been made in the southern states from gourds. The entrance is in the side, and there is a drain hole made in the bottom. A piece of wire through the neck for mounting it completes the house. A number of gourds thus prepared and strung on a pole with a cross piece seems to make a satisfactory retirement house for a colony of martins. Used singly they are equally well adapted to wrens and bluebirds. While gourds are not endurable when exposed to the weather, they are easily replaced. Ordinary wooden boxes, if clean, can be made into simple bird houses by merely nailing on a cover and cutting out an entrance hole. Such makeshifts are rarely weather proof and are never pleasing to the eye. Branches containing real woodpecker holes, when obtainable, are perhaps the best attraction that can be offered most house birds. By carefully fitting such a branch to a fruit or shade tree its foreign origin will scarcely be noticed. A house that looks something like a mail box, and which may be fastened to the side of a tree, is particularly suitable for sparrow hawks and screech owls. Bluebirds and wrens, that do not seem very particular about what habitation they occupy, may also use a similar house. Its bottom can be removed by turning a bottom. Another house that also resembles a mail box, but has a gable roof, where the screech owl dwelling has a flat one, is designed to be placed on top of a post or stub of a tree rather than fastened to its side. Such a house has proved attractive to flickers. The roof may be lifted off as a stepladder is removed from a bottle. Bird houses may be made more or less elaborate according as people have time and inclination to put on their construction. Many bird lovers take great pleasure in arranging, planning and building elaborate habitations for birds, and such may receive valuable hints for the construction of an attractive three-story martin house from the department's new bulletin.

LOOK AT CHILD'S TONGUE IF SICK CROSS, FEVERISH

When Constipated or Bilious Give "California Syrup of Figs"

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When peevish, cross, listless, pale, don't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad, has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul and sour bile gently moving out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless "fruit laxative," they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. To be sure you get the genuine, ask to see that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with imitation.

Protest Against Turkish Atrocities on Armenian People — Appeal for Relief Funds

Dr. James L. Barton, president of the national Armenian atrocities committee, was the principal speaker at a meeting of protest against the atrocities that are being committed by the Turks against Armenians, which was held last evening in St. Anne's parish house under the auspices of a committee from the Federation of Churches.

Mayor Murphy also spoke and he pledged the services of the municipal council to any committee that might be formed in this city, and concluded by saying some means should be taken in Lowell to swell the fund for Armenian relief.

Dr. Barton in the course of his address read extracts from copies of consular and ambassadorial reports that are on file in the state department at Washington, the said reports describing the most awful atrocities covering a period from April to September. Dr. Barton said that assuming that there were 2,000,000 Armenians in Turkey, he estimates, from the reports from various parts of the country that at least one million have been either put to death or forced to leave the country, or are on the journey of death. The state department, he says, estimates the number to be 1,500,000.

The doctor said he did not know the reason for these atrocities. At the close of the doctor's address Samuel H. Thompson offered a set of resolutions which was adopted, and then Mayor Murphy addressed the gathering.

A committee of three to enlarge itself was appointed by the chairman, Rev. J. M. Kyle, the appointees being as follows: Capt. W. P. White, U. S. N. retired, Samuel H. Thompson and William E. Abbott.

Following are the resolutions that were adopted:

Whereas, the world is witnessing today in Turkey, amid the multiple horrors that are afflicting Europe, what will appear as the greatest, most pathetic and most arbitrary tragedy in history—the deliberate extermination at the hands of the Turkish government of the entire Armenian race, one of the oldest and most honorable races, and

Whereas, the purpose of the Turkish government would seem to include the extinction, not only of the Armenian race, but also of other Christian races in that unhappy land; and in the execution of its purpose, the employment of methods that for injustice and cruelty surpass anything that ever preceded it in Turkey or any other country; and

Whereas, the present condition of such of these sorely persecuted people as may have escaped death is utterly helpless and desolate, unless succored by their Christian brethren;

Be it resolved, that we, the representatives of the Christian churches of Lowell, Mass., gathered in public assembly, in the name of Jesus Christ, our common Lord, and of an enlightened manhood and civilization, do most earnestly protest against this awful crime against a defenseless race and against civilization. Not forgetting the difficulties and obstacles in the way of his effective interference and with full confidence in his Christian sympathy and integrity, we urge upon the president of the United States such action by our government as may commend itself to his wisdom and as within his power, believing that as a Christian nation we cannot, we must not, permit such a stupendous crime to go unprotected and unrebuked.

Be it further resolved, that we call upon the Christian people of our city to fervently remember the distresses of their American brethren in their prayers to Almighty God, and to generously contribute of their abundance to the immediate relief of the destitution of this afflicted people.

Plenty of fun at Associate, tonight.

White and Parent Arrested at Concord Charged With Theft From Franklin Police Station

FRANKLIN, N. H., Nov. 19.—City Marshal Manchester received word yesterday from Concord that Harry White of Skowhegan and Fred Parent of Waterville, Me., had been arrested there for him.

It is alleged that White stole an overcoat here belonging to Policeman Michael Doherty and that Parent sold it. It is claimed the coat was recovered in Concord.

The two men sought lodging at the police station Tuesday night and were let out at their request at 3 a. m. Wednesday. It is alleged that the overcoat was stolen from the police station when they left the building.

TEMPERANCE PARADE

ARRANGEMENTS FOR SIX DIVISIONS WITH TWO BANDS AND TWENTY FLOATS

The committee and workers in charge of the big temperance parade to be held in this city on Saturday, Dec. 4, met last evening in the Y.W.C.A. and completed arrangements for the affair. Besides the Lowell divisions, a large number of temperance advocates are expected to represent Chelmsford, Tewksbury, Dracut, Billerica and other nearby towns. The parade will be comprised of six divisions, one drum corps, two bands and about 20 floats. It will form in the Highlands and start promptly at 2 o'clock. The route of the parade will be: Westford street, to Chelmsford, to Appleton, to Garnet, to Middlesex, to Central, to Merrimack, to city hall. Here after being reviewed by the mayor, the participants will be dismissed.

For chief marshal, an attempt is being made to secure one of Lowell's most prominent temperance workers, Harry W. J. Howe has been selected as chief aide, and the various divisions will be headed as follows:

First division, boys, George F. Lockhart.

Second division, girls, W. J. McCready.

Third division, men, Herbert J. Ball.

Fifth division, women, Ray Mellin. Sixth division, general, Walter A. Chase.

of Westford. Second, girls: Bellevue street, south of Westford.

Third, women: Gates street, south of Westford.

Fourth, children: Royal street, south of Westford.

Fifth, men: Grand street, south of Westford.

Special or general: Howard street, south of Westford.

Besides the special features and floats which will comprise the sixth and last division, other features will be distributed throughout the parade. Features have been proposed by W.C.T.U., Florence Crittenton Rescue League, working boys of the Y.M.C.A., and the following churches: First Baptist, Palace Street Baptist, First Unitarian Congregational, Kirk Street Congregational, Centralville M. E., Evangelical, First Presbyterian and First Pentecostal.

One of the floats will be a water wagon mounted by 15 boys representing the 15 dry cities in Massachusetts. Another will present 19 young women, dressed in white, personifying the 19 dry states of America. A suggestion was made as to the use of Billy Sunday's song, "The Brewer's Big Horse Can't Run Over Me," and other valuable ideas were exchanged. The meeting was presided over by Committee Chairman Walter A. Chase.

DEPUTY SHERIFF RESIGNS

RUMFORD, Me. Nov. 19.—It was announced yesterday that the resignations of Deputy Sheriffs Everett M. Bessey of Rumford and Thomas Penley of Mexico were received by Sheriff William O. ## Jury Awards Father and Daughter $1500—Cawley Case—Jury Waived Session

The jury in the case of Sullivan vs. the Boston Elevated Co., which was tried at the civil session of the superior court last week, reported this morning in the sum of $1500 for the plaintiff, father and daughter. The father was awarded $500 and the daughter, $1000.

This was an action of tort by which the plaintiffs sought to recover for injuries received by a young woman in an elevated car accident in the subway at Cambridge. The case was given to the jury yesterday morning.

The Cawley Case

The case of Edward Cawley vs. the city of Lowell, an action of contract by which the plaintiff seeks to recover a certain sum of money for goods, which he alleges have been delivered to the city and which have never been paid for, was started this morning in the probate court room with William A. Hogan, Esq., acting as auditor.

In this case Mr. Cawley claims he has sold to the city pipes and other goods, amounting to between $300 and $400 and never received any pay for same.

GAS, HEARTBURN, INDIGESTION OR A SICK STOMACH!

"Pape's Diapiesin" ends all stomach distress in five minutes.

Time it! Pape's Diapiesin will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour, gassy or out-of-order stomach surely within five minutes.

If your meals don't lie comfortably, or what you eat like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion.

Get from your pharmacist a fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapiesin and take a dose just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, nausea, debilitating headaches, dizziness or intestinal griping. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapiesin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is waiting for you at any drug store.

These large fifty-cent cases contain enough "Pape's Diapiesin" to keep the entire family free from stomach disorders and indigestion for many months. It belongs in your home.

ARMAND GIARD OF WARE PLAYED WITH DYNAMITE CAPS—EXPLOSION BLEW OFF FINGERS

WARE, Nov. 18.—Armand Giard, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jean Giard of Walnut street, was playing with a dynamite percussion cap and a toy pistol yesterday, when the cap exploded and blew off the index finger and a portion of the thumb of the boy's left hand and made a gash in his nose. A portion of the metal of the cap pistol punctured his left eye, which he may lose the sight of.

Dr. Louis E. Dionne took the boy to Ware hospital and summoned Dr. Harry D. Gaffney to assist him in amputating the finger and thumb. Anti-tetanus toxin was injected to prevent lockjaw.

HOW TO CURE INSANITY

DR. ABBOTT TELLS OF CAUSES—MANY CASES CAUSED BY RECREATIONS

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—Lack of rest and indiscretion of energy toward so-called recreations were set down last evening as the chief causes of sending individuals to the McLean hospital, Waterbury, by Dr. E. Stanley Abbott, its pathologist and clinical director. He was delivering an address on "Preventable Forms of Mental Disease and How to Prevent Them" at the Mental Hygiene conference in Ford hall.

Dr. Abbott analyzed proportionately the various causes of patients coming under his care, saying:

"Some cases are inevitable because of the force of circumstances. But many—perhaps as much as half or three-quarters—could be prevented if people would rest more and tire themselves less, not only with work, but with so-called recreations and in other ways. Dancing, the theatres, the movies, the ball game, really fatigue us, though the interest and excitement of them cover up the feeling of fatigue for a time. They divert but do not refresh. One never feels like settling down to hard work right after such recreations."

Dr. Irwin N. Neff, superintendent of the Norfolk State hospital, in discussing "Inebriety and How to Control It," said:

"Inebriety, whether from alcohol or drugs, is an expression of nervous weakness, the nervous weakness being inherited, founded on this weakness is a habit which we call drunkenness. The inebriate is as it were the sum total of his personality or make-up, and the symptoms which we call drunkenness. The punitive system of caring for inebriates is useless and not economical. The inebriate should be segregated in a specialized hospital, such as is already provided in this state, until such time as re-education and rebuilding both mentally and physically shall make him again capable of re-establishing himself in the community. Not all can be rehabilitated. Some have no foundation upon which to build, but experience of the last five years at the State Hospital for Inebriates has shown that a surprisingly large number of the so-called 'incurables' will react favorably to treatment."

"Alcohol in Relation to Mental Diseases," said:

"Carefully executed experiments carried out both in this country and abroad, have shown that alcohol in even moderate amounts lowers mental and nervous efficiency."

In the evening session of the conference at which Dr. Allan J. McLaughlin, Massachusetts commissioner of health, presided, Dr. A. Warren Stearns of Boston, assistant to the state board of insanity, spoke on "What Recent Investigations Have Shown to be the Relation Between Mental Defect and Crime." Dr. Samuel T. Orton of the Pennsylvania hospital also spoke.

Mrs. George W. Perkins, president of the Massachusetts Federation of Women's Clubs, presided at the afternoon session of the conference.

"What Shall be the Attitude of the Public Toward the Recovered Insane Patient?" was the topic of Dr. Harry C. Solomon of the Boston Psychopathic hospital.

DOCTOR RESCUES GIRL

MISS SUSAN McLEAN, PULLED FROM CHARLES RIVER BY DR. BENNISON

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—Miss Susan McLean, a girl about 20 years old, who is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Obdier R. Conly, 16 Fairmount street, Everett, was rescued from drowning when her canoe upset in the Charles river just below Newton Upper Falls yesterday afternoon by Dr. Raymond E. Bennison, 26 Day street, Boston.

Miss McLean was alone in the canoe when it upset at a point in the river which is quite wide, and where the current is swift. Dr. Bennison saw the girl thrown into the water when her canoe was in the middle of the stream. He was alone in his canoe nearby at the time, and diving into the water grasped the girl and swam with her to the shore.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

A well attended and enthusiastic meeting of Division 1, A.O.H., was held last evening in Hibernian hall with President McCarthy in the chair. Reports of various officers were heard, two applications for membership were received, three new names were proposed and other business was transacted. After the session Rev. Francis Mullin of St. Michael's church spoke on the objects of the Federation of Catholic societies. Fr. Mullin gave a very pleasing address and at the conclusion of his remarks was given a rising vote of thanks. Musical numbers were given by the following: Edward Finnegan, Michael Mahoney, Joseph Johnson, Thomas Delmore, Timothy McCarthy, James J. Sheehan, Peter Gallagher, Harry Lenox and Andrew McCarthy.

The committee in charge of arrangements and to whose efforts the success of the affair was due, was composed of: Henry Smith, chairman; James J. Sheehan, George P. O'Meara, Michael Casey, Joseph Johnson, Martin McCarthy and Thomas Sheedy. The next meeting of the division will be held on December 2.

INDIAN MUTINIES NASHUA STRIKE

Labor Commissioner Davie Makes Public His Report

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Mail advices reaching Washington yesterday from India told of the execution of 24 Hindus and the sentences of 27 others to servitude for life by a governmental commission at Lahore, and described activities against the British government among certain elements in the Indian population more extensive than has been officially admitted.

According to the reports the Lahore affair was only one of several that recently have been brought to an issue in India with similar results, all the prosecutions being based upon charges of anarchy, mutiny and insubordination.

The native press, while speaking of the loyalty with which India has responded to the call by the British government upon the natives for military service, also has referred in terms of condemnation to the activities of the disaffected elements in the population, which in some quarters are ascribed to German machinations.

The general tendency, however, is to credit the untoward agitation to work of a band of conspirators alleged to have been located on the Pacific slope of America for several years and actively engaged in a secret propaganda. These conspirators are declared to have been stirring up antagonism to the British rule there.

The most disquieting feature of the situation, according to the reports, is the uncertainty of the extent to which the native troops have been tampered with. In the Punjab and in Bengal, between the middle of June and the middle of September, 17 Indian cavalry regiments were sentenced to death for mutiny, making bombs and firing rifles, and 71 others were convicted of other offenses.

ENGLISH STOCKS SUFFER

LONDON, Nov. 19.—Among English stocks which have suffered as regards price quotations during the past few months must be included the shares of all the big London banks. These stocks have always been considered investments of the most conservative nature, and the quotations for the important ones were frequently four or five times their par value, showing a net return to the investor of between four and five per cent. On a basis of present stock exchange prices, however, the average yield of stocks of the ten biggest English banks is 6.75 per cent.

The par value of English bank stocks varies widely. The stock in the biggest bank has a paid-up par value of only $12.50 per share; this stock is now quoted at $37.50 a share, at which price it yields the investor six per cent. Other good bank stocks have a paid-up value of from $20 to $75 and are quoted at $41 to $150.

To some extent the fall in prices of these stocks is due perhaps, to apprehension of lower dividends resulting from depression in the cotton and securities held by the banks, but a more potent influence has been the fact that large offerings of bank stock from closing up of estates have come upon narrow and even unwilling markets.

Best time at Associate hall tonight.

EAT A SQUARE MEAL AND NOT FEAR INDIGESTION

There are hundreds of people in Lowell who were not the least bit surprised when they read a while ago that drug-gists are now selling Mi-o-na on a guarantee to refund the money in case it did not relieve. This remarkable dyspepsia remedy has proved it will relieve the worst case of indigestion, headache, dizziness, and the general played-out condition that afflicts every one suffering with stomach trouble. Mi-o-na does not simply relieve, it aims to cure.

There is hardly a druggist but can tell you of many well-known people in this city who after they have tried many other methods of treatment with little or no benefit, we really believe no other dyspepsia remedy has made so large a percentage of cures as Mi-o-na. It is so large that dealers who have sold it for years stand ready to refund the price to any customer whom it does not help.

The best kind of advertising is the praise of a pleased customer, and there are hundreds today praising Mi-o-na because it has done for them what it is advertised to do. A few months ago they could eat nothing without wondering what the result would be. Since using Mi-o-na, they eat what they want and when they want with no fear of suffering. This medicine comes in the form of a tablet and is very pleasant to take. It speedsily and permanently relieves almost all forms of stomach trouble and is the only one sold under a positive guarantee without any restriction, to refund the money if it does not relieve. You can see Mi-o-na at all drug stores from any leading druggist in Lowell.

ITALIAN WAR REPORT

ROME, Nov. 18, via Paris, Nov. 19.—Continuation of the desperate and continued struggle for Gorizia is recounted in an official statement issued today at the headquarters of the Italian general staff. The communication follows:

"During all of yesterday there was an intense artillery action on both sides. The enemy's guns were particularly active in the Gorizia zone. We have seen that from the suburbs and even from the center of the town shots of all calibers are being fired against our positions.

"We also have noticed columns of troops coming from the town, crossing the bridge of Siondo and climbing the heights of Sabotina and Pedgora to reinforce and replace troops engaged there. Our artilleries have discovered Austrian batteries posted on the belt of heights dominating Gorizia from the east."

117 DEER SHOT

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—When the office of the fish and game commission closed at 5 yesterday afternoon 117 deer had been reported killed during the first three days of the open season in Massachusetts. These included 241 bucks and 173 does. Five others were reported wounded. Last year more than 60 deer were slain during the same period.

The smallest animal reported slain so far this season was a 78-pound doe, which was shot by Edward Miller in Colrain, Franklin county. Three does weighing 200 pounds each, were reported slain. One of these, shot in Washington, Berkshire county by Walter G. Briggs, had a set of eight-pound antlers.

THE SPELLBINDER

Mayor Murphy's attacks upon the proprietor of The Sun relative to the latter's taxes appear to have given Jackson Palmer an opportunity that he has been seeking, to get after the assessors, and he took advantage of it in his speeches last evening.

As a sort of preamble to his remarks, Mr. Palmer stated that he was not fighting for The Sun and that he had nothing in common with it, politically. He then referred to a statement which Mayor Murphy made concerning the proprietor of The Sun at a board of trade meeting to which the latter replied with a challenge to give $1000 to any charity if Mayor Murphy could prove his statement. Mayor Murphy, he said, never took up the challenge because his remarks were only "a Murphy story."

Referring to Mayor Murphy's statement as to the dodging of taxes, Mr. Palmer said: "When Mayor Murphy first made that statement Monday night I immediately asked him why if he had known this for two years he had not removed the assessors. I called attention to the fact also, that when it was put up to him a year ago to remove them he declined, and I have stated the reason why."

"But when I asked him why he did not remove the assessors Mayor Murphy went up to the Highlands and stated that he had only known about the matter four or five weeks when a gentleman suggested to him that he look into the matter of the tax bill paid by The Sun's proprietor."

"This, like the board of trade matter, is only a Murphy story and I'll show you why it is."

"Over one year ago a newspaper made this same tax dodging charge and as a result has been sued for libel by the proprietor of The Sun. The suit was brought over a year ago. Dennis J. Murphy, the mayor, is counsel of record for the paper thus sued. One of the libel charges against the paper, contained in the plaintiff's declaration, was that it had made that charge relative to the plaintiff's taxes and Mayor Murphy as the defendant's counsel made answer to that particular charge and hence has known about it for over one year."

"I have made charges and claims against the present board of assessors but I haven't dared at any time to make the charge that Mayor Murphy now brings against them nor did I charge that they have violated the statutes by furnishing the secret records of their office to be used for campaign purposes."

"Mr. Palmer then spoke of the unprotected waterways and called attention to the fact that it is always the children of the poor people, the working people who are drowned. 'You never hear of the children of mill agents or capitalists being drowned in these places,' said Jackson."

It is a very significant fact that on all the charges and challenges that Jackson Palmer has put up to Mayor Murphy since he started speaking the mayor has sidestepped and dodged them all, without referring to replying to, or denying any of them.

Palmer Sang a Little

After making several speeches Jackson Palmer wound up the evening at a clubhouse of the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen, in Old Fellows building where he sang a couple of songs. The spirit was willing but the "pipes" were a little hoarse.

Brown's Big Issue

Between Jackson Palmer and Geo. H. Brown, the Locks & Canals company may yet have a "hot time." Mr. Palmer is out to have them pay more taxes than they do at present, claiming that under their plan they have considerably over a million dollars' worth of property in Lowell, they are assessed for less than the Hildreth building. Mr. Brown speaking at Broadway and Williston street came out in favor of the municipal ownership of heat, light and power plants and argued that the city can generate its electricity from its water power now monopolized by the Locks & Canals company. If the Locks & Canals balk on sharing with the city then he will invoke the aid of the legislature to put the screws on the Locks & Canals company. He stated that under municipal ownership, the city would have a considerable saving in what the city is paying for them at the present time. He further stated that during his last term in office he presented this plan and that Mayor Murphy and Commissioners Morse and Carmichael turned him down. He stated that he even declined to visit the city of Holyoke and investigate for himself, claiming that the city of Holyoke is operating with success under this system.

O'Donnell on High School

Messrs. O'Donnell, Thompson and Palmer were around town last evening making speeches while Mayor Murphy was elsewhere engaged. Mr. Palmer moved Mayor Murphy for not removing the assessors as above mentioned. Mr. Thompson repeated his remarks about the introduction of the merit system at city hall.

Mr. O'Donnell, at Broadway and Williston street and in Centralville discussed the High school proposition. He called attention to the great haste of Mayor Murphy in making an appropriation of $100,000, which by no means represents the entire cost of the property seized and taking action upon it without taking the public into his confidence and before he had any definite plans relative to the kind of building to be constructed, and promising settlements that cannot be carried out. The seizure of a site for such an important project should be gone into with great care and deliberation and in full view of the public which is also vitally interested, for it is important not only that the best site for the money be obtained, but also that the least valuable taxable property be taken. In this case, without investigating other available sites, some very valuable property has been lost to the assessors. Mr. O'Donnell then criticized the site selected, stating that if the city is going to erect a $700,000 high school it should erect it on a site that would provide for an adequate approach to it and the authorities should submit of recreation grounds, and grounds for drill and athletic purposes. The public is far more interested in such matters as these, said Mr. O'Donnell, than in the number of drunks arrested or the number of Sunday soap-sellers brought to justice.

Crowley Ran Last Year

Through an oversight it was stated in this column recently that Dr. Calise and Peter P. McMenim were the only two candidates for school board who were heard during the campaign. The name of John A. Crowley, the well known young attorney, was omitted. Last year Mr. Crowley was placed in the contest by his friends at a time when he was completing his law studies prior to taking the bar examination. As a result he was unable to give any personal attention to the contest, yet he received over 2500 votes, making a handsome run under the circumstances. Mr. Crowley has since then been admitted to the bar and is practicing his profession, with offices in the Hildreth building, and he will put up a real campaign this year. Mr. Crowley and Mr. McMenim are a couple of good talkers, the latter having been heard during the campaign last year. There is quite a list of candidates from which to select townsmen and the others are William T. S. Hartlett, Joseph F. Farmer, Eli B. Hart, Frank McMahon, Robert N. Thomas and Richard Brabrook Walsh.

Their Father's Sons

This is quite a year for "their father's sons" in politics. Twenty-five years ago, Jackson, Palmer's father was mayor of Lowell and Perry Thompson's father was a prominent politician and afterward postmaster, while A. G. Walsh, father of Richard Brabrook Walsh, candidate for the school board, was president of the common council, and for several years was chairman of the republican city committee, a perennial chairman of all big republican conventions and a handy man at nominating candidates in conventions. And 25 years ago when the fathers of these candidates were in the game, Col. Carmichael was chairman of the democratic city committee while Robert E. Crowley was some power in old ward 6 and a member of the legislature at about that time. Twenty-five years ago also James H. Walker was prominent in politics and labor matters, being a staunch advocate of higher wages and the shorter working day for the bricklayers. Later upon becoming an employer he consistently granted his men what he himself had fought for while working at his trade.

In the Old Days

Speaking of days gone by, in the list of candidates for commissioner are five who were prominent in the game under the old form of government, Smith J. Adams, Col. Carmichael, Daniel Cosgrove, James F. Miskella and Joseph Mullin. Mr. Adams was a republican under the old dispensation and once had the distinction of leading the ticket as an alderman candidate. Col. Carmichael served several terms in the board of aldermen and it was said that he could be elected alderman whenever he desired to run. Dan Cosgrove served in the common council from ward 4 and subsequently in the board of aldermen. A speech that Dan made in the common council chamber during a heated debate one night long ago brought him into local fame and landed him high and dry in the upper board at the following election. James F. Miskella has the unique distinction of having served as acting mayor of Lowell during a crisis in local affairs. Mr. Miskella was president of the board of aldermen during the year of the South Lowell explosion. On account of his position he was acting mayor during the absence of the mayor, Mayor Dimon. This latter was away from Lowell on the day of the explosion and Alderman Miskella took charge of the situation and handled it well, calling out the militia and throwing a cordon of soldiers around the ruined district. In the interest of public safety, Joseph Mullin served out in the board of aldermen and his defeat for a second term was due to a party overthrow in which only one democrat was elected the following year. Mr. Mullin was chairman of the committee on wires at a time when the wire department was an "infant industry" at city hall. He made a careful study of conditions, visiting other cities at his own expense and had much to do with the successful development of that department.

The French-American Vote

There has been considerable discussion relative to primary possibilities, as to the strength of the French-American vote, and it is being variously estimated at between 2000 and 2500. Dr. Mignault's supporters claim that there are over 2500 French voters in the city, which include both democrats and republicans, in national and state politics, for there are some consistent French democrats in Lowell, despite the popular impression that all are republicans.

Thompson Making Gains

There isn't any doubt that Perry D. Thompson's stock has taken a big boost within the past few days, especially when he made a speech to his supporters that he meant business, by going on the stump. There is a flocking of Murphy republicans to Thompson noticeable both in Belvidere and in the Highlands. At his noon-day speech at the Tannery yesterday Mr. Thompson explained the great anti-party reform in the appointment of evening school teachers that he brought about when a member of the school board and argued that the merit system should prevail, rather than the political. In all departments of the city's business, and promised to bring about this reform at city hall. If elected, former Mayor O'Donnell, who spoke after Mr. Thompson yesterday noon, complimented Mr. Thompson on his address and said: "No doubt some day Mr. Thompson will be mayor and be a creditable mayor to the city of Lowell, but not next year because I desire to be mayor next year and feel that the voters of Lowell will allow me the prior claim."

Canopic List Cut by 35 First Cabin Cancellations Since Submarine Attack in Mediterranean

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—Thirty-five saloon passengers who had booked passage on the White Star liner Canopic, cancelled their reservations after the sinking of the Ancona by a submarine in the Mediterranean. Only six first-cabin passengers will go on the liner, which leaves Commonwealth pier at 9 tonight, and the rest will all leave the vessel at the Azores.

The Canopic left New York yesterday and will arrive here late this afternoon to embark also 75 second-cabin and 500 stowage passengers. In the steerage will be 200 Italian servants, who have been given military tickets by the Italian consul. About 300 Portuguese will sail for the Azores to spend the Christmas holidays.

The saloon passengers will be Rev. and Mrs. D. A. Hastings, Elmer Hudson and Miss Emma C. Reddick of Boston. A few passengers embarked at New York, but they will have an Italian cargo, including consignments for the Italian government.

THE HOUSE has two tenements of 10 rooms, bath and pantry each, but is now occupied by two tenants. On the first floor are three large rooms, kitchen, sitting room and parlor. The second floor has three large, well lighted chambers and bath, and on the next floor are four good chambers. The other side of the house is laid out exactly the same. It is heated by steam, has hot and cold water, gas, front and back stairs, cellar kitchen, good granite foundation, cemented cellar and a fire escape in the rear.

THE LOT is a corner one, having a good frontage on Tyler street, which must be forever kept open. It contains about 3257 square feet of land.

NOW, MR. SPECULATOR, there is a parcel that should receive your attention, being located, as it is, near to cars, the center of the city, the postoffice, many large industries and right in the business section of the city. It is always well rented, paying a yearly income of $633, and it is in good repair inside and out and rented by a first-class tenant.

Terms of sale—$450 must be secured to the auctioneer as soon as struck off. Make all inquiries of the auctioneer, who has full charge.

C. F. KEYES, Auctioneer.

A 3-STORY HOUSE, FRENCH SLATED ROOF "L" AND ABOUT 4341 SQ. FT. OF LAND AT NO. 16 TYLER ST.

THE HOUSE contains 10 rooms, bath, pantry, kitchen and dining room in basement. The rooms are conveniently laid out, good closet room, lighted throughout by gas, has steam heat, hot and cold water, open plumbing, all in good repair and is occupied by a good tenant, renting for $35 per month, or a yearly income of $120.

THE LOT, which has a good frontage on Tyler street, has also a frontage on the passageway leading from Church to Tyler street, which makes this a corner lot with an area of about 4341 square feet. Here is a grand opportunity for a man with a large family who is looking for a place near the center of the city and the sale will be absolute, regardless of weather conditions.

Look the above two parcels up and talk with the auctioneer before the sale.

Terms of sale—$250 must be secured to the auctioneer as soon as struck off. All inquiries of the auctioneer, who has full charge.

C. F. KEYES, Auctioneer.

A COTTAGE HOUSE, STABLE, HEN HOUSE AND ABOUT 3600 SQ. FT. OF LAND AT 199 MAMMOTH ROAD, COR. OF ROSS AVE.

This cozy little eight room cottage is located opposite St. Columba's church. THE HOUSE has parlor, sitting room, dining room, kitchen and pantry on the first floor. On the next are four airy and well lighted chambers and bath. It has been recently painted and papered inside and shingled last year. It has hot and cold water, gas, storm doors and the front piazza is all glassed in.

THE BARN has a box stall, room for three carriages, harness room and a concrete drive from Ross avenue; this would make a nice garage.

THE small hen house would accommodate about 50 hens.

THE LOT has good frontage on both Mammoth road and Ross avenue with an area of about 3600 square feet.

Now Mr. Homeowner if you want to locate in Pawtucketville here is your opportunity, being convenient to schools, churches, fire stations and on a smooth paved street in a neighborhood where almost everyone own their own home.

Terms of sale: $250 must be secured to the auctioneer as soon as struck off.

C. F. KEYES, Auctioneer in Charge.
